Ask Court to Rule Out All TV Viewers on Ruby Jury

A FLOORING SITUATION—So many teenagers are showing up these days at the temporary quarter of the Nashville Public Library that there aren't enough desks for them, Chief Librarian Marshall Stewart says it's not uncommon to see them sprawled on the floors, especially on Saturdays. He attributes the library's popularity to a general awakening to the importance of a good education. (AP Wirephoto).

Johnson Campaigns With Zest

Thursday Is Day For Florida Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has returned from California with a sunburn and new zest for kissing babies and meeting voters. He'll have a chance to renew the burn and do some more people-greeting in Florida Thursday.

Johnson returned to Washington by jet transport late Sunday night after spending three days in Los Angeles and Palm Springs. His Florida foray will take him to Jacksonville, Palatka and Miami for a heavy day-long schedule of public appearances.

Wades Into Throngs

In California, the President demonstrated an extraordinary penchant for mixing with crowds, even when his Secret Service bodyguards were uneasy about the idea. During one stop in Los Angeles, he waded into a milling throng that was so eager to get at him that one woman broke her leg in the crush.

Although Johnson has always shared the politician's handshaking proclivities, never before did he go at it with such enthusiasm.

Personal Greetings

At Los Angeles International Airport, after saying farewell to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Johnson was so anxious to personally greet onlookers that he was undeterred by the fact that they were kept behind a wire fence seven feet high.

Climbing over a rope barrier, Johnson made a beeline for the fenced-in spectators and began touching fingers through the wire mesh. When some members of the crowd stretched their hands over the top of the fence, the President reached to grab them — even though strands of barbed wire atop the fence presented a hazard.

Welcome In Palm Springs

Getting off the plane in Palm Springs a half hour later, Johnson found the waiting crowd more numerous and the fence lower. Although it was after dark by this time, he spent about 15 minutes moving the length of this barrier while Air Force sergeants tried without success to move big floodlights so Secret Service agents and police could watch the crowd.

By this time, Johnson had put in a full day of public appearances and business sessions with Lopez Mateos, his guest for two days of talks. However, Johnson halted his limousine on the drive from the Palm Springs Airport to his borrowed hillside home when he spotted about 50 people gathered at an intersection. Getting out of the car, he

Woman Is Picked As 3rd Juror for Jack Ruby Trial

DALLAS (AP) — The third juror, a woman, was sworn in today in Jack Ruby's murder trial after defense legal maneuvers delayed the hearing.

The newest juror is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six and a secretary for a building contractor.

Under questioning, she said she saw part of the televised scene in which Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald. Mrs. McCollum described her feelings when President Kennedy was killed in Dallas, allegedly by Oswald, in the words, "I would say a shock."

Mandamus Bid Made In Austin

Judge, Attorneys In Case Have Talk

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state Supreme Court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the Supreme Court directing certain actions.

Regarded as Witnesses

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Judge Joe B. Brown, hearing the Ruby trial, called a recess in the trial shortly after it opened today. He and attorneys for both sides conferred in Brown's chambers.

Says Question Simple

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli came out of the judge's chambers and talked with newsmen. He said, "The question is quite simple: can a witness be a juror?"

He said that technically, if the Texas Supreme Court upholds the defense argument, he could subpoena as witnesses anyone who saw the television scenes of the shooting.

He said that the legal maneuver is connected with his petition for transferring the trial away from Dallas. "I'm sure we could find people who hadn't seen this on television if we could try the case in some other city," Belli said. He added:

"This is wearing Ruby down and wearing all of us down."

Would Depend on Type

Belli said that if the writ of mandamus is granted, "We might even take, as jurors, some people who had seen the scene on television. It would depend on the type of juror."

Belli said that it is possible that the Texas Supreme Court might rule today. Otherwise, he said, he understood that the state Supreme Court has its oral hearings on such petitions on Wednesdays.

Belli declined to show newsmen the four legal documents involved in the petition for a writ. He said he could not do this until Judge Brown makes a ruling.

Today's action was forecast last week by Tonahill. He further said the defense might carry its contention to the United States Supreme Court.

The two jurors picked so far, Max E. Causey and Allan McCoy, both said they saw the shooting on television. They are the only two persons sworn in as jurors out of 48 examined.

Today's conference between the judge and lawyers started the second week of Ruby's

U. S. People Have Right to Know

Rocky Awaits Reaction To Viet Nam Charges

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller awaited reaction from the national administration today on his call for "a full accounting of the situation in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia."

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, asserted in a statement Sunday that "a process of news management by the administration has kept the hard facts of the military situation from the people."

"President Johnson has suggested that criticism of foreign policy has no place in our political process," Rockefeller said. "I disagree."

Rockefeller has made foreign policy the major issue thus far in his campaign. In his statement, he posed a series of questions to President Johnson, among them:

—What are the actual facts on the war in South Viet Nam?

— What American military commitment is necessary to win the war?

—Does the United States still intend to withdraw all its military forces from Viet Nam by the end of 1965?

—If the war in Viet Nam has not been going well, how does the administration explain the optimistic statements extending well over two years?

'Have Right to Know'

"The American people have a right to know the whole truth about what has been going on in Viet Nam," Rockefeller said. "I ask the President and his advisers to give full and complete answers to the questions I have posed."

The Rockefeller statement, among his hardest-hitting criticisms of the handling of foreign affairs, was made as he entered the final two weeks before a key test for his presidential hopes—the New Hampshire primary on March 10.

He will return to that state for more campaigning this Friday and wind up his bid for votes there with a six-day visit beginning March 4.

Gaining Ground

The governor returned Saturday night from a four-day swing that provided fresh evidence that he is gaining ground in the primary.

But the outcome of the primary remains uncertain because of continuing decisions on the part of many of the 100,000 Republicans expected to vote.

The four-day trip saw the basic Rockefeller campaign operation—continued repetition of a change that there is a "leadership gap" in Washington and serious international problems are going unsolved, combined with a full measure of grassroots campaigning.

The trip ended at a hockey game in Berlin where the governor walked out onto the ice and greeted the crowd over the public address system.

The Rockefeller statement followed an overseas telephone call the governor made to Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. am-

Minister Rahman Warns Hostilities Are Threatening

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)— Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman declared today Indonesia is mounting "acts of physical aggression" against Malaysia and hostilities may break out any time.

Rahman referred to the grave situation along the 800-mile frontier between the Malaysian states of Sarawak and Sabah, and Indonesia on the island of Borneo.

"The acts of physical aggression mounted under the guise of 'confrontation' could explode into a disaster of major proportions," Rahman told the opening session of the Council on World Tensions, a group of private citizens from 18 nations in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the United States.

Rahman spoke as diplomatic efforts to solve the crisis between Malaysia and Indonesia appeared in danger of collapse. Despite a ceasefire, Indonesia still vows to crush Malaysia.

Indonesia has announced it intends to airdrop supplies to its guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah, and Malaysia has warned it will shoot down Indonesia planes if they try it.

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines, who has been trying to settle the dispute, left Jakarta with President Sukarno of Indonesia on a trip to Bali, where they will open formal talks Tuesday.

Cold Weather Is Staying, Light Snow Is Promised

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Saturday:

Eastern New York — Cold weather most of the week with temperatures averaging 5-10 degrees below normal. Some slight warming late in the week. Some light snow or flurries Tuesday night and Wednesday and likely again near the end of the week. Total snowfall generally light.

Western New York—Temperatures will average about 8 degrees below normal. Generally cold during the 5 days with the coldest period about Wednesday. Occasional periods of snow with total precipitation one - tenth to four-tenths of an inch melted.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 27 - 35. Nighttime lows, 7-17.

Tax Bill Going To LBJ Before Clash on Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress plans to send to President Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets under way.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed 11-point rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

Before that, Senate Democratic leaders hope to bring up a cotton-wheat bill, which some Republicans blocked from debate Friday.

Quick approval is expected in both houses of the compromise tax bill, agreed on Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

The timetable calls for House action on the compromise Tuesday, with the Senate poised to consider it the following day. The reductions, largest in history, will be reflected in more take-home pay starting in mid-March for taxpayers subject to withholding from wages and salaries.

Otherwise, the floor programs for the week include House consideration of some relatively minor measures and a bill dealing with the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

Chichelsky Back In Store, Beaten In Jan. Robbery

George Chichelsky, 55, of 75 Hasbrouck Avenue, operator of the Chelsea Furniture Exchange, 16 Hasbrouck Avenue, who was assaulted and robbed in his store on the night of Jan. 9, announced today that he is back on the job in the store, which has been in operation 39 years.

Chichelsky, who, it is charged, was assaulted with a chair and hammer, suffered a severe head wound, and was under treatment for some time at Kingston Hospital. Some $130 was reported stolen from him.

Joseph Bowman, 32, of 54 East Strand, charged with the assault and robbery, has been indicted, and the case is pending.

Report Pakistan Attack to U. N.

23 Indian Police Are Missing in Violence

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday. Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

Locale of Ambush

The ambush occurred near Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communique by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan Sunday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

Dislike India

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

In the communique, Ayub promised "friendly cooperation" with his Communist neighbor to the north and said he would return Chou's visit with a trip to Peking.

Although Pakistan has received more than $3 billion in economic and military assistance from the United States, the communique contained implicit swipes at Washington for the

Train Demolishes Sedan Stalled on Tracks in Lloyd

A 1957 sedan was completely demolished at 9:20 p. m. Saturday, after it was rammed by a locomotive hauling a 52-car freight train on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, Town of Lloyd.

Highland State troopers reported Benjamin Geer, 35, of Highland, was operating a vehicle owned by William Goss, also of Highland, when the car stalled on the tracks at a crossing on a private road at New Paltz road, about a mile north of Highland.

Unable to move the stalled vehicle, Geer abandoned it and went for help. Meanwhile, the westbound freight train operated by Engineer Harold J. Norman, 64, of Maybrook, appeared.

Advice About School Aid: Don't Count on Big Hike

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's fiscal experts planned to advise Republican leaders today to give up hopes of enacting a substantial increase in state aid for education this year.

The chairmen and staffs of the Senate and Assembly fiscal committees reached this conclusion after a month-long study of Gov. Rockefeller's $2.92-billion budget.

Although Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney was willing to accept the verdict, Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino was reported to be still hopeful of coming up with a plan to provide more aid.

Informed sources said the fiscal committees concluded that the only feasiable plan was to divert $13 million that Rockefeller earmarked for the first step in a pay raise for state employes.

The committee chairmen decided, however, that the pay raise was justified and was needed to retain high - calibre personnel, especially in state institutions.

They agreed to recommend that the Legislature make only a few token cuts in the governor's budget—as a gesture toward economy — and abandon plans for raising school-aid.

Mahoney and Carlino were to receive their first briefing on the budget findings today. They were expected to call closed conferences of GOP senators and assemblymen Tuesday to make binding decisions.

In other developments:

— The State Association of Railroads declared its support of a compromise bill designed to win broader support for Rockefeller's plan to repeal the full-crew laws. Railroad unions, opposing repeal, spurned the new proposal last week.

—The governing council of the American Newspaper Guild in New York State called on unions to refrain from supporting Rockefeller's presidential candidacy because, the guild said, his administration opposed the anti-strikebreaker bill.

Rockefeller has not taken a direct stand on the measure, which would bar employers from replacing workers on strike with professional strikebreakers. The State Commerce Department has declared itself opposed, however.

Carlino, who comes from Nassau County, is the most prominent among a group of suburban-area lawmakers who have been pressing for a school-aid increase.

Mahoney, who comes from Buffalo, has been indifferent. His position is that he is willing to go along, if Carlino can produce the money without wrecking the budget or raising taxes. At the same time, Mahoney says he cannot see where the money will come from.

Expect Hoffa Is To Take Stand In Court Tuesday

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is expected to take the witness stand in his own behalf today or Tuesday in his jury-tampering trial.

The leader of the nation's largest labor union is accused, along with five co-defendants, of trying to fix the jury that heard his conspiracy trial at Nashville in 1962.

The trial begins its sixth week today.

In addition to Hoffa, the defense has said it has other witnesses to call. And government attorneys say they will have some rebuttal witnesses.

Hoffa's codefendants are Larry Campbell, Detroit; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va.; Allen Dorfman, Chicago; and Thomas Parks and Ewing King of Nashville.

The chairmen and staffs of the Senate and Assembly fiscal committees reached this conclusion after a month-long study of Gov. Rockefeller's $2.92-billion budget.

Although Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney was willing to accept the verdict, Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino was reported to be still hopeful of coming up with a plan to provide more aid.

Informed sources said the fiscal committees concluded that the only feasiable plan was to divert $13 million that Rockefeller earmarked for the first step in a pay raise for state employes.

The committee chairmen decided, however, that the pay raise was justified and was needed to retain high - calibre personnel, especially in state institutions.

They agreed to recommend that the Legislature make only a few token cuts in the governor's budget—as a gesture toward economy — and abandon plans for raising school-aid.

Mahoney and Carlino were to receive their first briefing on the budget findings today. They were expected to call closed conferences of GOP senators and assemblymen Tuesday to make binding decisions.

In other developments:

— The State Association of Railroads declared its support of a compromise bill designed to win broader support for Rockefeller's plan to repeal the full-crew laws. Railroad unions, opposing repeal, spurned the new proposal last week.

—The governing council of the American Newspaper Guild in New York State called on unions to refrain from supporting Rockefeller's presidential candidacy because, the guild said, his administration opposed the anti-strikebreaker bill.

Rockefeller has not taken a direct stand on the measure, which would bar employers from replacing workers on strike with professional strikebreakers. The State Commerce Department has declared itself opposed, however.

Carlino, who comes from Nassau County, is the most prominent among a group of suburban-area lawmakers who have been pressing for a school-aid increase.

Mahoney, who comes from Buffalo, has been indifferent. His position is that he is willing to go along, if Carlino can produce the money without wrecking the budget or raising taxes. At the same time, Mahoney says he cannot see where the money will come from.

Mandamus Bid Made In Austin

Judge, Attorneys In Case Have Talk

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state Supreme Court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the Supreme Court directing certain actions.

Regarded as Witnesses

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Judge Joe B. Brown, hearing the Ruby trial, called a recess in the trial shortly after it opened today. He and attorneys for both sides conferred in Brown's chambers.

Says Question Simple

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli came out of the judge's chambers and talked with newsmen. He said, "The question is quite simple: can a witness be a juror?"

He said that technically, if the Texas Supreme Court upholds the defense argument, he could subpoena as witnesses anyone who saw the television scenes of the shooting.

He said that the legal maneuver is connected with his petition for transferring the trial away from Dallas. "I'm sure we could find people who hadn't seen this on television if we could try the case in some other city," Belli said. He added:

"This is wearing Ruby down and wearing all of us down."

Would Depend on Type

Belli said that if the writ of mandamus is granted, "We might even take, as jurors, some people who had seen the scene on television. It would depend on the type of juror."

Belli said that it is possible that the Texas Supreme Court might rule today. Otherwise, he said, he understood that the state Supreme Court has its oral hearings on such petitions on Wednesdays.

Belli declined to show newsmen the four legal documents involved in the petition for a writ. He said he could not do this until Judge Brown makes a ruling.

Today's action was forecast last week by Tonahill. He further said the defense might carry its contention to the United States Supreme Court.

The two jurors picked so far, Max E. Causey and Allan McCoy, both said they saw the shooting on television. They are the only two persons sworn in as jurors out of 48 examined.

Today's conference between the judge and lawyers started the second week of Ruby's

Expect Hoffa Is To Take Stand In Court Tuesday

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is expected to take the witness stand in his own behalf today or Tuesday in his jury-tampering trial.

The leader of the nation's largest labor union is accused, along with five co-defendants, of trying to fix the jury that heard his conspiracy trial at Nashville in 1962.

The trial begins its sixth week today.

In addition to Hoffa, the defense has said it has other witnesses to call. And government attorneys say they will have some rebuttal witnesses.

Hoffa's codefendants are Larry Campbell, Detroit; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va.; Allen Dorfman, Chicago; and Thomas Parks and Ewing King of Nashville.

Boycott of Wheat Ships Continues, Negotiations Fail

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A union boycott blocking multi-million-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the union's demand raised urgent problems affecting U.S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the adamant stand of the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat for Russia.

"They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

The unions argue that the wheat going to the Soviet Union is partially subsidized by taxpayers' funds and that the government should provide more jobs for American workers by guaranteeing at least 50 per cent shipment in U.S. vessels.

A spokesman for Wirtz said efforts to settle the boycott will continue, but that no new meetings are presently scheduled for Miami Beach or Washington and prospects appeared dim for a quick settlement.

The union leaders are in Miami Beach for the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, which appeared to be a routine session until storm signals were raised over the wheat dispute.

The negotiations broke off several times in an on-again-off-again round of day and night conferences and finally ended when Wirtz departed Sunday night for Washington.

Driver Rescued After Car Sinks in Icy Pond

STICKNEY, England (AP) — Tom Wilson, 76, a farmer, ran his car into the village pond and spent eight hours up to his neck in icy water before he was rescued.

Wilson said he couldn't move the car door and had to wait until dawn before help came along.

Hospital authorities said Wilson was suffering from exposure and his condition was serious.

Rosendale Infant Is Second Victim Of Tragic Blaze

Nine-month-old Denise Schallerkamp became the second victim of a tragic Rosendale fire as she succumbed to burns Sunday 10 a. m. at Kingston Hospital.

Her father, John Schallerkamp, 38, died Wednesday of burns suffered when he tried to rescue the child from the flaming house at 97 Main Street, Rosendale on Feb. 14.

According to Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser, the infant died of second and third degree burns which covered 80 per cent of her body.

The fire of unknown origin started in the infant's room and caused extensive damage to the house.

Fund Is at $491

A fund to aid Mrs. Schallerkamp and the surviving five children has been started. To date $491.10 has been received by Leif Anderson, manager of the National Bank of Orange and Ulster Counties Rosendale Branch who is handling the fund. He said today that contributions may be sent to him at the bank made out to the Schallerkamp fund.

Funeral services for Mr. Schallerkamp were held Saturday 9:30 a. m. from the George J. Molan Funeral Home, Main Street, Rosendale thence to St. Peter's Church Rosendale where at 10 a. m. a Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Joseph Irwin.

During the bereavement many called at the funeral home and many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets were received. Friday evening Father Irwin called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary and prayers for the dead.

Accorded Military Honor

Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale where Father Irwin gave the final blessing. Bearers were Joseph Kiernan, Edward Thomas, John Hasbrouck, Thomas Curtin, David Wood and Warry Bogart. Full military honors were accorded the deceased Navy veteran by Rosendale - Tillson Post 1219, American Legion.

Private funeral services for the baby will be held at the George J. Moylan Funeral Home at the convenience of the family. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

Surviving are her mother, the former Regina Dausch; four brothers, Glenn, John, Stephen and Scott; a sister, Karen.

1,000 Employes End Strike That Affected Rockets

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP)—Over 1,000 employes of the Garlock Corp. return to work today after settlement of a 10-strike. The walkout had prevented shipment of a rubber compound described as important to the American Rocket Program.

The compound was to be shipped today to the Rohr Corp. in California for use as insulation for the inner combustion chambers of a rocket engine being built for the federal government.

The workers, members of Local 588 of the International Association of Machinists, ended the strike Sunday by voting 648-209 to accept a company wage offer.

Eight FBI Agents To Testify in Sinatra Jr. Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution's case against three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. goes into its final stages today with about eight FBI agents scheduled to testify.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan said the testimony would concern events leading to the capture of John Irwin, 42; Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; and Barry W. Keenan, also 23. Young Sinatra allegedly was abducted from a Stateline, Calif., motel last Dec. 8.

The FBI said at least 26 agents were involved in the capture of the three men and recovery of the $240,000 ransom paid for Sinatra's release.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my father, Jesse Burt, who passed away three years ago, February 24, 1961:
He is gone but not forgotten,
As it dawns another year,
In my lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always here.
Daughter, DORIS.

Boycott of Wheat Ships Continues, Negotiations Fail

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A union boycott blocking multi-million-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the union's demand raised urgent problems affecting U.S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the adamant stand of the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat for Russia.

"They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

The unions argue that the wheat going to the Soviet Union is partially subsidized by taxpayers' funds and that the government should provide more jobs for American workers by guaranteeing at least 50 per cent shipment in U.S. vessels.

A spokesman for Wirtz said efforts to settle the boycott will continue, but that no new meetings are presently scheduled for Miami Beach or Washington and prospects appeared dim for a quick settlement.

The union leaders are in Miami Beach for the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, which appeared to be a routine session until storm signals were raised over the wheat dispute.

The negotiations broke off several times in an on-again-off-again round of day and night conferences and finally ended when Wirtz departed Sunday night for Washington.

Driver Rescued After Car Sinks in Icy Pond

STICKNEY, England (AP) — Tom Wilson, 76, a farmer, ran his car into the village pond and spent eight hours up to his neck in icy water before he was rescued.

Wilson said he couldn't move the car door and had to wait until dawn before help came along.

Rosendale Infant Is Second Victim Of Tragic Blaze

Nine-month-old Denise Schallerkamp became the second victim of a tragic Rosendale fire as she succumbed to burns Sunday 10 a. m. at Kingston Hospital.

Her father, John Schallerkamp, 38, died Wednesday of burns suffered when he tried to rescue the child from the flaming house at 97 Main Street, Rosendale on Feb. 14.

According to Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser, the infant died of second and third degree burns which covered 80 per cent of her body.

The fire of unknown origin started in the infant's room and caused extensive damage to the house.

Fund Is at $491

A fund to aid Mrs. Schallerkamp and the surviving five children has been started. To date $491.10 has been received by Leif Anderson, manager of the National Bank of Orange and Ulster Counties Rosendale Branch who is handling the fund. He said today that contributions may be sent to him at the bank made out to the Schallerkamp fund.

Funeral services for Mr. Schallerkamp were held Saturday 9:30 a. m. from the George J. Molan Funeral Home, Main Street, Rosendale thence to St. Peter's Church Rosendale where at 10 a. m. a Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Joseph Irwin.

During the bereavement many called at the funeral home and many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets were received. Friday evening Father Irwin called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary and prayers for the dead.

Accorded Military Honor

Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale where Father Irwin gave the final blessing. Bearers were Joseph Kiernan, Edward Thomas, John Hasbrouck, Thomas Curtin, David Wood and Warry Bogart. Full military honors were accorded the deceased Navy veteran by Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion.

Private funeral services for the baby will be held at the George J. Moylan Funeral Home at the convenience of the family. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

Surviving are her mother, the former Regina Dausch; four brothers, Glenn, John, Stephen and Scott; a sister, Karen.

1,000 Employes End Strike That Affected Rockets

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP)—Over 1,000 employes of the Garlock Corp. return to work today after settlement of a 10-strike. The walkout had prevented shipment of a rubber compound described as important to the American Rocket Program.

The compound was to be shipped today to the Rohr Corp. in California for use as insulation for the inner combustion chambers of a rocket engine being built for the federal government.

The workers, members of Local 588 of the International Association of Machinists, ended the strike Sunday by voting 648-209 to accept a company wage offer.

Queen Has Pneumonia

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Queen Frederika of Greece was bedridden with a light case of pneumonia today, four days after her husband, King Paul, underwent emergency surgery for stomach ulcers.

Palace doctors announced the king, 62, is showing continued improvement and is in good condition. Then they disclosed that the queen, 46, is ill.

Dr. Bush Funeral Largely Attended

The funeral of Dr. William S. Bush of 8 John Street, prominent physician and surgeon who for many years was chief of staff at Benedictine Hospital, was held Friday at 9:30 a. m. from the W. N. Eight FBI Agents To Testify in Sinatra Jr. Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution's case against three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. goes into its final stages today with about eight FBI agents scheduled to testify.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan said the testimony would concern events leading to the capture of John Irwin, 42; Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; and Barry W. Keenan, also 23. Young Sinatra allegedly was abducted from a Stateline, Calif., motel last Dec. 8.

The FBI said at least 26 agents were involved in the capture of the three men and recovery of the $240,000 ransom paid for Sinatra's release.

Funeral Services Held Feb. 22 for Rev. F. W. Stine

Funeral services for the Rev. Frederick W. Stine, 67, retired Methodist minister who died Thursday at Torrington, Conn., were held Saturday, 2 p. m., at the Kenny Funeral Home, Sharon, Conn.

The Rev. Mr. Stine had served as pastor of Port Ewen and Phoenicia Methodist Church prior to going to Sharon, Conn. He served as pastor there for six years before retiring 12 years ago. He was employed at the Wassaic State School in recent years.

Born March 12, 1896, in Mt. Carmel, Pa., he was the son of the late George and Priscilla Haak Stine.

The Rev. Mr. Stine was a member of the Silver Lake Grange and Herbert G. Klebs Post American Legion of Sharon, Conn.

Surviving are his wife, the former Iva Brownell; two sons, Donald of Kingston and Leonard of Sharon, Conn.; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Warwick of Poughkeepsie; three brothers, Theodore of Trenton, N. J., and Ira and John of Mt. Carmel, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Reedy of Shenokin Dam, Pa., and Mrs. Ruth Davis of Chester, Pa.; six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The Rev. Robert Thair officiated at the funeral services which were well attended. Many called at the funeral home to pay their respects. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Grand Gorge.

Car Parts Stolen

Local police were notified Sunday morning of the theft of hub caps and fender skirts. Robert Finch, of 50 Wrentham Street, said four hub caps and two fender skirts, with a total estimated value of $55, were taken from his car during the night while it was parked near his home. A report at 8:30 a. m. today said a small window of a door leading upstairs on the St. James Street side of the Governor Clinton Market, 777 Broadway, was broken. An investigation revealed that the building apparently had not been entered.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my father, Jesse Burt, who passed away three years ago, February 24, 1961:

He is gone but not forgotten,
As it dawns another year,
In my lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always here.

Daughter, DORIS.

New Opportunity Looms To Soar Into Orbit On Present Decade Economy

Editor's note: The 1960s have been a puzzle. They've neither soared nor flopped — yet. In this article, first of five on the decade's economy, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, looks at the causes of the '60s' performance to date.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soaring Sixties have another chance to get into orbit. There's been a hold in the countdown. But many business and financial technicians think the economy could blast off — if some remaining bugs are removed.

The decade was billed to soar from the start. The population explosion furnished an increasing number to be fed, clothed, sheltered and educated. The argument ran: Where else could the economy go but up—straight up?

Good, Unexciting Gains

But it didn't soar. It didn't fall on its face either. Most of the economy's vital statistics show good, if unexciting, gains since 1960.

That year total production of goods and services was $502.6 billion. This gross national product was $585 billion in 1963 and now is running at an annual rate of $600 billion. In the four years personal incomes rose from $401.3 billion to $475.2 billion. Corporate profits after taxes went from $22 billion to $27.5 billion. Industrial production in 1960 was 109.8 per cent of the 1957-59 base and at the end of 1963 it was 127 per cent.

Why did the economy dip a bit in 1960, instead of soar? Here are some of the reasons:

—An expansion spree in the middle and late 1950s left many industries with excess production capacity. And many companies had overbuilt inventories.

Less Urgency in Demands

—This coincided with less urgency in consumer demands. Much of the postwar demand for homes and gadgets had been met. People continued spending, but only a little more each year. Personal consumption outlay in 1960 came to $328.2 billion. At the end of 1963 it hit a record annual rate of $375 billion. But this wasn't the exploding demand that had been counted upon to blast the economy off the launching pad.

—And the population growth didn't work quite the way the experts had figured. The increase was mostly among those too young or too old to work. The 1960 census counted 180 million Americans. Of these, 68.4 million were under 19 and 16.5 million over 65.

Between 1960 and 1964 money for consumption was earned by about the same number of workers. Civilian employment was put at 66.7 million at the start of the decade and 68.6 million four years later. Unemployment rarely dropped below 4 million.

Gains Reassuring

All of these things—business caution born of excesses, less urgent consumer demands, sticky unemployment—kept the decade from soaring at the start.

Since the business pace quickened just three years ago, the gains have been reassuring. But no one has dubbed them booming.

Next: Then why do the '60s look better today?

Among the many photographs of old buildings Alfred Ronder has, is one of the George Hauck Brewing Co. which was then at Holmes (now McEntee Street) and Wurts Street in Rondout.

Years ago, the trade of one's father, was the trade of one's son. Often they came from Europe to America, bringing their trade and talents, as did George Hauck, who was born in Germany in 1882, and in 1850 emigrated to America, where he went right into the brewing business. Adam Hauck, his father, was also born in Germany in 1797 and died in 1870, and was a brewer by occupation.

In 1861 George Hauck came to Rondout to be a foreman of a brewery, where he worked until 1864, when he established his own plant, the George Hauck Brewing Co. Clearwater, author and historian, wrote in his book, that the brewing company at first put out daily some 30 barrels and then it steadily increased to 140 barrels per day. I do not know for whom George Hauck first worked, perhaps George von Beck who had a plant, owned and built up Connelly. In 1856 George Hauck married Barbara Welker and they had five children. The sons. John and Adam, naturally being associated with their father in the brewery business.

In the 1899 Kingston City Directory, Adam Hauck, of the Hauck Brewing Co., is listed as living at 68 McEntee Street George Hauck, president of the firm lived at 115 Wurts Street. Miss Mary Hauck is also listed at that address. John Hauck, secretary and treasurer of the firm lived at 112 Hone Street. Miss Olga B. Hauck, a student is also listed at that address. The brewing company made lager beer exclusively, it seems.

I admired Mrs. Irene Blass's handwriting, when she wrote me and sent me to see the Winston Churchill item she had received from him. I stopped in to return it to her, at the J. J. Newberry store on Wall Street where she works. I met several other ladies there who spoke about old times and penmanship in the old fashioned schools. One lady, who as I remember went to the Connelly school, said her teacher taught four classes, and very successfully. They mentioned how the progressive education, and the do-gooders, have changed the discipline and respect, which they feel is causing a let down, of otherwise capable and good children and students.

I guess the taxpayers will never forget how they went and voted against consolidation of schools, and it was pushed through by the Board of Education just the same which brought about all sorts of complications, schools far from the home district, buses and such modern ideas, that the parents cannot keep up with them.

I understand that some even complain the glare of new school room lights annoy the eyes. In our times, we needed electric lights, only on a very dark day, but I notice those most modern very bright lights burning in some schools in bright daylight and sunlight, perhaps the children should bring their dark glasses. The only way some can tell apart some of our most modern consolidated schools, is by the color of the main door, bright red, or bright blue, or what have you.

A lady who for many years taught at Spencer's Business school called me and said that Mrs. Irene Blass took a course there, and no doubt learned to do that fancy penmanship there. In my time, I also went for a time to Spencer's and Charles L. Kelly, the principal used to fill in the public school diplomas, or perhaps high school with his Spencerian hadwriting which I admired very much, as I used to watch him. He would just write in the name of the graduate.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How's this for negative thinking? Norman Vincent Peale has doubts that his film biography will be a box office success.

Dr. Peale, the Ohio clergyman whose "Power of Positive Thinking" sold 2.5 million hardcover books and a million in paperback, is the subject of a new movie, "One Man's Way."

"I hope it's a success because I think it's a fine picture with a powerful message," he said. "But I would be inclined to doubt it's chances. It doesn't seem to be the kind of film that the public is going for these days."

"Oh, I think you're wrong, dear," said Mrs. Peale more positively. "I think it will be very popular."

If "One Man's Way" doesn't succeed, it won't be because Dr. Peale didn't try to help it. He was here near the end of a 12-city tour with his attractive wife, during which he spoke on behalf of the film.

there is only one way we can go—up."

At an $850,000 cost, the Frank Ross production stands a good chance of paying off. However, it does go against the current trend of film fare, in which sex comedies predominate.

Today's movies, said Dr. Peale, reflect the moral shape America is in.

"Morally, this country is in a tailspin—or perhaps I should say a downward spiral," he said. "It reminds me of France, where men would come up to you in a cafe and try to sell you postcards. Now you can buy such material from any newsstand in this country.

"I used to be appalled at the kind of movies that were made in France. Now we're making the same kind here.

"I see no hope for coming out of this downward spiral until we hit bottom. When that happens,

Would Take Children Away for Abuses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The president of New York's City Council wants the state to make a law designed to "counter the growing number of cases of child abuse."

Paul R. Screvane said Sunday a bill would be introduced in the Legislature that would permit welfare agencies to take custody of children abused by parents or guardians.

The proposal would require physicians to report cases of child abuse or neglect to city or county welfare authorities. This would include "emotional abuse" as well as physical mistreatment, Screvane said.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, D-New York, will sponsor the measure.

Screvane, a Democrat, said the legislation was recommended by a special task force he appointed in January after consulting with Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Avoid Letting Wrong Man in

By OSWALD JACOBY

The "avoidance" play did not get its name because it is something to avoid. Instead it is designed to avoid letting the wrong opponent into the lead.

Usually it occurs in combination with another play known as "loser on loser."

With this information you should have no trouble finding the correct way for South to play his contract of five hearts doubled against the spade opening.

South should figure out that West's six of spades was a singleton and that he held ace and another trump. Otherwise he would surely have opened a diamond or club.

Thus South should win the spade lead with dummy's king and play the king of clubs. If East should produce the ace South would ruff and lead a low trump, but East would play small whereupon South would discard his losing diamond.

West would be back in the lead and would have no way to get his partner in.

The actual declarer did not find this play. He won the spade in his own hand and played the jack of trumps. Had West ducked, everything would have been fine, but West hopped up with the ace and underled his ace of diamonds. East won the trick and returned a spade to set the contract.

Hanging Up Axe

CHEZZETCOOK, N. S. (AP)—William LaPierre, who celebrated his 91st birthday Jan. 6, has decided to hang up his axe.

The lumberjack who first went into the woods around Portland, Maine, in the 1880s, until recently cut and carried home his own firewood.

Still robust, he now spends most of his time in the garden or watching television.

He recalls that when he first went to work in Maine he drove a three-horse team—one lead animal and two paired behind—working seven days a week for $30 a month.

He moved to Nova Scotia in 1902

Miss Mary Hauck is also listed at that address. John Hauck, secretary and treasurer of the firm lived at 112 Hone Street. Miss Olga B. Hauck, a student is also listed at that address. The brewing company made lager beer exclusively, it seems.

I admired Mrs. Irene Blass's handwriting, when she wrote me and sent me to see the Winston Churchill item she had received from him. I stopped in to return it to her, at the J. J. Newberry store on Wall Street where she works. I met several other ladies there who spoke about old times and penmanship in the old fashioned schools. One lady, who as I remember went to the Connelly school, said her teacher taught four classes, and very successfully. They mentioned how the progressive education, and the do-gooders, have changed the discipline and respect, which they feel is causing a let down, of otherwise capable and good children and students.

I guess the taxpayers will never forget how they went and voted against consolidation of schools, and it was pushed through by the Board of Education just the same which brought about all sorts of complications, schools far from the home district, buses and such modern ideas, that the parents cannot keep up with them.

I understand that some even complain the glare of new school room lights annoy the eyes. In our times, we needed electric lights, only on a very dark day, but I notice those most modern very bright lights burning in some schools in bright daylight and sunlight, perhaps the children should bring their dark glasses. The only way some can tell apart some of our most modern consolidated schools, is by the color of the main door, bright red, or bright blue, or what have you.

A lady who for many years taught at Spencer's Business school called me and said that Mrs. Irene Blass took a course there, and no doubt learned to do that fancy penmanship there. In my time, I also went for a time to Spencer's and Charles L. Kelly, the principal used to fill in the public school diplomas, or perhaps high school with his Spencerian hadwriting which I admired very much, as I used to watch him. He would just write in the name of the graduate.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How's this for negative thinking? Norman Vincent Peale has doubts that his film biography will be a box office success.

Dr. Peale, the Ohio clergyman whose "Power of Positive Thinking" sold 2.5 million hardcover books and a million in paperback, is the subject of a new movie, "One Man's Way."

"I hope it's a success because I think it's a fine picture with a powerful message," he said. "But I would be inclined to doubt it's chances. It doesn't seem to be the kind of film that the public is going for these days."

"Oh, I think you're wrong, dear," said Mrs. Peale more positively. "I think it will be very popular."

If "One Man's Way" doesn't succeed, it won't be because Dr. Peale didn't try to help it. He was here near the end of a 12-city tour with his attractive wife, during which he spoke on behalf of the film.

there is only one way we can go—up."

At an $850,000 cost, the Frank Ross production stands a good chance of paying off. However, it does go against the current trend of film fare, in which sex comedies predominate.

Today's movies, said Dr. Peale, reflect the moral shape America is in.

"Morally, this country is in a tailspin—or perhaps I should say a downward spiral," he said. "It reminds me of France, where men would come up to you in a cafe and try to sell you postcards. Now you can buy such material from any newsstand in this country.

"I used to be appalled at the kind of movies that were made in France. Now we're making the same kind here.

"I see no hope for coming out of this downward spiral until we hit bottom. When that happens,

Avoid Letting Wrong Man in

By OSWALD JACOBY

The "avoidance" play did not get its name because it is something to avoid. Instead it is designed to avoid letting the wrong opponent into the lead.

Usually it occurs in combination with another play known as "loser on loser."

With this information you should have no trouble finding the correct way for South to play his contract of five hearts doubled against the spade opening.

South should figure out that West's six of spades was a singleton and that he held ace and another trump. Otherwise he would surely have opened a diamond or club.

Thus South should win the spade lead with dummy's king and play the king of clubs. If East should produce the ace South would ruff and lead a low trump, but East would play small whereupon South would discard his losing diamond.

West would be back in the lead and would have no way to get his partner in.

The actual declarer did not find this play. He won the spade in his own hand and played the jack of trumps. Had West ducked, everything would have been fine, but West hopped up with the ace and underled his ace of diamonds. East won the trick and returned a spade to set the contract.

Hanging Up Axe

CHEZZETCOOK, N. S. (AP)—William LaPierre, who celebrated his 91st birthday Jan. 6, has decided to hang up his axe.

The lumberjack who first went into the woods around Portland, Maine, in the 1880s, until recently cut and carried home his own firewood.

Still robust, he now spends most of his time in the garden or watching television.

He recalls that when he first went to work in Maine he drove a three-horse team—one lead animal and two paired behind—working seven days a week for $30 a month.

He moved to Nova Scotia in 1902

Would Take Children Away for Abuses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The president of New York's City Council wants the state to make a law designed to "counter the growing number of cases of child abuse."

Paul R. Screvane said Sunday a bill would be introduced in the Legislature that would permit welfare agencies to take custody of children abused by parents or guardians.

The proposal would require physicians to report cases of child abuse or neglect to city or county welfare authorities. This would include "emotional abuse" as well as physical mistreatment, Screvane said.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, D-New York, will sponsor the measure.

Screvane, a Democrat, said the legislation was recommended by a special task force he appointed in January after consulting with Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

BRITISH SCIENCE DRAIN

There is recurrent hullabaloo in Britian over loss of British scientists to the United States. Recently there has been a new wave of this feeling caused by the departure of top men from Birmingham University and elsewhere.

First the news came that Prof. Ian Bush, Birmingham's leading professor of psysiology, had accepted a post here. Then Dr. George Greenless, senior lecturer in physics at Birmingham, followed suit. So did Dr. George Chester, acting head of the mathematical physics department. Others also left for this country and Australia

The common British complaint that we are in a sense "stealing" their top men by offering more money is both understandable and warranted. That is indeed what is happening. America offers both better pay and better facilities. There is no mystery in the British irritation; they train and develop good men, only to see them "skimmed off" for the U.S. scientific manpower pool.

The fault is not entirely ours, however. There are indications that the British, though perhaps they honestly cannot match American salary offers, are not doing all they could to retain their able men. Those who complain about the American money lure would do well to pay attention to the complaint of Dr. Greenless, who said he was leaving because of "a sense of acute frustration." He noted that his research work was handicapped by lack of money and said he even had trouble "getting amounts as small as 25 pounds" for his department.

It may be, in short, that the British are playing the old game of penny wise and pound foolish in their dealings with scientists. In the name of good relations with our most dependable ally, one might suggest that they could keep their scientists better contented by coming through with what they need for their work.

SO FAR, NO SMITHS

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith's presidential candidacy reminds us that the most common name has never carried its bearer to the White House. Only once has a Smith run for president. That was Governor Al Smith in 1928. His name seems neither to have played a part in his defeat nor to have brought him many votes.

The Smiths are not alone in this rejection by the electorate. There have been Joneses aplenty in both houses of Congress and some state governorships, but none has ever been named for president.

Johnson is the only really common name to make the White House. It has done so twice. Curiously enough, in both instances the president died and the vice president who succeeded was a Johnson. The first President Johnson was Andrew. His stormy term in office was partly his own fault, but even more of his trouble was due to the fact he advocated gentle treatment for the defeated South, while public opinion demanded condign punishment.

To bring the matter back to the present, most of the Republicans suggested for the nomination have relatively uncommon names. History suggests that this may be a slight advantage, but it is nothing much to count on.

OUT OF THE SPEED RACE

General Motores has announced it will drop all pleasure cars out of the speed race. This is a commendable decision, hopefully one that will influence the way all cars are built in the future.

Some manufacturers have gone in rather heavily, of late, for the speed bit. This gambit in selling cars is not only dangerous but outmoded. There was a time when drivers demanded speed and there was a place on the highway for it. But bumper to bumper traffic, even on the freeways, cramps the style of latent Barney Oldfields.

Comfort and durability are more desirable attributes for the modern automobile. This observation may tag us as old and doddering. All the same, we hereby inform the auto manufacturer that our new car need not have the ability to go 130 miles per hour. The mere thought of all that potential speed makes us weak.

THE MAN WHO WAS "BIG D"

Robert Thornton, who was Mayor of Dallas, Texas, throughout most of the Nineteen Fifties, died the other day, and the obituaries were silent about what killed him. Since he was 83 years old, it may have been his time to go. But if what I heard about "Bob" Thornton during my one visit to Dallas is true, chagrin over what has been said about his beloved city of "Big D" in the wake of the Kennedy tragedy could have played some part in causing him to relinquish his tenacious hold on life.

Bob Thornton was always my own candidate for the country's most upstanding man. I didn't know him, but I have always loved to quote a statement which he reportedly made when he was a power in the Dallas Citizens Council, that informal behind-the-scenes group which has more or less run Dallas since the mid-Nineteen Thirties. "If you're theah," said Thornton, "and you cain't say 'yes' and you cain't say 'no', why you ain't theah at all."

Thornton, a banker before he became a politician, could always give a yes-or-no answer. He symbolized Dallas — "Big D" — and his character should be enough to scotch all the ugly talk that the Dallas "atmosphere" was somehow responsible for the murder of President Kennedy.

Looking back on the history of the Dallas that was created by men like Bob Thornton, it becomes a matter of searing irony that a crackpot should have chosen the place to gun down a young and vibrant President. For Dallas, some thirty years ago, decided to purify itself. The Citizens Council, consisting of a group of civic-minded representatives of banks, oil companies, public utilities, and retail store owners, was organized to drive the so-called Catfish Club, a malodorous gang, out of the city council. The business men of the Citizens Council were not exactly democratic, for they didn't invite ministers, labor leaders, Mexican-Americans or Negroes to take part in their deliberations. There was no particular prejudice in this exclusion, however. It was merely that Bob Thornton and his friends wanted people who could say "yes-or-no" effectively, people who could put their money as well as their hearts behind their decisions without waiting forever for a go-ahead.

The result was good for Dallas. When I was there I was forcibly struck with the city's resemblance to Hartford, Connecticut, which is one of the cleanest places I know. And the drive of the city was tremendous, Thornton himself, as the grand man of the Mercantile Bank, had helped bring many things to "Big D." He had made the local State Fair of Texas a fabulous affair; he had persuaded the State legislature to let the Texas Centennial be held in Dallas even though San Antonio had a clearer right to it; and he had helped create Southern Methodist University.

In 1961 Bob Thornton let go his hold on City Hall, partly because of age and partly because of a revolt of the younger "good citizens" in the Council. But Thornton and his friends had set the mold of the city. When I was there, on a journalistic assignment, I was literally run ragged by well-wishers who insisted that I see everything and do everything in no time flat. Someone wanted me to see a dam out on the Brazos River. I had a luncheon appointment, and a date to see somebody for a drink at five o'clock in the afternoon, which clearly made the trip impossible. The dam on the Brazos must have been as far from Dallas as central Vermont is from my home in southern Connecticut — and I wouldn't dream of going to mid-Vermont and back without a whole day to do it in. But I couldn't say no in Dallas. We made the round trip to the dam — at what must have been 100 miles an hour — in time to get back to town for tea.

That in my experience was Dallas, a vibrant, outgoing city that would certainly not stoop to murder to gain a political end. The fact that Kennedy was killed in Bob Thornton's city was just an incredible piece of bad luck.

THE WELL CHILD

Don't Have Tonsils Out 'Because They Are There'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Your child's tonsils were placed in his throat for a purpose. They should not be removed just because they are there.

This short-sighted practice is fortunately not as common as it once was. The tonsils, actually lymph nodes, form with the adenoids a protective circle in the throat that amounts to a miniature filtration plant.

Like nymph nodes elsewhere in the body, they keep disease germs from entering the blood stream during the early years when your child is slowly building up immunity.

Every encounter the tonsils have with disease germs, causes the tonsils to enlarge, so it is not unusual for a child to have large tonsils throughout most of his childhood. When the infection is overwhelming ,he will have acute tonsillitis with sore throat and fever. When this happens he should be kept in bed and the doctor should be called so that steps may be taken to prevent such complications as rheumatic fever and kidney infection. One or even several attacks of tonsillitis is, however, not necessarily a reason to have the tonsils removed.

If, on the other hand, the adenoids should become chronically enlarged and obstruct the passage of air through the nose, your child will be forced to breath through his mouth and his susceptibility to infections in the nose, sinuses, and middle ear will be increased. Removal of the enlarged adenoids at an early age is sound practice. But unless the tonsils become abscessed (quincy), it is better not to tamper with them until your child is 9 or 10. Many a pair of tonsils that bumped together in a 5 or 6-year-old has returned to normal size as the child approaches puberty.

If after observing your child for several years your doctor recommends tonsillectomy, have the tonsils out. The old bugaboo about not having this done in the summer because of the danger of contracting poliomyelitis has been laid to rest by the availability of polio vaccine.

Following tonsillectomy, it is not uncommon for some tonsillar tissue to grow back again. This is not a sign that the operation was inadequate and that all the tonsil was not removed. It is rather a sign that nature means for us to have the protective filter if it can possibly arrange it. The tonsils that grow back never get to be as large as the original tonsils, and they almost never have to be removed.

The tonsils, once blamed for frequent colds, arthritis and other ills, have been exonerated by careful unbiased studies. Your child's tonsils are his friends, not his enemies.

Q—My 2-year-old daughter has had lumps in both groins for over a year. My doctor says she must have a sore somewhere but he didn't find it. Will the lumps go away? What can be done for them?

A—The commonest lumps in the groin are lymph nodes. Any kind of infection in the feet, legs or thighs will cause these nodes to swell. After the infection has subsided the nodes may become small, firm and easily felt. Your doctor probably could not find the infection because it had long since disappeared. The lumps will do no harm and no treatment is required.

"What Happened to the Ammunition?"

Washington News

BY WASHINGTON STAFF
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Lyndon Johnson usually is put down as much more of a talker than the late President John F. Kennedy, who liked to clip conversation to the shortest possible bounds.

One White House man demurs a bit, however, saying that the new President can be extremely brief on occasion. On the other hand, he adds, "he can be a regular Texas rambler when he wants to be."

MEXICO'S President Adolfo Lopez Mateos—visiting President Johnson in Los Angeles Feb. 21-22—is a real professional at the conference table. As Mexican secretary of labor from 1952 to 1958, Lopez Mateos and his staff handled 62,191 industrial disputes, let only 13 grow into strikes.

This ability to find solutions goes back to college days, when Lopez Mateos wanted to go to a dance but lacked a dark suit and the money to rent one. Searching hard, he found two friends in similar straits.

They pitched in what money they had, rented a dark suit and shared it in two-hour shifts.

WHILE HAVING LUNCH recently with an American friend at a Mexica City hotel, President Lopez Mateos noticed two beautiful girls—obviously American tourists—enter the dining room.

"If you continue to export products like that," he noted, "we will never have any problems."

AT THE HEIGHT of the Guantanamo crisis, a reporter called the Pentagon to find out what was happening. "Sorry, we don't know," he was told. "We get all information from Cinclant (Commander in Chief, Atlantic), and they're out to lunch."

A GOOD DEAL of banter surrounds the "race" between resigning White House aides Theodore Sorensen and Arthur Schlesinger Jr. to get into print with books about the late President John F. Kennedy.

A newsman asked Sorensen: "Who's going to win?"

When Sorensen said Schlesinger would win, the newsman came back with: "Why? He says he needs a year to write it and you say you need six months."

Replied Sorensen: "Yes, but when he says a year he means six months. When I say six months, I mean a year."

SHORTLY AFTER being subjected to an unmerciful barrage of touchy questions following a speech at the National Press Club, Tangyika's Prime Minister Julius Nyerere approached Bryson Rash, then NPC president.

"Is it true," the Tanganyikan asked, "that your club sometimes asks a guest speaker to make a return appearance?"

"Yes, we do that quite often," Rash answered.

Snapped Nyere: "Well, I'm not coming!"

JOSEPH DEAR, new National Press Club president tried to characterize the various candidates in the Republican "presidential stable" without naming them. This is how he branded Sen. Barry Goldwater:

"This one has a tendency to bear to the right. The way the course is constructed these days, this means he could run off the track."

Q—Do islands ever disappear?

A—A few authentic cases are known. When the volcanic island of Krakatao blew up in 1883 it completely disappeared beneath the sea. Islands have appeared and disappeared again in the Aleutians.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

It was a velvet evening in late autumn. Lou Rubin, a man with worried eyes and a smiling mouth, studied the waitress, the tables, the bar, the kitchen and the customers. Chandler's, on East 49th Street New York, was ready for the Saturday night trade. The phone rang.

Mr. Rubin said hello. A man's voice said: "This is Jules Gordon. I want a table for six about eight o'clock." Mr. Rubin marked the name in a book. "Better eight-thirty," he said, "if you can make it."

Gordon agreed. Rubin hung up. A silly thought sat up in his mind. He knew two Jules Gordons. One was in the ladies' shoe business in New York. The other was in Texas radio stations. Which Gordon? It must be the New York Gordon, Mr. Rubin figured, because he lives in the neighborhood. And yet...

What difference did it make? A table for six. Strange he should know two men of the same name and not inquire which one was on the phone. Lou Rubin leaned against the half-wall which divides the restaurant from the bar. It is made of mahogany frames. Inside each frame is a square of crystal with the portait of a President of the United States chased on it. Underneath is the date each man assumed office, and the date he left.

Rubin doesn't like to lean against costly objects. He stepped away and walked among the customers, smiling through the sad eyes. At 8 o'clock, the headwaiter at Chandler's whispered in Rubin's ear. "Two men in the lobby. F. B. I. They want to see you." Rubin went to the lobby. One of the strangers opened a card case, flashed it, and closed it. "United States Secret Service," he said.

Mr. Rubin thought that there is a lot of difference between the F.B.I. and the Secret Service. "Yes?" he said. The men said that they would appreciate a table near where Mr. Ju' Gordon would sit with his pa' "What has he done?" Ru' said. The stranger smiled pa' tiently.

"Nothing, one man said. "Nothing at all. He will arrive with the Vice President of the United States. Our job is to protect the Vice President." Rubin nodded. He showed the two men to a table slightly removed from the table for six. The Secret Service men ordered dinner and studied the diners and the waiters.

At 8:40 p. m., Jules Gordon and his party arrived. Lou Rubin smiled to himself. It was the Jules Gordon from Texas. In the group of men, the restaurateur spotted Lyndon B. Johnson. He could not mistake the lined face, the quick grin, and the animated eyes. Mr. Rubin played host to the hilt. He introduced himself all around, and pulled out a chair for Mr. Johnson.

Rubin supervised the table. The Vice President wanted to start with shrimp. He wasn't sure whether he wanted a salad. However, he was in the mood for a good steak, black outside and medium-rare inside. Rubin went into the kitchen and selected that steak himself. He got a good pound and a half cut, a little dark with aging, and marbelized with thin veins of fat.

He tried not to watch the table while watching it. When the dinner was over, the Secret Service men called him. "Check please," one said. Mr. Rubin held up his hands. "Mr. Gordon said he's picking up your check," he said. The men frowned. "Nobody picks our check," the tall one said.

"Go argue with him," Rubin said, pointing. The Secret Service men didn't like it. But they didn't want to argue either. So they got up, got their hats, and stood in the lobby watching everyone who came into the restaurant. The Vice President called Mr. Rubin to his table. He had a black book and a pen..

"I enjoyed the dinner," he said. "That is what I call a fine steak. Frankly, I don't know where I am. I'd like to have your name, and the name of the restaurant. I'll come back some time."

Lou Rubin was pleased. He began to like this Vice President. The two men talked a little. Johnson saw the Presidential crystal display and asked if he could look at it. "Help yourself," said Rubin, and walked across the room with Mr. Johnson. Jules Gordon and the others continued the small talk that goes with hot coffee.

The Vice President was intrigued. He studied the glass squares, with their scratched images of all the Presidents. It was possible to see the images of all, from George Washington to John F. Kennedy, and yet look through them and see the bar on the far side.

"Beautiful," Mr. Johnson said. "Beautiful." Rubin thought it was his turn to say something nice. "When," he said, "do you think we'll be adding your portrait to this group?" Lyndon Johnson's smile died quickly. The expression deepened to a frown. He stared down at the hapless Rubin. "It will never happen," he said. "Never."

The date was October 26, 1963. Mr. Johnson was exactly 27 days from becoming President of the United States . . .

Northern Lawyer Eyes Civil Rights Decrees

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Many readers are complaining that they do not get in their newspapers or on the radio or television both sides of the controversy over the Constitutional points involved in the civil rights legislation before Congress.

When, therefore, a lawyer born and raised in New York City—educated in its schools and colleges, and practicing law there for the last 17 years—writes an article exposing an abuse of power by courts as well as enforcement agencies in states and cities throughout this country and declares that there is a steady erosion of the rights of citizens, it would seem to be worthy of widespread attention.

The "American Bar Association Journal," which is published in Chicago, evidently thought so, as it printed in its current issue the article by Edward F. Cummerford entitled "Civil Rights and Civil Wrongs." He wrote in part:

"While no decent person will defend racial or religious hate, it does not follow that every possible action taken to eliminate them is either good or necessary.

"Prohibition was termed a 'noble experiment,' but it did more harm than good, for the simple reason that it abridged personal freedom without sufficient justification. The same basic error permeates much of the civil-rights activity now in vogue. To condemn these activities no more makes one a proponent of bias than to oppose Prohibition made one a bootlegger or a drunkard. . . .

"In the legislative field the typical pattern has been enactment of a statute with an enforcing agency. Although these 'anti-bias' laws vary in detail from one jurisdiction to another; they usually declare illegal 'discrimination' in such areas as employment, housing, public accommodations and resort, public transportation and, sometimes, education.

"About half our states and some municipalities now have such laws, many with enforcing agencies. . . .

"Invariably these agencies begin their work in an unobstrusive manner, but, with the passage of time, they often become increasingly aggressive, seeking more powers, asking broader areas in which to operate and harsher punitive measures for alleged offenders.

"Some have stated very candidly that, if enough complaints are not filed to keep them busy, they will go out searching for examples of bias. Frequently they query employers as to the proportions of races and creeds in their empoly; they scrutinize empoyment applications to see if there are any questions deemed discriminatory; they scan advertising by hotels and resorts to ferret out language that might be a subtle cloak for bias."

Mr. Cummerford drew attention to a significant decision by the U. S. Court of Appeals in a New Rochelle, N. Y., case, in which it was held that pupils in a neighborhood predominantly Negro could apply for transfer to a school "whose racial makeup was more in accord with their preferences, irrespective of school boundaries or distances involved."

"If Federal judges can dictate the drawing and altering of school boundary lines and the racial composition of student bodies, why may they not, by the same logic, determine the racial composition of a residential neighborhood by appropriate decrees and orders directed to realty agents and landlords? . . .

"Almost with each passing day, new and strange events are reported in connection with this inexorable drive to wipe out 'bias' Private property is seized and held by mobs; 'sit-in' demonstrations are conducted in state Capitol buildings, city halls, board of education properties and the like.

"Racial pressure groups dictate to private employers what the racial makeup of their payroll shall be and to school boards what the racial makeup of the students body shall be. Crude pressure is exterted against private club because of their membership policies and threats are heard to abolish them altogether. . . .

"When bureaucrats not chosen by the people can warn us to obey the 'spirit' of laws or face penalties; when a Federal district judge can sit as the absolute overseer of a local community's affairs; when schoolteachers are muzzled and coerced; when our citizens cease to be free individuals and become merely 'ethnic groups' to be manipulated according to some sociological dictum; when our law and courts become merely the extensions of the sociologists' workshops; when government can invade the hearts and minds of men to search out their subtlest motivations and innermost thoughts; when all of these things come to pass in our land of the free, it is high time we ask ourselves just where we are headed."

The views expressed by Mr. Cummerford are shared by many other lawyers in the North but are not always articulated. One reason, of course, is that, while there are many lawyers in the country, a relatively small number have specialized in Constitutional law. On the surface it would appear that only in the South is there any objection to the enforcement of civil rights. But Mr. Cummerford's article is an example of the dissent that is growing rapidly in the North.

BRITISH SCIENCE DRAIN

There is recurrent hullabaloo in Britian over loss of British scientists to the United States. Recently there has been a new wave of this feeling caused by the departure of top men from Birmingham University and elsewhere.

First the news came that Prof. Ian Bush, Birmingham's leading professor of psysiology, had accepted a post here. Then Dr. George Greenless, senior lecturer in physics at Birmingham, followed suit. So did Dr. George Chester, acting head of the mathematical physics department. Others also left for this country and Australia

The common British complaint that we are in a sense "stealing" their top men by offering more money is both understandable and warranted. That is indeed what is happening. America offers both better pay and better facilities. There is no mystery in the British irritation; they train and develop good men, only to see them "skimmed off" for the U.S. scientific manpower pool.

The fault is not entirely ours, however. There are indications that the British, though perhaps they honestly cannot match American salary offers, are not doing all they could to retain their able men. Those who complain about the American money lure would do well to pay attention to the complaint of Dr. Greenless, who said he was leaving because of "a sense of acute frustration." He noted that his research work was handicapped by lack of money and said he even had trouble "getting amounts as small as 25 pounds" for his department.

It may be, in short, that the British are playing the old game of penny wise and pound foolish in their dealings with scientists. In the name of good relations with our most dependable ally, one might suggest that they could keep their scientists better contented by coming through with what they need for their work.

SO FAR, NO SMITHS

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith's presidential candidacy reminds us that the most common name has never carried its bearer to the White House. Only once has a Smith run for president. That was Governor Al Smith in 1928. His name seems neither to have played a part in his defeat nor to have brought him many votes.

The Smiths are not alone in this rejection by the electorate. There have been Joneses aplenty in both houses of Congress and some state governorships, but none has ever been named for president.

Johnson is the only really common name to make the White House. It has done so twice. Curiously enough, in both instances the president died and the vice president who succeeded was a Johnson. The first President Johnson was Andrew. His stormy term in office was partly his own fault, but even more of his trouble was due to the fact he advocated gentle treatment for the defeated South, while public opinion demanded condign punishment.

To bring the matter back to the present, most of the Republicans suggested for the nomination have relatively uncommon names. History suggests that this may be a slight advantage, but it is nothing much to count on.

OUT OF THE SPEED RACE

General Motores has announced it will drop all pleasure cars out of the speed race. This is a commendable decision, hopefully one that will influence the way all cars are built in the future.

Some manufacturers have gone in rather heavily, of late, for the speed bit. This gambit in selling cars is not only dangerous but outmoded. There was a time when drivers demanded speed and there was a place on the highway for it. But bumper to bumper traffic, even on the freeways, cramps the style of latent Barney Oldfields.

Comfort and durability are more desirable attributes for the modern automobile. This observation may tag us as old and doddering. All the same, we hereby inform the auto manufacturer that our new car need not have the ability to go 130 miles per hour. The mere thought of all that potential speed makes us weak.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE MAN WHO WAS "BIG D"

Robert Thornton, who was Mayor of Dallas, Texas, throughout most of the Nineteen Fifties, died the other day, and the obituaries were silent about what killed him. Since he was 83 years old, it may have been his time to go. But if what I heard about "Bob" Thornton during my one visit to Dallas is true, chagrin over what has been said about his beloved city of "Big D" in the wake of the Kennedy tragedy could have played some part in causing him to relinquish his tenacious hold on life.

Bob Thornton was always my own candidate for the country's most upstanding man. I didn't know him, but I have always loved to quote a statement which he reportedly made when he was a power in the Dallas Citizens Council, that informal behind-the-scenes group which has more or less run Dallas since the mid-Nineteen Thirties. "If you're theah," said Thornton, "and you cain't say 'yes' and you cain't say 'no', why you ain't theah at all."

Thornton, a banker before he became a politician, could always give a yes-or-no answer. He symbolized Dallas — "Big D" — and his character should be enough to scotch all the ugly talk that the Dallas "atmosphere" was somehow responsible for the murder of President Kennedy.

Looking back on the history of the Dallas that was created by men like Bob Thornton, it becomes a matter of searing irony that a crackpot should have chosen the place to gun down a young and vibrant President. For Dallas, some thirty years ago, decided to purify itself. The Citizens Council, consisting of a group of civic-minded representatives of banks, oil companies, public utilities, and retail store owners, was organized to drive the so-called Catfish Club, a malodorous gang, out of the city council. The business men of the Citizens Council were not exactly democratic, for they didn't invite ministers, labor leaders, Mexican-Americans or Negroes to take part in their deliberations. There was no particular prejudice in this exclusion, however. It was merely that Bob Thornton and his friends wanted people who could say "yes-or-no" effectively, people who could put their money as well as their hearts behind their decisions without waiting forever for a go-ahead.

The result was good for Dallas. When I was there I was forcibly struck with the city's resemblance to Hartford, Connecticut, which is one of the cleanest places I know. And the drive of the city was tremendous. Thornton himself, as the grand man of the Mercantile Bank, had helped bring many things to "Big D." He had made the local State Fair of Texas a fabulous affair; he had persuaded the State legislature to let the Texas Centennial be held in Dallas even though San Antonio had a clearer right to it; and he had helped create Southern Methodist University.

In 1961 Bob Thornton let go his hold on City Hall, partly because of age and partly because of a revolt of the younger "good citizens" in the Council. But Thornton and his friends had set the mold of the city. When I was there, on a journalistic assignment, I was literally run ragged by well-wishers who insisted that I see everything and do everything in no time flat. Someone wanted me to see a dam out on the Brazos River. I had a luncheon appointment, and a date to see somebody for a drink at five o'clock in the afternoon, which clearly made the trip impossible. The dam on the Brazos must have been as far from Dallas as central Vermont is from my home in southern Connecticut — and I wouldn't dream of going to mid-Vermont and back without a whole day to do it in. But I couldn't say no in Dallas. We made the round trip to the dam — at what must have been 100 miles an hour — in time to get back to town for tea.

That in my experience was Dallas, a vibrant, outgoing city that would certainly not stoop to murder to gain a political end. The fact that Kennedy was killed in Bob Thornton's city was just an incredible piece of bad luck.

THE WELL CHILD

Don't Have Tonsils Out 'Because They Are There'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Your child's tonsils were placed in his throat for a purpose. They should not be removed just because they are there.

This short-sighted practice is fortunately not as common as it once was. The tonsils, actually lymph nodes, form with the adenoids a protective circle in the throat that amounts to a miniature filtration plant.

Like nymph nodes elsewhere in the body, they keep disease germs from entering the blood stream during the early years when your child is slowly building up immunity.

Every encounter the tonsils have with disease germs, causes the tonsils to enlarge, so it is not unusual for a child to have large tonsils throughout most of his childhood. When the infection is overwhelming ,he will have acute tonsillitis with sore throat and fever. When this happens he should be kept in bed and the doctor should be called so that steps may be taken to prevent such complications as rheumatic fever and kidney infection. One or even several attacks of tonsillitis is, however, not necessarily a reason to have the tonsils removed.

If, on the other hand, the adenoids should become chronically enlarged and obstruct the passage of air through the nose, your child will be forced to breath through his mouth and his susceptibility to infections in the nose, sinuses, and middle ear will be increased. Removal of the enlarged adenoids at an early age is sound practice. But unless the tonsils become abscessed (quincy), it is better not to tamper with them until your child is 9 or 10. Many a pair of tonsils that bumped together in a 5 or 6-year-old has returned to normal size as the child approaches puberty.

If after observing your child for several years your doctor recommends tonsillectomy, have the tonsils out. The old bugaboo about not having this done in the summer because of the danger of contracting poliomyelitis has been laid to rest by the availability of polio vaccine.

Following tonsillectomy, it is not uncommon for some tonsillar tissue to grow back again. This is not a sign that the operation was inadequate and that all the tonsil was not removed. It is rather a sign that nature means for us to have the protective filter if it can possibly arrange it. The tonsils that grow back never get to be as large as the original tonsils, and they almost never have to be removed.

The tonsils, once blamed for frequent colds, arthritis and other ills, have been exonerated by careful unbiased studies. Your child's tonsils are his friends, not his enemies.

Q—My 2-year-old daughter has had lumps in both groins for over a year. My doctor says she must have a sore somewhere but he didn't find it. Will the lumps go away? What can be done for them?

A—The commonest lumps in the groin are lymph nodes. Any kind of infection in the feet, legs or thighs will cause these nodes to swell. After the infection has subsided the nodes may become small, firm and easily felt. Your doctor probably could not find the infection because it had long since disappeared. The lumps will do no harm and no treatment is required.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Lyndon Johnson usually is put down as much more of a talker than the late President John F. Kennedy, who liked to clip conversation to the shortest possible bounds.

One White House man demurs a bit, however, saying that the new President can be extremely brief on occasion. On the other hand, he adds, "he can be a regular Texas rambler when he wants to be."

MEXICO'S President Adolfo Lopez Mateos—visiting President Johnson in Los Angeles Feb. 21-22—is a real professional at the conference table. As Mexican secretary of labor from 1952 to 1958, Lopez Mateos and his staff handled 62,191 industrial disputes, let only 13 grow into strikes.

This ability to find solutions goes back to college days, when Lopez Mateos wanted to go to a dance but lacked a dark suit and the money to rent one. Searching hard, he found two friends in similar straits.

They pitched in what money they had, rented a dark suit and shared it in two-hour shifts.

WHILE HAVING LUNCH recently with an American friend at a Mexica City hotel, President Lopez Mateos noticed two beautiful girls—obviously American tourists—enter the dining room.

"If you continue to export products like that," he noted, "we will never have any problems."

AT THE HEIGHT of the Guantanamo crisis, a reporter called the Pentagon to find out what was happening. "Sorry, we don't know," he was told. "We get all information from Cinclant (Commander in Chief, Atlantic), and they're out to lunch."

A GOOD DEAL of banter surrounds the "race" between resigning White House aides Theodore Sorensen and Arthur Schlesinger Jr. to get into print with books about the late President John F. Kennedy.

A newsman asked Sorensen: "Who's going to win?"

When Sorensen said Schlesinger would win, the newsman came back with: "Why? He says he needs a year to write it and you say you need six months."

Replied Sorensen: "Yes, but when he says a year he means six months. When I say six months, I mean a year."

SHORTLY AFTER being subjected to an unmerciful barrage of touchy questions following a speech at the National Press Club, Tangyika's Prime Minister Julius Nyerere approached Bryson Rash, then NPC president.

"Is it true," the Tanganyikan asked, "that your club sometimes asks a guest speaker to make a return appearance?"

"Yes, we do that quite often," Rash answered.

Snapped Nyere: "Well, I'm not coming!"

JOSEPH DEAR, new National Press Club president tried to characterize the various candidates in the Republican "presidential stable" without naming them. This is how he branded Sen. Barry Goldwater:

"This one has a tendency to bear to the right. The way the course is constructed these days, this means he could run off the track."

Q—Do islands ever disappear?

A—A few authentic cases are known. When the volcanic island of Krakatao blew up in 1883 it completely disappeared beneath the sea. Islands have appeared and disappeared again in the Aleutians.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

It was a velvet evening in late autumn. Lou Rubin, a man with worried eyes and a smiling mouth, studied the waitress, the tables, the bar, the kitchen and the customers. Chandler's, on East 49th Street New York, was ready for the Saturday night trade. The phone rang.

Mr. Rubin said hello. A man's voice said: "This is Jules Gordon. I want a table for six about eight o'clock." Mr. Rubin marked the name in a book. "Better eight-thirty," he said, "if you can make it."

Gordon agreed. Rubin hung up. A silly thought sat up in his mind. He knew two Jules Gordons. One was in the ladies' shoe business in New York. The other was in Texas radio stations. Which Gordon? It must be the New York Gordon, Mr. Rubin figured, because he lives in the neighborhood. And yet...

What difference did it make? A table for six. Strange he should know two men of the same name and not inquire which one was on the phone. Lou Rubin leaned against the half-wall which divides the restaurant from the bar. It is made of mahogany frames. Inside each frame is a square of crystal with the portait of a President of the United States chased on it. Underneath is the date each man assumed office, and the date he left.

Rubin doesn't like to lean against costly objects. He stepped away and walked among the customers, smiling through the sad eyes. At 8 o'clock, the headwaiter at Chandler's whispered in Rubin's ear. "Two men in the lobby. F. B. I. They want to see you." Rubin went to the lobby. One of the strangers opened a card case, flashed it, and closed it. "United States Secret Service," he said.

Mr. Rubin thought that there is a lot of difference between the F.B.I. and the Secret Service. "Yes?" he said. The men said that they would appreciate a table near where Mr. Ju' Gordon would sit with his pa' "What has he done?" Ru' said. The stranger smiled pa' tiently.

"Nothing, one man said. "Nothing at all. He will arrive with the Vice President of the United States. Our job is to protect the Vice President." Rubin nodded. He showed the two men to a table slightly removed from the table for six. The Secret Service men ordered dinner and studied the diners and the waiters.

At 8:40 p. m., Jules Gordon and his party arrived. Lou Rubin smiled to himself. It was the Jules Gordon from Texas. In the group of men, the restaurateur spotted Lyndon B. Johnson. He could not mistake the lined face, the quick grin, and the animated eyes. Mr. Rubin played host to the hilt. He introduced himself all around, and pulled out a chair for Mr. Johnson.

Rubin supervised the table. The Vice President wanted to start with shrimp. He wasn't sure whether he wanted a salad. However, he was in the mood for a good steak, black outside and medium-rare inside. Rubin went into the kitchen and selected that steak himself. He got a good pound and a half cut, a little dark with aging, and marbelized with thin veins of fat.

He tried not to watch the table while watching it. When the dinner was over, the Secret Service men called him. "Check please," one said. Mr. Rubin held up his hands. "Mr. Gordon said he's picking up your check," he said. The men frowned. "Nobody picks our check," the tall one said.

"Go argue with him," Rubin said, pointing. The Secret Service men didn't like it. But they didn't want to argue either. So they got up, got their hats, and stood in the lobby watching everyone who came into the restaurant. The Vice President called Mr. Rubin to his table. He had a black book and a pen..

"I enjoyed the dinner," he said. "That is what I call a fine steak. Frankly, I don't know where I am. I'd like to have your name, and the name of the restaurant. I'll come back some time."

Lou Rubin was pleased. He began to like this Vice President. The two men talked a little. Johnson saw the Presidential crystal display and asked if he could look at it. "Help yourself," said Rubin, and walked across the room with Mr. Johnson. Jules Gordon and the others continued the small talk that goes with hot coffee.

The Vice President was intrigued. He studied the glass squares, with their scratched images of all the Presidents. It was possible to see the images of all, from George Washington to John F. Kennedy, and yet look through them and see the bar on the far side.

"Beautiful," Mr. Johnson said. "Beautiful." Rubin thought it was his turn to say something nice. "When," he said, "do you think we'll be adding your portrait to this group?" Lyndon Johnson's smile died quickly. The expression deepened to a frown. He stared down at the hapless Rubin. "It will never happen," he said. "Never."

The date was October 26, 1963. Mr. Johnson was exactly 27 days from becoming President of the United States . . .

Famed Quartet Member Recalls Church and Song

WICHITA, Kans. (AP)—Out of 77 years of memories, one of the proud recollections for Lester Weatherwax is having helped a church and a song to international fame.

Lester and his brothers, Bill, Asa and Tom, brought renewed popularity to a small Iowa church and the song associated with it—"The Church in the Wildwood." Although that was two generations ago the song and the church continue to be widely known.

The brothers, natives of an Iowa farm, had formed a quartet known as The Weatherwax Boys. Lester sang baritone, Tom the bass, Asa first tenor and Bill second tenor. They became well known in the early years of this century and traveled the United States and Canada from 1910 until 1921. A few years later Lester settled in Wichita.

Still slim and unusually active for his 77 years, Lester recalls vividly the night in St. Louis when a member of the audience asked the quartet to sing "The Church in the Wildwood."

"We were flabbergasted," he recalls. "It didn't fit in with our classical program. But we sang it and the response was overwhelming."

Their rendition of the song became so popular that within a few weeks the brothers began building their programs around it. Each time they sang it they told the history of the song and of the real church in the wildwood.

They knew it well for their farm home near Charles City, Iowa, was only a dozen miles from the place where the little church was built a century ago and still stands.

The song was written in 1857, three years before construction began on the church at Bradford, Iowa. The congregation had been organized in 1855 as the First Congregational Church of Bradford. The town is now extinct but another town by the same name has grown up 60 miles away.

After rising to some degree of fame, the church began declining along with the town, which had lost a bid for a railroad. The town disappeared but the church remained and became a rural church near Nashua, Iowa.

"The little brown church of Bradford seemed to be going the way of so many of America's rural churches," said Weatherwax.

Then the Weatherwax boys began singing and telling about "The Church in the Wildwood."

"Travelers began seeking out Nashua and the little church about which we told them," Weatherwax said. "By 1915-16 the church had been restored to its original state.

"We count it a God-given opportunity to have been a part of spreading the story and the song of the shrine."

Of the Weatherwax boys, Asa died in 1940 and Tom in 1962. William, now 90, is in a rest home in Iowa.

Lester retired in 1962 after serving for 32 years as minister of music at the First Methodist Church of Wichita.

ACCORD NEWS

ACCORD — Ralph Swenson accompanied Mr. Mayberry to attend the science teachers convention at the Concord Hotel of Ferndale from Sunday through Tuesday last week.

Patron Grange held its meeting last Monday evening in the hall with Master Al Redwood presiding. Irv Mower showed a film Down to Earth to show the objectives of the Red Croos Chapter campaign. Frederick Snyder, writer, lecturer and world traveler spoke on the ways this organizations helps the people of the world in time of stress. The next meeting, Monday, Feb. 24 at 8 p. m. will be a yeast coffee cake contest and cake mixes are not to be used. The committee is Mr. and Mrs. George Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Fredd, Mr. and Mrs. George Faulkner and Grace Crose.

The smorgasbord and dance sponsored by the Republican Club of the Town of Rochester was attended by over 125 Saturday evening at the Pine Grove Hotel. Franklin Kelder, supervisor of the town was the master of ceremonies. Francis Tucker, magistrate judge was the guest speaker. Mr. and Mrs. Merten entertained by playing various instruments. Charles Cross and orchestra played round and square dances.

Duanne Traver, a student of New Paltz State University College, Beverly Schoonmaker, a senior at Rondout Valley Central High School and her brother, Steven, a freshman at the same school rolled up an eleven foot snow man in about three hours Sunday in the front of the Al Traver house. They used a ladder to help them with their creation.

Abe Pearlman received word from Sam Herschowsky from Long Beach, Calif., that he expects to return to his local home some time after Passover.

Brenda Capellazzi was a hostess at the charity dinner dance held at Kellogg's Center of Michigan State University where she is a student studying hotel management. Her parents own and operate Cappy's Food Center.

Word has been received that Morris Satcowitz died Jan. 30 at Miami Beach, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Satcowitz were former residents.

Harrison Burger was the guest of honor last Tuesday evening at his home in Kerhonkson when a group of friends called to wish him well and play cards. Refreshments were served.

The Accord Home Extension Service will have its monthly meeting Wednesday, Feb. 26 at 8 p. m. at the home of Jane Countryman. Ann Morgan will give the topic What to Be Until the Doctor Comes. The committee to assist the hostess in Florence Countryman, Jennie Bell, Marion Anderson and Martha DeWitt.

Rabbi Herman Eisner of Ellenville, officiated at the Berith of Steven Mitchell, week old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weinstein.

Glenmore Lennon returned on Wednesday from a week of observation and treatment at the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sondak and son, Terry, went to Riverdale on Lincoln's Birthday to attend the first birthday of their grandson, Mark, son of daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Krieger.

Then He Turned It Off

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —Tim Whitley, 5, dreamed a television program the other night. He told his parents the next morning that it was a cartoon type, a chase with lots of excitement—and a commercial at the end.

Famed Quartet Member Recalls Church and Song

WICHITA, Kans. (AP)—Out of 77 years of memories, one of the proud recollections for Lester Weatherwax is having helped a church and a song to international fame.

Lester and his brothers, Bill, Asa and Tom, brought renewed popularity to a small Iowa church and the song associated with it—"The Church in the Wildwood." Although that was two generations ago the song and the church continue to be widely known.

The brothers, natives of an Iowa farm, had formed a quartet known as The Weatherwax Boys. Lester sang baritone, Tom the bass, Asa first tenor and Bill second tenor. They became well known in the early years of this century and traveled the United States and Canada from 1910 until 1921. A few years later Lester settled in Wichita.

Still slim and unusually active for his 77 years, Lester recalls vividly the night in St. Louis when a member of the audience asked the quartet to sing "The Church in the Wildwood."

"We were flabbergasted," he recalls. "It didn't fit in with our classical program. But we sang it and the response was overwhelming."

Their rendition of the song became so popular that within a few weeks the brothers began building their programs around it. Each time they sang it they told the history of the song and of the real church in the wildwood.

They knew it well for their farm home near Charles City, Iowa, was only a dozen miles from the place where the little church was built a century ago and still stands.

The song was written in 1857, three years before construction began on the church at Bradford, Iowa. The congregation had been organized in 1855 as the First Congregational Church of Bradford. The town is now extinct but another town by the same name has grown up 60 miles away.

After rising to some degree of fame, the church began declining along with the town, which had lost a bid for a railroad. The town disappeared but the church remained and became a rural church near Nashua, Iowa.

"The little brown church of Bradford seemed to be going the way of so many of America's rural churches," said Weatherwax.

Then the Weatherwax boys began singing and telling about "The Church in the Wildwood."

"Travelers began seeking out Nashua and the little church about which we told them," Weatherwax said. "By 1915-16 the church had been restored to its original state.

"We count it a God-given opportunity to have been a part of spreading the story and the song of the shrine."

Of the Weatherwax boys, Asa died in 1940 and Tom in 1962. William, now 90, is in a rest home in Iowa.

BULL MARKET—1964

The logical interpretation of a single significant economic event can mean much to an alert investor. Such an event occurred recently when General Motors, the world's largest manufacturing and merchandising enterprise, increased the quarterly dividend by 30 per cent.

Few corporations in the world can match GM in efficiency. From the assembly lines to the dealer organization there is a quality of management that is unsurpassed. High wages are paid, taxes run over a billion dollars a year, and the stockholders are well rewarded by their investment.

Hundreds of smaller corporations take their cue from the policies of General Motors. A bold, confident move by this giant of giants has tremendous repercussions on thousands of other corporate directors and officers. This influence is felt in Washington, where many Congressmen keep an eagle eye on corporate prosperity.

Last year, General Motors made $5.50 a share, and paid $4 a share. Total sales were $16,400,000,000! 1964 should be an even better year all around, and the condition will permeate the economic structure of America.

Within a few years, with population rising, with better highways everywhere, and with a constant increase in consumer income, the automobile industry will be turning out 10,000,000 cars a year.

By 1970, General Motors sales should be well through 20 billions a year. Ford and Chrysler will share this prosperity.

Closely linked with the automobile industry are two others: petroleum and tires. Today these three great industries are solid growth industries.

There are a score of top-notch petroleum equities. A sound oil stock belongs in every well-diversified portfolio.

Standard Oil of New Jersey—the biggest petroleum company in the world—Royal Dutch, Texaco, Standard Oil of California, and Standard Oil of Indiana are among the leaders. They are all high grade.

In the tire and rubber field here are four giants that will grow with more automobiles on the road and express highways everywhere: Firestone, Goodrich, Goodyear and U. S. Rubber. All four companies are broadening their bases of operations.

A new investor who recently at age 42 inherited $10,000 from a relative, decided to put $2,000 in a savings bank as a cash emergency fund. With the other $8,000, for permanent investment, he bought General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey and United States Rubber.

May I suggest to readers of this column that throughout 1964 they read the papers daily for any General Motors news. In my opinion that corporation will set the pace for 1964 and many decisions by other corporations will be based on the actions of the General Motors Directors 1964 looks like a banner prosperous year for most American stockholders. Have you any real good stocks? If you haven't, search out a competent broker and talk with him.

Three for 'Luv'

NEW YORK (AP) — A successful off-Broadway combination is hoping for a repeat next on the Great White Way. The project: "Luv" by Murray Schisgal.

Involved with Schisgal in the undertaking are producer Claire Nichtern, who produced the author's two short plays, "The Tiger" and "The Typists" last season. Pledged to perform are the pair who appeared in that previous venture, Eli Wallach and Anne Jackson, his wife.

Yet to be added to the combination is another actor for the play's third role.

Life Insurance Queries, Answers

As a public service in cooperation with the Eastern New York Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the following questions and answers on life insurance are presented:

QUESTION:—I have paid in for my group life insurance for 20 years and now find that I can't borrow a cent on it, as I can on my other policies. Does this mean it isn't worth anything and I should drop it?

ANSWER:—Most group life insurance is "term" insurance. That is, it is for one year's protection at a time and carries no cash value. It is the cash value that you can borrow on your individaul policies. This is one of the important handicaps in group life insurance and one of the reasons it should not be regarded as a part of your basic family financial protection program. Group life insurance has no emergency values; it will probably end at age 65, unless your office or shop has a special "post-65" provision; it ceases if you leave your place of employment or the employer goes out of business; and you might be unable to replace it if it ever does terminate.

This does not mean that group life insurance is not worth anything. It is a very worthwhile addition to the family protection. You cannot find anything less expensive. But you should be certain to regard it for what is-the "gravy" to add to your basic, permanent program. You have many needs which are greater before 65 than after and, unless you are unusual, you do not have all the insurance you need or would like to have. Thus the group policy is an excellent addition to round out your program inexpensively. Just don't let it replace any permanent insurance and don't count on it as a part of your basic program.

Complete Fiscal Exams

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the completion of the examination of fiscal affairs of a number of towns, villages, schools and other special districts throughout the state, including Kingston Schools Consolidated and Ulster County Board of Health. Copies of the examination reports have been sent to the clerk and other officials of the units of government examined. Since the reports are a part of the public record, they are available for review by interested citizens. A copy of each of the reports is also on file at the Department of Audit and Control in Albany and is available for public inspection.

Unusual Grounds

BELPRE, Kan. (AP) — —Mrs. Kenneth Henning figured she had grounds for trouble when the coffee she brewed for a party tasted bad.

Then she found that an electric coffee pot she borrowed for the party still contained an electric cord. In her haste to plug in the borrowed pot she had used the cord of her own coffee pot.

Health for All

Weighty Matters

The news from Falsterbo, Sweden, isn't good — not, at least, if you have an overweight problem.

Fifty scientists from the United States and Europe, convening not long ago for a symposium on the Occurrence, Causes, and Prevention of Obesity, concluded that while knowledge is plentiful about the first of those three topics, it is still rather inadequate about the second and third. Specifically, here are some of their findings—none offering much comfort to the victim of creeping or galloping avoirdupois:

That obesity really is a state of disease, and its correction is apt to be more than just a matter of eating less and exercising more. (A fact, incidentally, that underscores the importance of seeking medical supervision when one sets out to reduce.)

That once the body has learned the process of secreting excessive fat it is likely to go on doing so, diet or no diet.

That woman in the upper income brackets are physically lighter than their less affluent sisters; and that the reverse is true among men.

That the whole concept of "normal" weight may be considered questionable in view of the high rate of departures from "normal" standards.

Finally, a lack of specific discussion about prevention of obesity suggested to an American participant at the meeting, Dr. Hilde Bruch, that earlier notions held by scientists on this subject hadn't stood the test of time.

Nevertheless, she reported "an over-all optimistic tone" at the meeting, and a "greater confidence in face of the recognized uncertainty." Will today's experts on obesity be discouraged by thinness of immediate data? Fat chance!

NYS Income Tax Reminder—New York State residents who were members of the Armed Forces during 1963 are subject to State Income Tax and must file a return for 1963. If your domicile (legal residence) was in New York State at the time you entered military service, assignment to duty outside the State does not change your New York domicile. That means you should file your return and pay the tax due in the same manner as any other resident individual unless, during the taxable year, you satisfy all three of the following conditions: (1) You had no place of abode in New York State, and (2) You did maintain a permanent place of abode elsewhere, and (3) You did not spend more than 30 days in New York State.

GI Home Loan Payment Tip—If you find that you will be unable to make your payment when it is due, by all means let your lender know of it, and try to work out with him a satisfactory plan to make up the payments missed. His friendly advice may be most helpful when you are in a tight spot. Try to see him before he writes you, but never fail to answer notices or letters received from him. In emergencies, the first impulse sometimes is to borrow money in order to keep the mortgage payments current. However, any new loan must be paid off in a short time through burdensome installments, and the extra strain often leads to more serious financial trouble.

Military Records — Although the deadline for routine correction requests has passed, a veteran's service record may be changed when its serves the interest of justice to do so, provided application is made within three years after discovery of the alleged error or injustice. Paltz Teacher Is Honored by State Music Association

NEW PALTZ — Mrs. Mildred Bond, vocal music director of the New Paltz Central Schools, has been invited to participate as an adjudicator for the 1964 New York State School Music Association (NYSSMA) Spring Competition Festivals by the executive secretary-treasurer of the executive council NYSSMA, Dean L. Harrington, Seaford, L. I.

Mrs. Bond, director of the Central High School Girls Ensemble, which received an "A" rating in Grade 4; director of the H. S. Mixed Chorus, which received a "B" rating in Grade 4 missing an "A" rating by a single point; and voice teacher of Miss Linda Bank, soprano, (now a student at Syracuse University) who earned a "B" rating in Grade 6 vocal solo competition last year, credits the distinction of being asked to serve as an Adjudicator for NYSSMA to the participating students in the vocal and choral music program of the school, their high interest and sustained efforts to achieve continuing improvement, and the encouragement of the school administration and school board members.

The H. S. Girls Ensemble will be entering the more difficut competition in Grade 5 this year. This grade is recommended for organizations which meet the standards expected from the largest schools, and is recommended for organizations promoted from Grade 4 and for schools, with excellent music organizations." (quoted from NYSSMA Manual.)

The H. S. Mixed Chorus will strive to achieve "A" rating in Grade this year. This would be excellent for a school of this size, since Grade 4 music is recommended for schools with fairly large enrollment." (NYSSMA Manual). The chorus hopes to earn 105 or more points of a possible 120 to achieve an "A".

Vocal solists will be entering Grades 3 to 6.

Safety Patrol Dance

On Feb. 8 the Safety Patrol of the New Paltz Central School sponsored a dance.

The Valantis (George Lynch and Ron Rehfield on the guitar, and Bobby Savago on the drums) played during the dance.

Cookies were made by thirty-five junior high students. The punch was made by the refreshment committee, with the help of Mrs. Esther Winkky home economics teacher. The refreshments were served outside the old gym during the dance.

Mike VanderDoes, a seventh grade safety patrol member typed safety rules given to the people as they entered. There were 10 adult chaperones at the dance at all times.

Approximately $50 profit was made. It will be used to purchase equipment for the elementary school, and the driver education course. Overall arrangements were supervised by Robert Doucette, Safety Patrol Advisor.

Paintings Exhibited

George Wardlaw of Cherry Hill Road, New Paltz, is currently showing a group of paintings and sculptures at the Wadsworth Atheneum at Hartford, Conn. The show is in the collectors gallery of the museum.

In December, Wardlaw showed 20 paintings and 20 pieces of sculpture in an exhibition at the Allan Stone Gallery in New York City.

Named to Dean's List

Jean Klix, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Klix of 45 Elting Avenue, New Paltz, has been named to the Dean's list for the first semester at Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia.

Mrs. Dina DuBois Moore, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse DuBois of 65 Huguenot Street, New Paltz, was named to the Dean's list at the University of Virginia's School of Education at Charlotteville for work done in the fall semester.

Century Club Session

Dr. Carlyle Adams, Presbyterian minister from Albany, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the XXth Century Club of the New Paltz Reformed Church, to be held Sunday, March 1 at 7:30 p. m. in the Reformed Church Education Building .

Dr. Adams was an accredited observer at the Vatican II Council.

Dessert will be served at 7:30 in the Fireside room by Mr. and Mrs. Fred DuBois and their committee. The program will follow.

Anyone interested is this program is invited to attend.

The French Academy was established by order of the king in 1635 with a limited 40 as members. The 40 are known in France as "The Immortals."

Political Aspirants Hammer Away at Viet Nam Situation

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential possibilities are continuing their all-out assault on President Johnson's policies—with special emphasis on the situation in South Viet Nam.

New York Gov. Nelson A Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon blasted the administration's foreign policies over the weekend. Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, meanwhile, mounted an attack on the President's anti-poverty campaign.

Rockefeller, in a statement Sunday, accused the administration of "news management" to keep "the hard facts of the military situation from the American people."

He said "the American people have a right to know the whole truth about what is going on."

Rockefeller's statement came 24 hours after he held a telephone conversation with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, about his suggestion made Friday night that Lodge had to bear some responsibility for conditions in South Viet Nam.

But in Saigon, Lodge denied Rockefeller had called to discuss the Viet Nam situation.

Lodge, the 1960 Republican candidate for vice president, has been considered a potential GOP presidential candidate. He has denied he plans to run.

Nixon, like Lodge a non-candidate, told a Washington's birthday banquet at Peoria, Ill. Saturday night that the Johnson administration had hoodwinked and softsoaped the American people about "the most disastrous series of foreign policy defeats since World War II."

In South Viet Nam, Nixon said "It is obvious that the administration is preparing the American people for retreat or lead to the loss of all Southeast Asia to the Communists."

Goldwater, winding up four days of campaigning for the New Hampshire primary, told an overflow crowd of 800 in Nashua Saturday night that Johnson's antipoverty campaign is "half-baked."

"Poverty is a 30-year problem the Democrats have just recognized," the Arizona senator said. "The creation of jobs is the simple thing but the simpletons in Washington just can't understand."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock higher early this afternoon as it neared the significant 800 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was heavy.

First-hour volume was 1.77 million shares compared with 1.11 million Thursday, the last trading day before the three-weekend.

A generally higher tone prevailed among motors, steels, rubbers, rails, airlines, chemicals and mail order-retails.

Building materials, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed.

Continued strength in steel demand and good business news provided the market's framework. It was enhanced by prospects of imminent passage of the $11.5-million tax cut bill which is expected to put extra money into the hands of the public wthin weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 296.4 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .6 and utilities up .3. The average was above its latest record closing high made Thursday.

The Dow Jones industrial average was above its Thursday closing record as it advanced 2.88 for a noon reading of 799.87 — a hair's breadth away from the 800 level it has yet to clear on a closing basis.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in active trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined.

Water Diversion Cuts Revenue of Power Authority

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Power Authority says its bank balance would have been larger last year had it not been for the city of Chicago diverting Great Lakes water which the authority converts into power.

The authority said its revenue of more than $180 million last year was $13 million below expectations, and that a major cause of this was a shortage of Great Lakes water.

The authority noted in its annual report, released Sunday, that one of the principal factors contributing to the shortage is Chicago's diversion of Lake Michigan water for sanitary and other purposes.

"Water diverted at Chicago cannot be used for power at the Niagara and St. Lawrence power projects," the report said. "and for each cubic foot per second of water not returned to Lake Michigan the authority loses $1,164 annually in revenue."

Liberties Union Helps Protest Bible in School

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A North Lebanon Township family, with a big assist from the American Civil Liberties Union, went into federal court today to protest Bible reading in public schools.

The suit, filed last month by the ACLU on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Snavely, receives a preliminary hearing before U.S. District Court Judge Frederick V. Follmer.

The Snavely's complaint was aimed at enjoining the Cornwall-Lebanon Suburban Joint School Board from following a practice of permissive Bible Reading in district schools.

It stemmed from the U. S. Supreme Court ruling which outlawed mandatory Bible reading in the public schools.

Following that order the Cornwall - Lebanon authorities permitted individual schools and teachers to decide whether to read the Bible prior to the class day.

However, just last week, it abandoned that policy and substituted in its place a 15-minute-a-day period for reading of the Bible as a "literary and historical" document.

Snavely, a 39-year-old father of four who earns $3,500 annually as a City of Lebanon employe, has been at the center of a local turmoil ever since his suit was filed.

Last week, he reported the life of his wife and one of his children had been threatened.

Earlier, he was arrested by local authorities on a two-year-old offense of failing to have his dogs licensed. He claimed his arrest resulted from his stand on Bible reading.

The incident became so explosive that the state made an investigation into the arrest. Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni said he would issue "a statement of judgement" shortly.

Peggy Lee and Hubby Postpone Honeymoon

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Friends of singer Peggy Lee and bandleader Jack Del Rio say the couple, wed Saturday, will not honeymoon until mid-April.

Miss Lee, 43, got a marriage license Friday when a clerk came to her Beverly Hills home, where she is recuperating from a respiratory ailment. Her marriage to the 39-year-old Del Rio took place there.

It is the second marriage for Del Rio, a native of Argentina, and the fourth for Miss Lee. Her previous husbands were actor Dewey Martin, actor Brad Dexter and composer Dave Barbour.

Check Blaze

Firemen checked a slight fire Sunday in the home of Leonard Thronburg, 48 Clinton Avenue. A unit from Wiltwyck Station answered a call at 2:16 p. m., and firemen found burning meat in an oven had considerable smoke in the house, which was ventilated.

Hurley's Branch Bank Is Open for Business in Area

The Hurley Branch of The Kerhonkson National Bank was open for business today following an "open house" which was held Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Kerhonkson Bank already has a branch in Stone Ridge.

In an effort to preserve the tradition and appearance of the Old Hurley Dutch type of building the new banking house located on Main Street, Hurley, on property formerly occupied by Mrs. Lyman Schoonmaker as a gift shop, has been built of stone in the same manner as the other old houses on the street. In fact the new bank building was erected from native stone taken from an old ruined stone house on the John L. Schoonmaker premises at Accord, and can take its place among the old houses as though it had always been there.

Albert E. Milliken of Kingston was architect for the new bank building.

The bank is provided with space for four teller windows and also has a walk-up and drive-up window.

Manager of the Hurley Branch of Kerhonkson National Bank is Vincent Mikalonis and other employes are Mrs. Rose Burger of Hurley and Mrs. Joan Custer of Stone Ridge.

A. J. Anderson of Kerhonkson is president of Kerhonkson National Bank. Directors are: Anderson, Vernon A. Barnhart, Maurice Davenport, Edward Davenport and Selah Terwilliger.

HandFromCorpse Used on Sailor

BOSTON (AP) — Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported today that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person has been performed in Guyaquil, Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had ost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guyaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the transplant unit of the famed Boston hospital for advice on the post operative treatment of the patient.

Drs. Wilson and Goldwyn said they believe this is the first homograft of a human limb in medical history.

They said that when they left Ecuador over the weekend the patient was coming along fine.

U Thant's Plan For Cyprus Are In Crucial State

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before debate Tuesday on the crisis.

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

The Greek Cypriots said they were preparing to repel threatened invasion from Turkey, 40 miles off the island's north coast.

Turkish Cypriots said they were getting ready to repel a Greek attack.

Claims Controls Net $450 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Beet Sugar Association estimates that the U.S. Treasury has made a net "profit" of more than $450 million on the government's sugar control program since 1937.

The program is designed to stabilize prices and supplies of sugar to the mutual advantage of domestic producers and consumers. It divided the U.S. market among domestic, offshore and foreign producing areas under a quota system.

The government collects a small excise tax of about a half a cent a pound on domestically produced as well as imported sugar. Some of the money obtained through this tax is paid to domestic producers of sugar beets and sugar cane who comply with minimum wage, child labor and other conditions of the program.

These payments are designed to supplement grower incomes from sale of their beets and cane.

Good Deed Returned; He Finds Lost Wallet

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) —A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in.

Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $430.

Bad Luck for Duck, Sprung From Icy Muck

NEW YORK (AP)—The duck was stuck.

Park department employes tried to free it from the ice of Central Park Lake Sunday.

They threw a ladder onto the ice, hoping to break it and dislodge the quacker. The ice stayed firm. So did the duck.

Then someone shoveled a boat out of ice and snow and rowed out, breaking the ice around the duck with an oar.

Unstuck came the duck.

Elderly Pensioners Err In Growth Stock

Q) "We have 50 shares of Anaconda Copper and 100 Fedders, bought recently to improve our income. What are the growth possibilities of these two stocks? We are pensioners in our middle seventies." — M. W.

A) You seem like a very nice couple, and I would like to see you in stronger situations than those you now hold.

Anaconda's operations are mainly in Chile. Earning vary rather widely on tax action and labor conditions in that country. The dividend at present looks secure, but there is no growth here. I think you would be better off in Puerto Rican Cement, yielding nearly as much but operating in a far more favorable area.

Fedders yields 6.3 per cent, which casts some doubt on the security of the dividend. I think the present rate will continue, but you will be unlikely to see any growth. If you wish capital appreciation, I would switch to General Motors, yielding 5.1 per cent.

Q) "My father has been wanting to buy a certain stock but I've advised him not to because the shares aren't listed on the New York Stock Exchange. I want him to buy only issues which have been approved by the Exchange." — G. B.

A) It is very good of you to look after your father's interests. However, I think you are going to have to be careful that you don't lead the older gentleman astray.

It is definitely not the function of the Big Board to place a stamp of approval on stocks that enjoy a listing. The Exchange's job is to supply the best organized and widest possible market place for securities that meet minimum standards at the time of listing.

The Exchange requires adequate financial reports and tries to protect buyers against fraud or non-compliance with its rules. There is aboslutely no guarantee, however, that a stock is a sound investment just because it is listed.

5 of Po'keepsie Questioned in Baltimore Case

Three men and two women, all Poughkeepsie residents, were reportedly held by Baltimore, Md., county authorities Saturday, for questioning in connection with an attempted assault with intent to rob case.

The Associated Press reported the five persons were held in connection with an attempted holdup last Friday night of a service station at Bel Air, Md. Police said the five had stopped at the station and attempted to holdup the manager, but became panicky and fled in a car which bore New York registration plate, when the man resisted.

Police Chief John L. Martin, Poughkeepsie, said he planned to confer later today with Detective Sgt. James Murphy. He had no further comment on the details of the case.

Lieut. Edward Shanahan reportedly told a reporter Saturday night that at least two of the five persons detained, had been sought for questioning locally. The identity of the five men and women was not disclosed.

Buddhist Priest Is Severely Burned 23rd

HONOLULU (AP) — A 78-year-old Buddhist priest was burned severely on the lawn of the Koboji Shingo Mission Sunday.

The Rev. Kakuo Okimura, was in critical condition today with severe burns over 40 per cent of his body, from the waist down.

The priest told a church member that he was burned more than six hours before he was found on the lawn.

This was the only information police were able to obtain.

$60 million in U.S. military aid to India following the 1962 Chinese border attacks.

Regarded Chief Threat

Pakistan regards India as its chief threat, with the Kashmir dispute as the principal issue between them, and fears India will use the U.S. military aid against Pakistan.

With the communique, Pakistan served notice on Washington it will follow a more independent foreign policy and edge closer to Red China.

Chou repaid Ayub with support for a plebiscite in Kashmir, the chief Pakistani demand since the dispute erupted in 1947 with massive bloodshed. Moslem Pakistan assumes that Kashmir's predominantly Moslem populace would vote to break away from Hindu India.

Pakistani newspapers said Ayub agreed to support Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations in return for Chou's backing on Kashmir. Ayub told newsmen earlier that the United Nations was not representative of mankind as long as Red China remained outside its doors.

Occupants Uninjured When Cars Collide

Occupants of two cars escaped injury Saturday afternoon in a collision which occurred on DeWitt Lake Road, according to Kingston State Police.

Vincent Walker, 27, of Box 74, Lake Katrine, was driving south on the road and James Jackson, 26, of 60 Gill Street, city, was heading north when the crash occurred. Trooper John McMickle said a report of Trooper W. E. Wiedemann stated the Walker car skidded and continued on and hit a tree after the collision of the vehicles.

The Town of Ulster Republican Club Inc., will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

President Anthony Ciccoria announced that officers elected for 1964 will be installed by Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo. A committee will also be named by President Ciccoria for the third annual spring dance and buffet. Time, date and place will be announced later. For the past two years, the club has sponsored a spring dance which has proved very successful.

Other Club business will be discussed, including a membership drive as a primary objective. A committee will be named for membership enrollment.

Benjamin Schecter will be the guest speaker. Schecter who is prominent in Republican circles in the city and county is appearing before the Town of Ulster Republican Club to promote Republicanism.

An invitation is extended to residents of the town to attend Thursday evening. Refreshments will be served under supervision of Salvatore Castiglione.

Woman to Stand Trial In Death of Her Child

Accused of strangling her two year old child two years ago, Miss Willie Mae Tramel, 20, Fishkill, is scheduled to appear in Dutchess County Court Tuesday to face a second degree murder charge.

Authorities said the woman is accused of strangling the child with a rag, and burying the girl in the snow in February, 1962.

The accused woman was released last week from Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, Beacon, after being adjudged fit to stand trial.

Woman Charges Downtown Man With Assault, 3rd

Joseph Harris, 44, of 77 Hasbrouck Avenue, was arrested by Ruth Sauter, 31, of the same address, Sunday afternoon on a third degree assault charge.

City Court hearing was put over today until Tuesday to permit Harris time to obtain counsel. Bail of $50 was not posted.

Disposition of an assault charge, allegedly involving a pocket knife, and lodged against Harris Jan. 4 by Theodore Roosevelt Jones of 89 Broadway, is pending with a grand jury.

Ruth Sauter is due for hearing March 13 on a third degree assault charge, and on one of unlawful intrusion. She and Edward Scarfo, 47, of 75 Hasbrouck Avenue, had charged each other with assault after an altercation in January. Scarfo recently pleaded guilty and has been sentenced.

The intrusion charge against Ruth Sauter was made by Geraldine Longtoe, of 71 Hasbrouck Avenue.

Ask Court

trial, marked by bitter in-fighting between prosecution and defense over assembling a jury to decide his fate.

None of the courtroom principals expresses optimism about completing the 12-man panel this week.

"It looks like the middle of the following week now," said Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade.

"I said we couldn't get a jury and my prediction has been right," said Ruby's chief counsel, Melvin Belli of San Francisco.

"I'm not happy or unhappy about the first week," said Judge Joe B. Brown.

Of the 48 persons questioned, 20 were disqualified when they said they could not vote to send Ruby, or anyone else, to the electric chair. Another 16 were disqualified "for cause" — such as having formed an opinion about the case or being opposed to the suspended-sentence law in a murder case.

Two Factors

Two factors are contributing to the slow progress.

One is Belli's contention that Ruby can't get a fair trial in Dallas. He says the city is saturated with prejudice, ashamed of the fact that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, and is bent on vindicating itself by executing Ruby.

The second factor is that this is the first death case in which the killing was seen on television.

Cameras recorded the instant when Ruby, a Dallas night club operator, killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy.

Holds to Argument

Belli contends, again and again, that anyone who saw the televised scene is a witness. Under Texas law, he argues, such persons are disqualified to serve as jurors. The prosecution disputes this interpretation of the law, and Brown has ruled with Wade.

In questioning jury candidates, Ruby's attorneys ask: "Did you see the television of the shooting of Oswald?"

If the prospect says he has the defense asks him to describe what he saw.

Then, Ruby's lawyers ask the prospective juror if he was "horrified" or "upset." Or they often ask: "And you will carry this memory to your grave, won't you?" Should the prospect agree, the defense immediately moves to disqualify him as incapable of judging Ruby impartially.

This touches off heated wrangles with the prosecution. It grew to fierce last week that Brown warned a defense lawyer, Joe Tonahill, he was bordering on being in contempt of court.

Ruby watches the proceedings closely. He frequently chews gum, confers in whispers with his attorneys. He sometimes nods or smiles at reporters sitting behind his chair. Occasionally, when lawyers point him out to a prospective juror, he nods toward the man or woman on the witness stand.

"He's becoming more tense as the days go by," Belli said, "but generally he's holding up well."

Political Aspirants Hammer Away at Viet Nam Situation

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential possibilities are continuing their all-out assault on President Johnson's policies—with special emphasis on the situation in South Viet Nam.

New York Gov. Nelson A Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon blasted the administration's foreign policies over the weekend. Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, meanwhile, mounted an attack on the President's anti-poverty campaign.

Rockefeller, in a statement Sunday, accused the administration of "news management" to keep "the hard facts of the military situation from the American people."

He said "the American people have a right to know the whole truth about what is going on."

Rockefeller's statement came 24 hours after he held a telephone conversation with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, about his suggestion made Friday night that Lodge had to bear some responsibility for conditions in South Viet Nam.

But in Saigon, Lodge denied Rockefeller had called to discuss the Viet Nam situation.

Lodge, the 1960 Republican candidate for vice president, has been considered a potential GOP presidential candidate. He has denied he plans to run.

Nixon, like Lodge a non-candidate, told a Washington's birthday banquet at Peoria, Ill. Saturday night that the Johnson administration had hoodwinked and softsoaped the American people about "the most disastrous series of foreign policy defeats since World War II."

In South Viet Nam, Nixon said "It is obvious that the administration is preparing the American people for retreat or lead to the loss of all Southeast Asia to the Communists."

Goldwater, winding up four days of campaigning for the New Hampshire primary, told an overflow crowd of 800 in Nashua Saturday night that Johnson's antipoverty campaign is "half-baked."

"Poverty is a 30-year problem the Democrats have just recognized," the Arizona senator said. "The creation of jobs is the simple thing but the simpletons in Washington just can't understand."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock higher early this afternoon as it neared the significant 800 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was heavy.

First-hour volume was 1.77 million shares compared with 1.11 million Thursday, the last trading day before the three-weekend.

A generally higher tone prevailed among motors, steels, rubbers, rails, airlines, chemicals and mail order-retails.

Building materials, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed.

Continued strength in steel demand and good business news provided the market's framework. It was enhanced by prospects of imminent passage of the $11.5-million tax cut bill which is expected to put extra money into the hands of the public wthin weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 296.4 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .6 and utilities up .3. The average was above its latest record closing high made Thursday.

The Dow Jones industrial average was above its Thursday closing record as it advanced 2.88 for a noon reading of 799.87 — a hair's breadth away from the 800 level it has yet to clear on a closing basis.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in active trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined.

Water Diversion Cuts Revenue of Power Authority

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Power Authority says its bank balance would have been larger last year had it not been for the city of Chicago diverting Great Lakes water which the authority converts into power.

The authority said its revenue of more than $180 million last year was $13 million below expectations, and that a major cause of this was a shortage of Great Lakes water.

The authority noted in its annual report, released Sunday, that one of the principal factors contributing to the shortage is Chicago's diversion of Lake Michigan water for sanitary and other purposes.

"Water diverted at Chicago cannot be used for power at the Niagara and St. Lawrence power projects," the report said, "and for each cubic foot per second of water not returned to Lake Michigan the authority loses $1,164 annually in revenue."

Liberties Union Helps Protest Bible in School

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A North Lebanon Township family, with a big assist from the American Civil Liberties Union, went into federal court today to protest Bible reading in public schools.

The suit, filed last month by the ACLU on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Snavely, receives a preliminary hearing before U.S. District Court Judge Frederick V. Follmer.

The Snavely's complaint was aimed at enjoining the Cornwall-Lebanon Suburban Joint School Board from following a practice of permissive Bible Reading in district schools.

It stemmed from the U. S. Supreme Court ruling which outlawed mandatory Bible reading in the public schools.

Following that order the Cornwall - Lebanon authorities permitted individual schools and teachers to decide whether to read the Bible prior to the class day.

However, just last week, it abandoned that policy and substituted in its place a 15-minute-a-day period for reading of the Bible as a "literary and historical" document.

Snavely, a 39-year-old father of four who earns $3,500 annually as a City of Lebanon employe, has been at the center of a local turmoil ever since his suit was filed.

Last week, he reported the life of his wife and one of his children had been threatened.

Earlier, he was arrested by local authorities on a two-year-old offense of failing to have his dogs licensed. He claimed his arrest resulted from his stand on Bible reading.

The incident became so explosive that the state made an investigation into the arrest. Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni said he would issue "a statement of judgement" shortly.

Peggy Lee and Hubby Postpone Honeymoon

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Friends of singer Peggy Lee and bandleader Jack Del Rio say the couple, wed Saturday, will not honeymoon until mid-April.

Miss Lee, 43, got a marriage license Friday when a clerk came to her Beverly Hills home, where she is recuperating from a respiratory ailment. Her marriage to the 39-year-old Del Rio took place there.

It is the second marriage for Del Rio, a native of Argentina, and the fourth for Miss Lee. Her previous husbands were actor Dewey Martin, actor Brad Dexter and composer Dave Barbour.

Check Blaze

Firemen checked a slight fire Sunday in the home of Leonard Thronburg, 48 Clinton Avenue. A unit from Wiltwyck Station answered a call at 2:16 p. m., and firemen found burning meat in an oven had considerable smoke in the house, which was ventilated.

Hurley's Branch Bank Is Open for Business in Area

The Hurley Branch of The Kerhonkson National Bank was open for business today following an "open house" which was held Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Kerhonkson Bank already has a branch in Stone Ridge.

In an effort to preserve the tradition and appearance of the Old Hurley Dutch type of building the new banking house located on Main Street, Hurley, on property formerly occupied by Mrs. Lyman Schoonmaker as a gift shop, has been built of stone in the same manner as the other old houses on the street. In fact the new bank building was erected from native stone taken from an old ruined stone house on the John L. Schoonmaker premises at Accord, and can take its place among the old houses as though it had always been there.

Albert E. Milliken of Kingston was architect for the new bank building.

The bank is provided with space for four teller windows and also has a walk-up and drive-up window.

Manager of the Hurley Branch of Kerhonkson National Bank is Vincent Mikalonis and other employes are Mrs. Rose Burger of Hurley and Mrs. Joan Custer of Stone Ridge.

A. J. Anderson of Kerhonkson is president of Kerhonkson National Bank. Directors are: Anderson, Vernon A. Barnhart, Maurice Davenport, Edward Davenport and Selah Terwilliger.

HandFromCorpse Used on Sailor

BOSTON (AP) — Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported today that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person has been performed in Guyaquil, Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had ost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guyaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the transplant unit of the famed Boston hospital for advice on the post operative treatment of the patient.

Drs. Wilson and Goldwyn said they believe this is the first homograft of a human limb in medical history.

They said that when they left Ecuador over the weekend the patient was coming along fine.

U Thant's Plan For Cyprus Are In Crucial State

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before debate Tuesday on the crisis.

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

The Greek Cypriots said they were preparing to repel threatened invasion from Turkey, 40 miles off the island's north coast.

Turkish Cypriots said they were getting ready to repel a Greek attack.

Claims Controls Net $450 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Beet Sugar Association estimates that the U.S. Treasury has made a net "profit" of more than $450 million on the government's sugar control program since 1937.

The program is designed to stabilize prices and supplies of sugar to the mutual advantage of domestic producers and consumers. It divided the U.S. market among domestic, offshore and foreign producing areas under a quota system.

The government collects a small excise tax of about a half a cent a pound on domestically produced as well as imported sugar. Some of the money obtained through this tax is paid to domestic producers of sugar beets and sugar cane who comply with minimum wage, child labor and other conditions of the program.

These payments are designed to supplement grower incomes from sale of their beets and cane.

Good Deed Returned; He Finds Lost Wallet

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) —A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in.

Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $430.

Bad Luck for Duck, Sprung From Icy Muck

NEW YORK (AP)—The duck was stuck.

Park department employes tried to free it from the ice of Central Park Lake Sunday.

They threw a ladder onto the ice, hoping to break it and dislodge the quacker. The ice stayed firm. So did the duck.

Then someone shoveled a boat out of ice and snow and rowed out, breaking the ice around the duck with an oar.

Unstuck came the duck.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We have 50 shares of Anaconda Copper and 100 Fedders, bought recently to improve our income. What are the growth possibilities of these two stocks? We are pensioners in our middle seventies." — M. W.

A) You seem like a very nice couple, and I would like to see you in stronger situations than those you now hold.

Anaconda's operations are mainly in Chile. Earning vary rather widely on tax action and labor conditions in that country. The dividend at present looks secure, but there is no growth here. I think you would be better off in Puerto Rican Cement, yielding nearly as much but operating in a far more favorable area.

Fedders yields 6.3 per cent, which casts some doubt on the security of the dividend. I think the present rate will continue, but you will be unlikely to see any growth. If you wish capital appreciation, I would switch to General Motors, yielding 5.1 per cent.

Q) "My father has been wanting to buy a certain stock but I've advised him not to because the shares aren't listed on the New York Stock Exchange. I want him to buy only issues which have been approved by the Exchange." — G. B.

A) It is very good of you to look after your father's interests. However, I think you are going to have to be careful that you don't lead the older gentleman astray.

It is definitely not the function of the Big Board to place a stamp of approval on stocks that enjoy a listing. The Exchange's job is to supply the best organized and widest possible market place for securities that meet minimum standards at the time of listing.

The Exchange requires adequate financial reports and tries to protect buyers against fraud or non-compliance with its rules. There is aboslutely no guarantee, however, that a stock is a sound investment just because it is listed.

5 of Po'keepsie Questioned in Baltimore Case

Three men and two women, all Poughkeepsie residents, were reportedly held by Baltimore, Md., county authorities Saturday, for questioning in connection with an attempted assault with intent to rob case.

The Associated Press reported the five persons were held in connection with an attempted holdup last Friday night of a service station at Bel Air, Md. Police said the five had stopped at the station and attempted to holdup the manager, but became panicky and fled in a car which bore New York registration plate, when the man resisted.

Police Chief John L. Martin, Poughkeepsie, said he planned to confer later today with Detective Sgt. James Murphy. He had no further comment on the details of the case.

Lieut. Edward Shanahan reportedly told a reporter Saturday night that at least two of the five persons detained, had been sought for questioning locally. The identity of the five men and women was not disclosed.

Buddhist Priest Is Severely Burned 23rd

HONOLULU (AP) — A 78-year-old Buddhist priest was burned severely on the lawn of the Koboji Shingo Mission Sunday.

The Rev. Kakuo Okimura, was in critical condition today with severe burns over 40 per cent of his body, from the waist down.

The priest told a church member that he was burned more than six hours before he was found on the lawn.

This was the only information police were able to obtain.

Magnesia, in ancient geography, was the name of two cities in Asia Minor, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

$60 million in U.S. military aid to India following the 1962 Chinese border attacks.

Regarded Chief Threat

Pakistan regards India as its chief threat, with the Kashmir dispute as the principal issue between them, and fears India will use the U.S. military aid against Pakistan.

With the communique, Pakistan served notice on Washington it will follow a more independent foreign policy and edge closer to Red China.

Chou repaid Ayub with support for a plebiscite in Kashmir, the chief Pakistani demand since the dispute erupted in 1947 with massive bloodshed. Moslem Pakistan assumes that Kashmir's predominantly Moslem populace would vote to break away from Hindu India.

Pakistani newspapers said Ayub agreed to support Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations in return for Chou's backing on Kashmir. Ayub told newsmen earlier that the United Nations was not representative of mankind as long as Red China remained outside its doors.

Occupants Uninjured When Cars Collide

Occupants of two cars escaped injury Saturday afternoon in a collision which occurred on DeWitt Lake Road, according to Kingston State Police.

Vincent Walker, 27, of Box 74, Lake Katrine, was driving south on the road and James Jackson, 26, of 60 Gill Street, city, was heading north when the crash occurred. Trooper John McMickle said a report of Trooper W. E. Wiedemann stated the Walker car skidded and continued on and hit a tree after the collision of the vehicles.

Drunken Driving Charged

McKinley Thomas, 27, of Poughkeepsie was arrested Sunday by state police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He posted a $200 bond pending arraignment tonight in a Town of Marlboro justice's court.

MISHAP ON ROUTE 9W—Trooper David Wachtel of Kingston state police questions Arthur Boughton, (right) 83 of 274 Yarmouth Street, following a two-car collision on Route 9W near Leggs Mills Bridge Road at Lake Katrine Sunday afternoon. Boughton was driving north in the two-door sedan at right and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGrath of Union City, N. J. with their daughter Tami, 4 were proceeding south, troopers said. The child, only one reporting injuries, was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Four-Year-Old Hurt in Crash At Lake Katrine

A 4-year-old New Jersey girl was injured at about 12:30 p. m. Sunday when a car driven by her father was in collision with another vehicle on Route 9W at Leggs Mills Bridge Road, Town of Ulster.

Kingston State Trooper David Wachtel, who investigated with Town Constable Norman Caunitz, reported the cars were operated by Arthur Boughton, 83, of 274 Yarmouth Street, city, and Robert McGrath, 33, of Union City, N. J.

McGrath's daughter, Tami, 4, suffered lacerations of the face and a bump on the head.

A Doctor's ambulance was dispatched to the scene. A spokesman said the injured girl became frightened and screamed as the ambulance stopped at the scene of the crash. The child's mother, Josephine, it was said, told the ambulance attendants she and her husband would take the girl in the family car to a hospital, and McGrath followed the ambulance to Kingston Hospital.

Boughton, troopers said, was driving north and McGrath was traveling south when the vehicles collided.

Mrs. Colvin Hurt In Collision on Saturday Here

One traffic mishap involving injury was reported to city police over the weekend.

Mary Colvin, 49, of 176 East Chester Street, reported a wrenched neck, headache and said she was shaken up in a two-car mishap on Clifton Avenue near Meade Street at 12:25 p. m. Saturday. She was treated by a doctor.

Mrs. Colvin rode in a sedan driven by her husband, Stanley H. Colvin, 59. The other car was driven by Joseph Policano, 40, of 17 Belvedere Street.

The accident was reported to Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz, who said Colvin reported having stopped in front of the property of Charles E. Brown & Son, florists, at 321 Clifton Avenue, and his wife was getting out of the car when the Policano car skidded into the Colvin car.

Rocky Home Until Feb. 26, Legislature Has Busy Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
THE GOVERNOR

Gov. Rockefeller returned to Albany Sunday night and planned to spend today and Tuesday at the capital and most of Wednesday at his New York City office.

On Thursday he will resume out-of-state campaigning in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination by flying to Vermont for a round of public appearances.

He will return to New Hampshire Friday for visits to 15 communities ending late Saturday afternoon.

Rockefeller scheduled meetings today with representatives of the State Federation of Republican Women, the State League of Women Voters and the State Council of Churches. He will entertain the judges of the State Court of Appeals at dinner in the executive mansion Tuesday.

THE LEGISLATURE

Both houses of the Legislature scheduled full working sessions through Wednesday, beginning with afternoon sessions today. Their calendars are full but with relatively minor legislation.

The major news from the Capitol this week probably will center on Rockefeller's budget. The Legislature's fiscal committees were expected to report to the Republican majority leaders today on their studies of the $2.92-billion spending plan. The leaders will call conferences of GOP senators and assemblymen to decide what changes are to be made.

The Legislature's Special Committee on Ethics brought its studies toward a close today with its final public hearing on proposals to tighten the code of ethics for state lawmakers.

The Moreland Commission's plan for revising liquor-licensing laws and policies will be aired Wednesday at a public hearing to be conducted by the Joint Legislative Committee on the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law and the Legislature's excise committees.

Deaths

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Lammont du Pont Jr., 54, a great-great grandson of the founder of the industrial giant the du Pont Co., died Saturday after a long illness. Du Pont Jr. was vice president of the Wilmington Trust Co., and was active in Delaware civic affairs.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Truman Wesley Collins, 61, one of Oregon's wealthiest businessmen, died Sunday of a heart attack. Collins, who had business interests in lumber, insurance and banking, was named Portland First Citizen of 1962 for his philanthropic activities in religion and education and his work in the community.

CROSSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Joseph Marshall Krechniak, 55, nationally known short story writer, died Sunday at his home in Ozone, Tenn. Krechniak under the name of "Joseph Marshall," wrote short stories for 25 years for several national magazines.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Harold Turnblad, 63, assistant managing editor of the Oakland Tribune and former bureau chief of The Associated Press in San Francisco, died Saturday. Turnblad, who had been ill several weeks with a brain tumor, joined the Tribune in 1959 after a 33-year career with The AP and a stint as editor of the San Mateo (Calif.) Times. He was born in Minneapolis.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Howard Owen Hunter, 68, former head of the federal Works Projects Administration (WPA) and retired president of the American Institute of Banking, died Saturday. Hunter, who was a career man in federal service for 18 years, served as head of the WPA from 1939 to 1943.

Reports Injuries in Fall

Local police were notified at 5:54 p. m. Sunday that Thomas Hayes, 60, of 66 Spruce Street, suffered a head injury in a fall on Stuyvesant Street. Officers Edward Ortlieb and Richard Spaulding investigated. Hayes was taken to the Benedictine Hospital in a Doctors' Ambulance for treatment and X-rays.

Dutchess Chiefs Oppose Central Fire Alarm Board

A proposed central board and alarm reception center considered for some 43 Roman Catholic schools, churches and institutions in Dutchess County, has been opposed by a Fire Chief's Council in that county, which considers it "not the safest plan."

Chief Lynn Horton of the Roosevelt Fire District, incumbent Council secretary, said Saturday night the group feels malfunctions could occur and cause a delay in alarms. He noted the Council urges that direct links be installed to the fire department responsible for the institutions.

The proposal originally planned for a central alarm center that upon receipt of a coded alarm signal at the center, the fire department in whose jurisdiction the alarm originated would be immediately alerted by existing radio and quick-call.

The Council's opposition was reported in letters to the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leonard J. Hunt, of the Catholic Church's New York Archdiocese, who is in charge of buildings in this area, and Dutchess County Fire Coordinator John Wood.

Wood noted that the central fire alarm board would have been installed in the Poughkeepsie Fire Alarm Station by a New Jersey firm, with the cost paid by the archdiocese.

Opposing the plan, the Council emphasized that its prime function is the saving of life and property.

The Council secretary said, "With this type of installation and the distance involved, there are several areas where malfunction could occur and therefore cause a delayed alarm at the local department." He also noted there is a possibility the alarm would not be received.

Horton pointed out that the Council requests that a device be installed in a manner that the alarm will be sounded in the fire district charged with the responsibility of protecting the building involved.

Save My Armadillo

RENO (AP) — The Norman Silver family's pet armadillo, a warm climate animal, is out in the cold. The armadillo usually snuggled up at night under an electric blanket in a dog house behind the Silver home. But the blanket apparently developed an electrical short one night and the house burned down. Firemen arrived in time to save the armadillo from harm.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

MISHAP ON ROUTE 9W—Trooper David Wachtel of Kingston state police questions Arthur Boughton, (right) 83 of 274 Yarmouth Street, following a two-car collision on Route 9W near Leggs Mills Bridge Road at Lake Katrine Sunday afternoon. Boughton was driving north in the two-door sedan at right and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGrath of Union City, N. J. with their daughter Tami, 4 were proceeding south, troopers said. The child, only one reporting injuries, was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Four-Year-Old Hurt in Crash At Lake Katrine

A 4-year-old New Jersey girl was injured at about 12:30 p. m. Sunday when a car driven by her father was in collision with another vehicle on Route 9W at Leggs Mills Bridge Road, Town of Ulster.

Kingston State Trooper David Wachtel, who investigated with Town Constable Norman Caunitz, reported the cars were operated by Arthur Boughton, 83, of 274 Yarmouth Street, city, and Robert McGrath, 33, of Union City, N. J.

McGrath's daughter, Tami, 4, suffered lacerations of the face and a bump on the head.

A Doctor's ambulance was dispatched to the scene. A spokesman said the injured girl became frightened and screamed as the ambulance stopped at the scene of the crash. The child's mother, Josephine, it was said, told the ambulance attendants she and her husband would take the girl in the family car to a hospital, and McGrath followed the ambulance to Kingston Hospital.

Boughton, troopers said, was driving north and McGrath was traveling south when the vehicles collided.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Mrs. Colvin Hurt In Collision on Saturday Here

One traffic mishap involving injury was reported to city police over the weekend.

Mary Colvin, 49, of 176 East Chester Street, reported a wrenched neck, headache and said she was shaken up in a two-car mishap on Clifton Avenue near Meade Street at 12:25 p. m. Saturday. She was treated by a doctor.

Mrs. Colvin rode in a sedan driven by her husband, Stanley H. Colvin, 59. The other car was driven by Joseph Policano, 40, of 17 Belvedere Street.

The accident was reported to Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz, who said Colvin reported having stopped in front of the property of Charles E. Brown & Son, florists, at 321 Clifton Avenue, and his wife was getting out of the car when the Policano car skidded into the Colvin car.

Rocky Home Until Feb. 26, Legislature Has Busy Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
THE GOVERNOR

Gov. Rockefeller returned to Albany Sunday night and planned to spend today and Tuesday at the capital and most of Wednesday at his New York City office.

On Thursday he will resume out-of-state campaigning in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination by flying to Vermont for a round of public appearances.

He will return to New Hampshire Friday for visits to 15 communities ending late Saturday afternoon.

Rockefeller scheduled meetings today with representatives of the State Federation of Republican Women, the State League of Women Voters and the State Council of Churches. He will entertain the judges of the State Court of Appeals at dinner in the executive mansion Tuesday.

THE LEGISLATURE

Both houses of the Legislature scheduled full working sessions through Wednesday, beginning with afternoon sessions today. Their calendars are full but with relatively minor legislation.

The major news from the Capitol this week probably will center on Rockefeller's budget. The Legislature's fiscal committees were expected to report to the Republican majority leaders today on their studies of the $2.92-billion spending plan. The leaders will call conferences of GOP senators and assemblymen to decide what changes are to be made.

The Legislature's Special Committee on Ethics brought its studies toward a close today with its final public hearing on proposals to tighten the code of ethics for state lawmakers.

The Moreland Commission's plan for revising liquor-licensing laws and policies will be aired Wednesday at a public hearing to be conducted by the Joint Legislative Committee on the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law and the Legislature's excise committees.

Dutchess Chiefs Oppose Central Fire Alarm Board

A proposed central board and alarm reception center considered for some 43 Roman Catholic schools, churches and institutions in Dutchess County, has been opposed by a Fire Chief's Council in that county, which considers it "not the safest plan."

Chief Lynn Horton of the Roosevelt Fire District, incumbent Council secretary, said Saturday night the group feels malfunctions could occur and cause a delay in alarms. He noted the Council urges that direct links be installed to the fire department responsible for the institutions.

The proposal originally planned for a central alarm center that upon receipt of a coded alarm signal at the center, the fire department in whose jurisdiction the alarm originated would be immediately alerted by existing radio and quick-call.

The Council's opposition was reported in letters to the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leonard J. Hunt, of the Catholic Church's New York Archdiocese, who is in charge of buildings in this area, and Dutchess County Fire Coordinator John Wood.

Wood noted that the central fire alarm board would have been installed in the Poughkeepsie Fire Alarm Station by a New Jersey firm, with the cost paid by the archdiocese.

Opposing the plan, the Council emphasized that its prime function is the saving of life and property.

The Council secretary said, "With this type of installation and the distance involved, there are several areas where malfunction could occur and therefore cause a delayed alarm at the local department." He also noted there is a possibility the alarm would not be received.

Horton pointed out that the Council requests that a device be installed in a manner that the alarm will be sounded in the fire district charged with the responsibility of protecting the building involved.

Save My Armadillo

RENO (AP) — The Norman Silver family's pet armadillo, a warm climate animal, is out in the cold. The armadillo usually snuggled up at night under an electric blanket in a dog house behind the Silver home. But the blanket apparently developed an electrical short one night and the house burned down. Firemen arrived in time to save the armadillo from harm.

Ethics Committee Winding Up its Studies Today

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's Special Committee on Ethics brought its studies toward a close today with a final public hearing on whether state lawmakers should be subject to a stricter code.

The roster of speakers at today's session (10 a.m., EST) in the Capitol included the chairman of the Assembly's Standing Committee on Ethics, three prominent law professors and a nephew of U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell, R-Montgomery County, who heads the regular ethics committee, and Eric Javits, a New York attorney, had requested permission to appear.

The special committee invited the law professors—Jefferson B. Fordham, dean of the University of Pennsylvania law school; Andrew V. Clements, dean of the Albany law school, and Howard Sacks of the Northwestern University law school.

The committee is to report to the Legislature by March 10.

Continue Search For 2 Teenagers In Local Robbery

Authorities throughout the area today continued search for two teenagers ,who reportedly entered a cottage on the Moriello Fruit Farm, Modena Road, Town of New Paltz, Friday night and robbed a farm worker of $750.

Senior Investigator Edward Shannon of Kingston state police BCI unit, said from descriptions given police by the two men who were in the cottage at the time of the armed robbery, the robbers are believed to be white youths in their early teens.

Ellsworth Williams, 56, an employe on the fruit farm, told investigators one of the robbers was armed with a rifle, when a wallet containing the money was taken from his pocket.

With Williams at the time of the holdup was Theodore Wood, 37, another farmhand.

Troopers said one of the pair was about five feet, 10 inches tall, slim, and wearing a dark jacket and dark trousers. The second youth was five feet, four inches tall, slender build, wearing a white sweat shirt and dark pants.

Both wore white masks.

World News In Brief

Won't Renew Program For Military Bases

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—Libya says it does not intend to renew agreements permitting the United States and Britain to retain military bases on its soil. The U.S. agreement runs through 1971 and the British until 1973.

The Libyan government issued its statement in reply to criticism from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Nasser called in a speech for an end to foreign bases like those in Libya. They include Wheelus Air Base, the last big American military installation in Africa, and British army and air force depots at Tripoli, Benghazi and El Adam.

Rebels With Spears Kill Two Teachers

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A band of 30 spear-carrying rebels killed two Belgian teachers in an attack on a Roman Catholic mission in the Congo's turbulent Kwilu province Sunday.

Since the revolt was launched by the Congo's former education minister, Communist - trained Pierre Mulele, six months ago, six whites and more than 120 Congolese have been killed.

In the attack at the Makunzika mission, 30 miles south of the provincial capital of Kikwit, the rebels also wounded two Canadian priests and a Belgian teacher with arrows and clubs.

The two teachers, Jacques Bollaerts, 25, and Robert Marechal, 24, were struck by arrows and then stabbed to death. The wounded men were not identified.

The incident was reported by 20 members of the mission who arrived in Leopoldville Sunday night. They were among the last white persons still in the rebel area.

Dissolves His Cabinet, Election Is April 12

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—President Leon Mba, unseated briefly last week by a military revolt, dissolved his cabinet Sunday night and again postponed election of a new national assembly until April 12.

Mba said government affairs will be handled by a group of technicians.

The elections, for which Mba's party has entered the only slate of candidates, were originally to have been held Sunday. After French troops put down the revolt, Mba rescheduled the voting for March 1.

Two Army Captains Wounded by A Mine

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Army captains were slightly wounded by booby traps Sunday in an operation in plantation country 30 miles north of Saigon.

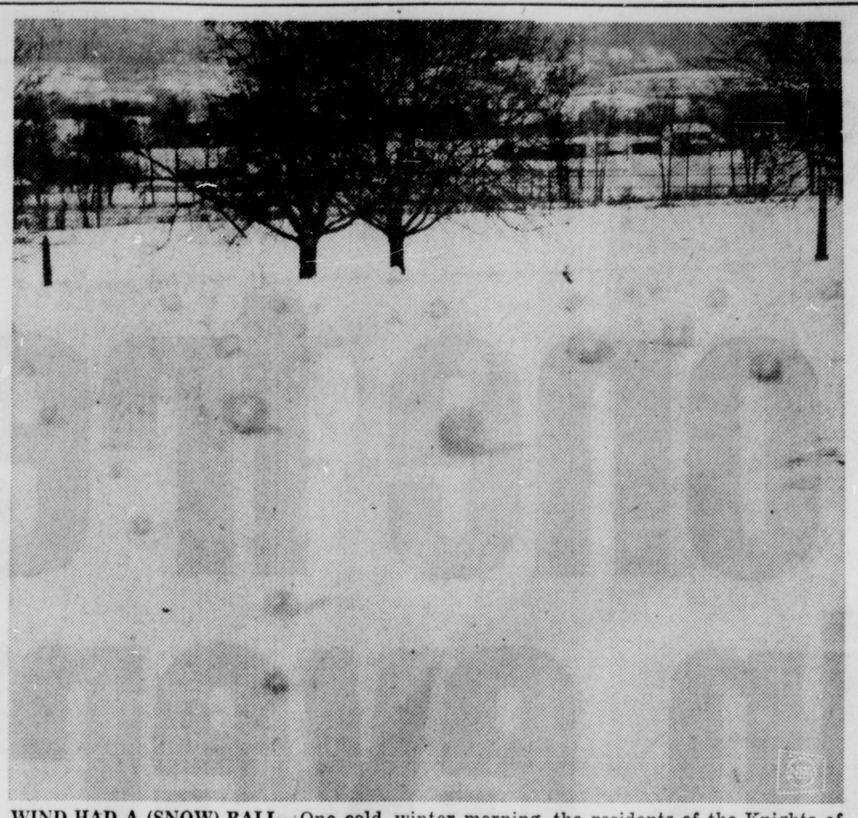
U.S. authorities said the two men were wounded by mine fragments and a spiked foot trap.

The mine killed a Vietnamese soldier.

Charge Motorist Failed to Keep Right

A 27-year-old Catskill motorist was cited for failing to keep to the right after his car was involved in a collision with another vehicle on Manorville Road, town of Saugerties on Sunday.

Trooper John McMickle reported Rodney Norman Purdy, of Catskill, was reportedly driving north on the road when his car entered the southbound lane and was in collision with a vehicle driven by Barbara Ann Riley, 27, of RD 3, Saugerties, who was going in the opposite direction. Trooper Robert Mackey of Kingston investigated and issued the summons to Purdy.



WIND HAD A (SNOW) BALL—One cold, winter morning, the residents of the Knights of Malta home near Lewistown, Pa., looked out their windows and saw strange things on their lawn. The "things" were doughnut-shaped puffs of snow, some as large as two feet in diameter. Presumably caused by playful winds, the odd-balls had never been seen before by the residents—and none are younger than 75 years old.

Library Lists New Volumes

In accordance with its purpose of bringing to the readers of Kingston and vicinity the best in reading, the Kingston City Library has added to its collection the following titles.

Creative America with text by such Americans as J. F. Kennedy, Robert Frost, Joseph Krutch Wood and others is an attempt to locate the sources of America's creative spirit. Starting with the sources of inspiration, it records the struggle of realizing the finished idea. A presentation of the National Cultural Center in Washington, this beautifully illustrated book is a joy to both mind and eye.

God's Own Junkyard: the planned deterioration of America's landscape by Peter Blake, an architect, is a book written in anger. The beauty of nature surrounding roads and suburbs is being cluttered up by used car lots, Levittowns of poorly made carbon copy houses and bigger and worse billboards. With an informed text and many illustrations, Mr. Blake builds a most convincing case.

Alan Moorehead who has written so well of the Nile, of Russian history and of Gallipoli has returned to his native land, Australia for the setting of his most recent book, Coopers Creek. This tells of the expedition to cross Australia from north to south across the ghastly blank on the map which might be filled with gold, rich lands or death. It held and still holds little but sand and death. Cooper's Creek is the true record of strong men battling against a primeval land inhabited by strange people and strange animals to conquer yet another frontier.

Hodding Carter, well known newspaper editor and authority on the American South has written one more in a new series on American History; The American Trail Series. Doomed Road of Empire, the Spanish Trail of Conquest is the story of the Camino Real, the royal road which reached up from Spanish Mexico into the Louisiana territory. A road for smugglers, outlaws, armies and missionaries the story of this trail is the story of the American southwest.

Other books of history include: Harman, Carter — The West Indies; Life world Library; Jabavu, Noni—The Ochre People deals with the Bantu peoples of South Africa who are held in subjugation by the government of the Union of South Africa; Marin, Lawrence—England; von Clausewitz, Carl — Principles of War. These rules for the successful conduct of war were proved correct by Germany in two world wars.

Biography includes Alexander, Lloyd, Fifty Years in the Dog House, the life of Special Agent number one of the SPCA; Brooks, Cleanth, William Faulkner, the Yoknapatawpha Country is both biography and a critical appraisal of his novels dealing with the South; Clancy, John G., Apostle for Our Time: Pope Paul VI; Sheean, Vincent, Dorothy and Red the lives of authors Dorothy Thompson and her second husband Sinclair Lewis as recounted by a mutual friend.

Also, Bixby, William, Skywatchers; Casriel, Daniel, So Fair a House: the Story of Synanon.

Fiction additions include, Cheever, John, The Wapshot Scandal, Davis, Christopher, Belmarch, a legend of the first Crusade. Levin, Meyer, The Fantastic. London, Jack, The Assassination Bureau, Ltd.

Railroads Going For Compromise On Full-Crew Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Railroads operating in New York State were on record today as favoring a compromise bill designed to gain more support for Gov. Rockefeller's plan to repeal the full-crew laws.

The railroads declared Sunday their approval of the proposal which was turned down last week by railroad unions, opponents of repeal.

The State Association of Railroads made public a letter to Rockefeller and leaders of the Legislature declaring its support for the compromise.

The association said that, if the plan became law, the 10 member railroads who have challenged the constitutionality of the full-crew laws, would abandon their court suit.

The full-crew laws, in force for more than 50 years, fix the minimum size of train crews.

Railroads assail the laws as vehicles for union "featherbedding." They contend the laws force them to retain more than 2,000 unnecessary employes at an annual cost of $17 million.

Unions assert that the laws and the employes are needed for safety reasons.

Plans Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Joaquin Balaguer, former president of the Dominican Republic, says he is planning a comeback.

Balaguer, who was forced into exile almost two years ago, spoke Sunday to more than 500 partisans at a New York hotel. He said he is head of the Reformista party.

Leprosy Clinic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Michigan doctor will set up a leprosy clinic near Livingston, Northern Rhodesia.

Dr. Joseph W. Christie, 59, Northport, Mich., left New York Sunday night on an airliner for Dublin. From there, he will go to Northern Rhodesia, after conferring with missionaries of the Capuchin order, who will help in setting up the clinic.

Christie, a widower with three grown children, had been chief of staff at a Northport hospital. Before coming to Michigan in 1929, he served at the leper colony in Carville, La.

Support Growing

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Support is growing among American Roman Catholics for a church decree absolving Jews for the death of Jesus Christ, says a Jewish leader.

Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, national director of the American Jewish Committe's department of interreligious affairs, made the statement Sunday at the annual meeting of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis.

The rabbi said the proposed decree was introduced during the last session of the Vatican but was not acted upon.

Anti-Rent War

In U. S. history, "anti-rent war" is the name given to the 19th century unrest and rioting in several counties of upstate New York, caused by dissatisfaction of leaseholding farmers over the patroon system, according to the Encyclopaedia Brittanica.

Continue Search For 2 Teenagers In Local Robbery

Authorities throughout the area today continued search for two teenagers ,who reportedly entered a cottage on the Moriello Fruit Farm, Modena Road, Town of New Paltz, Friday night and robbed a farm worker of $750.

Senior Investigator Edward Shannon of Kingston state police BCI unit, said from descriptions given police by the two men who were in the cottage at the time of the armed robbery, the robbers are believed to be white youths in their early teens.

Ellsworth Williams, 56, an employe on the fruit farm, told investigators one of the robbers was armed with a rifle, when a wallet containing the money was taken from his pocket.

With Williams at the time of the holdup was Theodore Wood, 37, another farmhand.

Troopers said one of the pair was about five feet, 10 inches tall, slim, and wearing a dark jacket and dark trousers. The second youth was five feet, four inches tall, slender build, wearing a white sweat shirt and dark pants.

Both wore white masks.

World News In Brief

Won't Renew Program For Military Bases

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—Libya says it does not intend to renew agreements permitting the United States and Britain to retain military bases on its soil. The U.S. agreement runs through 1971 and the British until 1973.

The Libyan government issued its statement in reply to criticism from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Nasser called in a speech for an end to foreign bases like those in Libya. They include Wheelus Air Base, the last big American military installation in Africa, and British army and air force depots at Tripoli, Benghazi and El Adam.

Rebels With Spears Kill Two Teachers

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A band of 30 spear-carrying rebels killed two Belgian teachers in an attack on a Roman Catholic mission in the Congo's turbulent Kwilu province Sunday.

Since the revolt was launched by the Congo's former education minister, Communist - trained Pierre Mulele, six months ago, six whites and more than 120 Congolese have been killed.

In the attack at the Makunzika mission, 30 miles south of the provincial capital of Kikwit, the rebels also wounded two Canadian priests and a Belgian teacher with arrows and clubs.

The two teachers, Jacques Bollaerts, 25, and Robert Marechal, 24, were struck by arrows and then stabbed to death. The wounded men were not identified.

The incident was reported by 20 members of the mission who arrived in Leopoldville Sunday night. They were among the last white persons still in the rebel area.

Dissolves His Cabinet, Election Is April 12

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—President Leon Mba, unseated briefly last week by a military revolt, dissolved his cabinet Sunday night and again postponed election of a new national assembly until April 12.

Mba said government affairs will be handled by a group of technicians.

The elections, for which Mba's party has entered the only slate of candidates, were originally to have been held Sunday. After French troops put down the revolt, Mba rescheduled the voting for March 1.

Two Army Captains Wounded by A Mine

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Army captains were slightly wounded by booby traps Sunday in an operation in plantation country 30 miles north of Saigon.

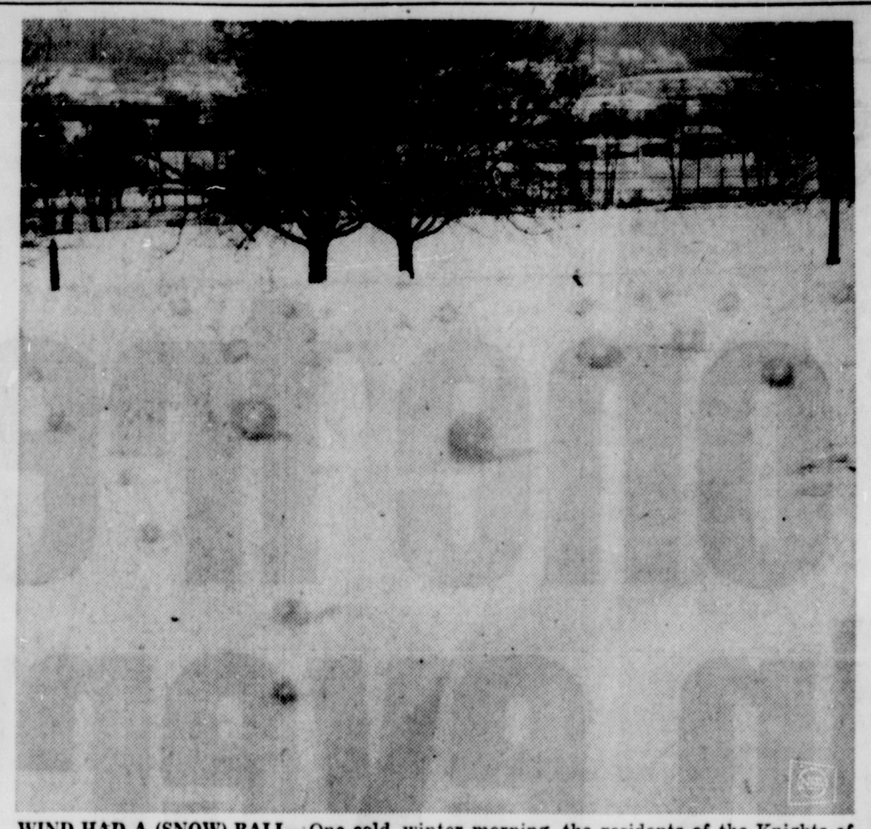
U.S. authorities said the two men were wounded by mine fragments and a spiked foot trap.

The mine killed a Vietnamese soldier.

Charge Motorist Failed to Keep Right

A 27-year-old Catskill motorist was cited for failing to keep to the right after his car was involved in a collision with another vehicle on Manorville Road, town of Saugerties on Sunday.

Trooper John McMickle reported Rodney Norman Purdy, of Catskill, was reportedly driving north on the road when his car entered the southbound lane and was in collision with a vehicle driven by Barbara Ann Riley, 27, of RD 3, Saugerties, who was going in the opposite direction. Trooper Robert Mackey of Kingston investigated and issued the summons to Purdy.



WIND HAD A (SNOW) BALL—One cold, winter morning, the residents of the Knights of Malta home near Lewistown, Pa., looked out their windows and saw strange things on their lawn. The "things" were doughnut-shaped puffs of snow, some as large as two feet in diameter. Presumably caused by playful winds, the odd-balls had never been seen before by the residents—and none are younger than 75 years old.

Library Lists New Volumes

In accordance with its purpose of bringing to the readers of Kingston and vicinity the best in reading, the Kingston City Library has added to its collection the following titles.

Creative America with text by such Americans as J. F. Kennedy, Robert Frost, Joseph Krutch Wood and others is an attempt to locate the sources of America's creative spirit. Starting with the sources of inspiration, it records the struggle of realizing the finished idea. A presentation of the National Cultural Center in Washington, this beautifully illustrated book is a joy to both mind and eye.

God's Own Junkyard: the planned deterioration of America's landscape by Peter Blake, an architect, is a book written in anger. The beauty of nature surrounding roads and suburbs is being cluttered up by used car lots, Levittowns of poorly made carbon copy houses and bigger and worse billboards. With an informed text and many illustrations, Mr. Blake builds a most convincing case.

Alan Moorehead who has written so well of the Nile, of Russian history and of Gallipoli has returned to his native land, Australia for the setting of his most recent book, Coopers Creek. This tells of the expedition to cross Australia from north to south across the ghastly blank on the map which might be filled with gold, rich lands or death. It held and still holds little but sand and death. Cooper's Creek is the true record of strong men battling against a primeval land inhabited by strange people and strange animals to conquer yet another frontier.

Hodding Carter, well known newspaper editor and authority on the American South has written one more in a new series on American History; The American Trail Series. Doomed Road of Empire, the Spanish Trail of Conquest is the story of the Camino Real, the royal road which reached up from Spanish Mexico into the Louisiana territory. A road for smugglers, outlaws, armies and missionaries the story of this trail is the story of the American southwest.

Other books of history include: Harman, Carter — The West Indies; Life world Library; Jabavu, Noni—The Ochre People deals with the Bantu peoples of South Africa who are held in subjugation by the government of the Union of South Africa; Marin, Lawrence—England; von Clausewitz, Carl — Principles of War. These rules for the successful conduct of war were proved correct by Germany in two world wars.

Biography includes Alexander, Lloyd, Fifty Years in the Dog House, the life of Special Agent number one of the SPCA; Brooks, Cleanth, William Faulkner, the Yoknapatawpha Country is both biography and a critical appraisal of his novels dealing with the South; Clancy, John G., Apostle for Our Time: Pope Paul VI; Sheean, Vincent, Dorothy and Red the lives of authors Dorothy Thompson and her second husband Sinclair Lewis as recounted by a mutual friend.

Also, Bixby, William, Skywatchers; Casriel, Daniel, So Fair a House: the Story of Synanon.

Fiction additions include, Cheever, John, The Wapshot Scandal, Davis, Christopher, Belmarch, a legend of the first Crusade, Levin, Meyer, The Fantastic. London, Jack, The Assassination Bureau, Ltd.

For shut-ins unable to come to the library, the Dial-a-Book facility is available.

Railroads Going For Compromise On Full-Crew Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Railroads operating in New York State were on record today as favoring a compromise bill designed to gain more support for Gov. Rockefeller's plan to repeal the full-crew laws.

The railroads declared Sunday their approval of the proposal which was turned down last week by railroad unions, opponents of repeal.

The State Association of Railroads made public a letter to Rockefeller and leaders of the Legislature declaring its support for the compromise.

The association said that, if the plan became law, the 10 member railroads who have challenged the constitutionality of the full-crew laws, would abandon their court suit.

The full-crew laws, in force for more than 50 years, fix the minimum size of train crews.

Railroads assail the laws as vehicles for union "featherbedding." They contend the laws force them to retain more than 2,000 unnecessary employes at an annual cost of $17 million.

Unions assert that the laws and the employes are needed for safety reasons.

Plans Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Joaquin Balaguer, former president of the Dominican Republic, says he is planning a comeback.

Balaguer, who was forced into exile almost two years ago, spoke Sunday to more than 500 partisans at a New York hotel. He said he is head of the Reformista party.

ARRESTED IN DOPE RING — Salvador Pardo-Bolland, 55, Mexican ambassador to Bolivia, enters Federal Court in New York late Feb. 21 after being arrested by Federal narcotics officers who smashed a $13.5 million international narcotics ring. (AP Wirephoto).

Leprosy Clinic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Michigan doctor will set up a leprosy clinic near Livingston, Northern Rhodesia.

Dr. Joseph W. Christie, 59, Northport, Mich., left New York Sunday night on an airliner for Dublin. From there, he will go to Northern Rhodesia, after conferring with missionaries of the Capuchin order, who will help in setting up the clinic.

Christie, a widower with three grown children, had been chief of staff at a Northport hospital. Before coming to Michigan in 1929, he served at the leper colony in Carville, La.

Support Growing

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Support is growing among American Roman Catholics for a church decree absolving Jews for the death of Jesus Christ, says a Jewish leader.

Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, national director of the American Jewish Committe's department of interreligious affairs, made the statement Sunday at the annual meeting of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis.

The rabbi said the proposed decree was introduced during the last session of the Vatican but was not acted upon.

Shufeldt Heads Bank Drive Again For Heart Fund

Alex B. Shufeldt of Kingston, for the second successive year, is serving as financial institution chairman for the 1964 Heart Fund Campaign, General Co-Chairman Roland A. Augustine announced today. "To have the services of such a responsible and community-minded man is indeed heart-warming," said Augustine, "especially in view of the great job which Alex did for us in last year's drive."

"Considerable headway has been made in heart research in recent years," continued Augustine, "but many millions are still needed to reach the ultimate goal: that of conquering heart disease. The banking industry has always laid special stress on the importance of a goal as the foundation of a sound financial program and, for this reason, is especially able to appreciate the purposes and aims of our Heart Fund Chapter's Financial Institution Committee."

Shufeldt, president and treasurer of the Universal Road Machinery Company of Kingston, explained that "few people realize what a large portion of funds collected by our local chapter remain in Ulster County, and even that part which is used for national research and study returns to local residents in the form of increased knowledge and medical aid. For example, Heart Films are scheduled for use in the Nursing Schools of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals, while films, pamphlets, and other materials are distributed, upon request, to teachers, nurses, students and interested individuals. In addition over 90 area physicians receive Heart Bulletin subscriptions. Other materials are especially prepared for the medical profession on request, or sent out to the Medical Advisory Board when released."

Cottekill

COTTEKILL — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePuy and daughter Theresa of Hopewell Junction spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePuy.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller and daughters Judy and Janet attended the wedding of his niece, Christine Herbstzuber to Richard Terry at St. Paul's Lutheran Church of the Bronx and the reception that followed at New York Turner's Club of the Bronx. The Millers spent the weekend visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herbstzuber. Mrs. Miller had the opportunity of meeting her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Erikson, Linda and Charles Erikson of Erie, Pa., after an absence of four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Osterhoudt spent last weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Perelli and daughter in East Northport, L. I. They returned home Thursday.

Joseph Lambo, who was a patient at Benedictine Hospital for sometime, returned home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Patmore of South Fallsburg called on Mrs. Mary Wilson Tuesday.

Fine and Compliment

GREENSBURG, Kan. (AP)—Kiowa County Judge Harry Paxton received in the mail an $11 payment for a speeding fine, accompanied by the following note:

"I am glad to plead guilty. Your roads are so straight, level and so well kept, I simply couldn't help speeding.

"Where I live, the roads are winding and so crooked that it just isn't safe to drive more than 60 miles an hour."

Beatles Buzz Home To Wild Welcome

LONDON (AP)—The Beatles flew home from their American triumph Saturday to a wild welcome from 5,000 shrieking, weeping teen-agers.

Ecstatic whoops went up as the four beaming performers marched down the steps of their jet.

Some Wait 24 Hours

Police battled to control wild-eyed fans, some of whom had waited at the airport for 24 hours.

Authorities herded the welcomers on to the roof of the Queen's Building for fear the regular observation deck might collapse.

Seven-foot high barriers, normally brought out for visiting heads of states, were put up around the approaches to the apron.

"Beatles, you have done Britain proud," proclaimed one of the hundreds of banners thrust up above the screeching throng.

Hundreds of fans who slept overnight in airport lounges — segregated by police into sexes —were unable to get on the roof when their big moment arrived.

For all their experience of mob welcomes, the four Beatles looked mesmerized.

Crowds Stagger Them

"We saw the crowds from the air," said drummer Ringo Starr. "We were staggered."

About 90 per cent of the welcomers were girls. Many had traveled hundreds of miles and slept overnight in airport lounges.

In addition to the mob swarming around the airport, hundreds more flocked along roads nearby, hoping to catch a glimpse of the quartet on their drive to town.

Newsmen asked the Beatles about America.

"Fabulous," they said. Guitarist George Harrison added: "We even enjoyed the work."

Starr and the other two guitarists, John Lennon and Paul McCartney, nodded agreement.

Police finally squeezed them into a car which roared away with an escort of police cars and a rearguard of galloping fans chanting "We love the Beatles."

NEW YORK (AP)—Eli Wallach has been awarded the annual citation of the American Jewish Congress for outstanding creative and dramatic contributions to American culture.

The veteran stage-screen star, last seen on Broadway in "Rhinoceros," has recently been at work in London on the film "Moonspinners."

BROWNIES PREPARE EXHIBIT—Brownies of Troop 59, St. James Methodist Church, make an American Flag as part of their exhibit on the United States to be shown at the Girl Scout 52nd Birthday Celebration March 14 at the Municipal Auditorium. Theme of the celebration is Scouting in Action Around the World. Mrs. Kenneth Dittus, leader, assists Brownies Elanna Sovaci, Patricia Ellsworth, Bonny Tirsch and Debby Schlatter in the project. Cadette Girl Scout Troop 4 under the direction of Mrs. John Rosebrook, leader, is cooperating in preparing the exhibit. (Freeman photo)

Girl Scouts Set 52nd Anniversary Fete on March 14

The Girl Scouts of Kingston District, Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. are planning an exposition of "Scouting In Action Around the World" in celebration of the 52nd Anniversary of the Girl Scouts of America, founded by Juliette Gordon Low at Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912.

The program will be held at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston on Saturday, March 14. There will be booths exhibiting Scout work from many countries in Europe, Asia and the Americas, also entertainment on stage, and the presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund Birthday Gift by the troops of the Kingston District, which includes Lake Katrine, Ruby, Hurley and Port Ewen and Esopus township.

All of the age levels of the new Girl Scout Program are taking part in the exposition. Prownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors, each group participating according to their abilities.

General chairman of the program is Mrs. John Coffey, assisted by Mrs. John Murdoch, entertainment; Mrs. John Schlegel, refreshments; Mrs. William Hawkins, booths and Mrs. Horace Brown, publicity.

The public may attend and join in the celebration of the Girl Scouts 52nd Birthday. There will be no charge for admission. Refreshments will be available.

Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts is a member agency of Community Chest in the Kingston Area.

Shufeldt Heads Bank Drive Again For Heart Fund

Alex B. Shufeldt of Kingston, for the second successive year, is serving as financial institution chairman for the 1964 Heart Fund Campaign, General Co-Chairman Roland A. Augustine announced today. "To have the services of such a responsible and community-minded man is indeed heart-warming," said Augustine, "especially in view of the great job which Alex did for us in last year's drive."

"Considerable headway has been made in heart research in recent years," continued Augustine, "but many millions are still needed to reach the ultimate goal: that of conquering heart disease. The banking industry has always laid special stress on the importance of a goal as the foundation of a sound financial program and, for this reason, is especially able to appreciate the purposes and aims of our Heart Fund Chapter's Financial Institution Committee."

Shufeldt, president and treasurer of the Universal Road Machinery Company of Kingston, explained that "few people realize what a large portion of funds collected by our local chapter remain in Ulster County, and even that part which is used for national research and study returns to local residents in the form of increased knowledge and medical aid. For example, Heart Films are scheduled for use in the Nursing Schools of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals, while films, pamphlets, and other materials are distributed, upon request, to teachers, nurses, students and interested individuals. In addition over 90 area physicians receive Heart Bulletin subscriptions. Other materials are especially prepared for the medical profession on request, or sent out to the Medical Advisory Board when released."

Cottekill

COTTEKILL — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePuy and daughter Theresa of Hopewell Junction spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePuy.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller and daughters Judy and Janet attended the wedding of his niece, Christine Herbstzuber to Richard Terry at St. Paul's Lutheran Church of the Bronx and the reception that followed at New York Turner's Club of the Bronx. The Millers spent the weekend visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herbstzuber. Mrs. Miller had the opportunity of meeting her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Erikson, Linda and Charles Erikson of Erie, Pa., after an absence of four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Osterhoudt spent last weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Perelli and daughter in East Northport, L. I. They returned home Thursday.

Joseph Lambo, who was a patient at Benedictine Hospital for sometime, returned home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Patmore of South Fallsburg called on Mrs. Mary Wilson Tuesday.

Fine and Compliment

GREENSBURG, Kan. (AP)—Kiowa County Judge Harry Paxton received in the mail an $11 payment for a speeding fine, accompanied by the following note:

"I am glad to plead guilty. Your roads are so straight, level and so well kept, I simply couldn't help speeding.

"Where I live, the roads are winding and so crooked that it just isn't safe to drive more than 60 miles an hour."

Beatles Buzz Home To Wild Welcome

LONDON (AP)—The Beatles flew home from their American triumph Saturday to a wild welcome from 5,000 shrieking, weeping teen-agers.

Ecstatic whoops went up as the four beaming performers marched down the steps of their jet.

Some Wait 24 Hours

Police battled to control wild-eyed fans, some of whom had waited at the airport for 24 hours.

Authorities herded the welcomers on to the roof of the Queen's Building for fear the regular observation deck might collapse.

Seven-foot high barriers, normally brought out for visiting heads of states, were put up around the approaches to the apron.

"Beatles, you have done Britain proud," proclaimed one of the hundreds of banners thrust up above the screeching throng.

Hundreds of fans who slept overnight in airport lounges — segregated by police into sexes —were unable to get on the roof when their big moment arrived.

For all their experience of mob welcomes, the four Beatles looked mesmerized.

Crowds Stagger Them

"We saw the crowds from the air," said drummer Ringo Starr. "We were staggered."

About 90 per cent of the welcomers were girls. Many had traveled hundreds of miles and slept overnight in airport lounges.

In addition to the mob swarming around the airport, hundreds more flocked along roads nearby, hoping to catch a glimpse of the quartet on their drive to town.

Newsmen asked the Beatles about America.

"Fabulous," they said. Guitarist George Harrison added: "We even enjoyed the work."

Starr and the other two guitarists, John Lennon and Paul McCartney, nodded agreement.

Police finally squeezed them into a car which roared away with an escort of police cars and a rearguard of galloping fans chanting "We love the Beatles."

Situation in Viet Nam Becomes More Puzzling

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground.

This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before:

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said: That even if the war does not go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Also last week Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards, too. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Then last Friday President Johnson said this country will continue to honor its commitment to South Viet Nam to help it fight communism.

Previously he had seemed to dismiss De Gaulle's neutralization idea but at another time he said he would look with sympathy on neutralization of all Viet Nam, North and South.

But Johnson added something else which was truly a puzzle.

Pointing to those "outside enemies" who direct "terror and violence" against South Viet Nam, he said they "could do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

But this is exactly the kind of aggression the North Vietnamese Reds have been using for years, except that recently they began assassinating Americans, too.

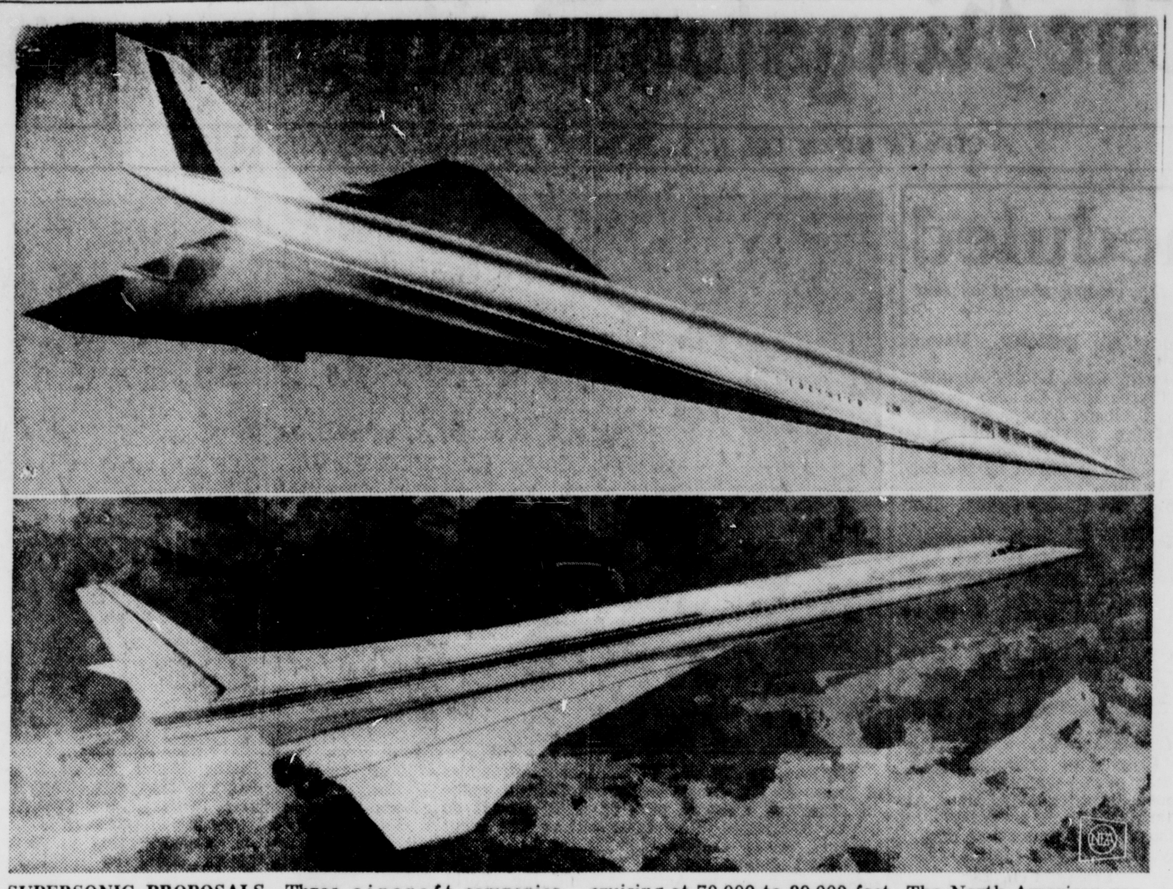
Was Johnson hinting at stepping up the war against North Viet Nam in some way, say through South Vietnamese guerrilla attacks on it? Or what? If the United States took part in a direct attack it might mean war with Red China.

Is Best Director

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Directors Guild of America says Tony ("Tom Jones") Richardson is 1963's best director.

The award was made Sunday at the director's annual dinners in Hollywood and New York, on the eve of the announcement of nominations for the 1963 Academy Awards.

The guild named George Schaefer as the best television director for his work on "Pygmalion."



SUPERSONIC PROPOSALS—Three aircraft companies have submitted initial design proposals to the Federal Aviation Agency for supersonic transport planes which will be able to reach speeds in excess of 1,800 m.p.h. Lockheed's double delta design (top photo), capable of carrying up to 218 passengers across the continent in two hours, permits cruising at 70,000 to 80,000 feet. The North American proposal (bottom photo) has a range of 4,010 statute miles and includes a modified delta planform wing with a span of 121 feet. The third, a Boeing transport, features a variable sweep arrow wing which can be moved in flight. All proposals will be studied by the FAA.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

ZANZIBAR: The United States has resumed diplomatic relations with Zanzibar after recognizing the island republic's new leftist government.

The State Department said two U.S. diplomats flew to Zanzibar Sunday after the United States, Great Britain and six British Commonwealth nations extended recognition to the regime of President Abeid Karume.

Karume seized power Jan. 12, ousting the sultanate that had governed the island since it received its independence from Britain in December.

MILLS-TAXES: The congressional architect of the $11.5-billion tax cut bill says additional reductions are possible "in the not too distant future" provided federal expenditures are curtailed.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee said Sunday that the bill — slated for final congressional approval this week—provides "a federal income tax much more in tune with our times."

"Indeed," Mills' statement continued, "preserving the gains for the economy and for federal finances which we can confidently expect from this bill may both permit and require additional tax reductions in the not too distant future."

GUANTANAMO: Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations, today called the Navy's base at Guantanamo, Cuba, "a very important base."

In a copyrighted interview in the magazine "U.S. News & World Report," Adm. McDonald said Guantanamo had value as a tactical base "as long as we can keep our antisub forces operating out of there against any submarines in the area."

He said any thought of the base eventually falling into Russian hands was "unacceptable" to the United States.

Testimony Is Due In Kidnaping of Two

MONROE, N.C. (AP)—Testimony was to begin today in the trial of four persons charged with kidnaping a white couple following the Aug. 27, 1961, Monroe race riot.

Selection of a jury was completed last week.

The defendants are charged with two counts of kidnaping, which could carry a life sentence. All pleaded innocent.

On trial are Mrs. Willie Mae Mallory, 37, Macon, Ga., and Brooklyn, N.Y.; Richard Crowder, and Harold Reape, both 22, Monroe; and John Lowry, 23, Flushing, N.Y., a white "Freedom Rider."

All are Negroes except Lowry.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruce Stegall of Marshville told police that armed Negroes stopped their car the night of the melee and held them captive four hours before releasing them unhamred.

Four Killed in Car Crash in New Jersey

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — An automobile went across three lanes of the Benjamin Franklin Bridge and collided with a Philadelphia-bound car carrying three persons Sunday. All four persons in the cars died.

Police said the driver of the first car, Gordon Martorano, 20, of Camden, may have fallen asleep at the wheel as he came downhill toward the toll booths on the New Jersey side of the eight-lane bridge that links Camden and Philadelphia.

In the Philadelphia-bound car were Craven L. Goodman Sr., 39, a tailor from Camden; his wife, Maxine, 33; and Mrs. Carmel F. Gardner, 33.

Realtors Favor County Sales Tax

The Ulster County Board of Realtors at its February meeting Thursday evening at Governor Clinton Hotel discussed the increasing tax on real estate and the fact that a county-wide sales tax would lighten the burden of the taxpayer, went on record as favoring a county-wide sales tax.

Manley L. Behrens, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc., attended the meeting and spoke in regard to the New York State Association's Blue List Directory for 1964. It will be redesigned to sell for the realtors. The format will be changed considerably to improve its usefulness to those who receive it and the circulation will be increased. In addition to being mailed to realtors throughout the state, it will be distributed to chain stores, industries, banks, Savings and Loan Associations, public utilities and other organizations having need for professional real estate services in the state.

Behrens urged members to get in contact with their Blue List Directory chairman, Raymond Korzendorfer, and sign up for an advertisement. The local board pledged to purchase 2,500 copies for distribution.

Educational Conference

The board voted to have the Lower Hudson Regional Educational Conference in Kingston on April 30 at the Governor Clinton Hotel and President Dewey Logan appointed Mrs. Adele Royael chairman. At a meeting to be held this week, Mrs. Royael will appoint committees and arrange for the conference.

Raymond Korzendorfer, regional vice president of the Lower Hudson Valley Region, will be advisory chairman for the conference committee.

John Robert White, chairman of the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers membership committee, asked the board to concentrate on an effort to increase membership. President Logan appointed Mrs. Adele Royael chairman of the committee. Aplications may be obtained from Mrs. Royael.

The Appraisal Society will hold its annual Metropolitan Conference at the Commodore Hotel, New York, on March 13, when it is hoped the local board can report a 10 per cent increase in membership.

A resolution on Mutiple Listing Service, read and presented at the January meeting for discussion and for vote at the February meeting, was approved and voted. Each member will receive information on the Multiple Listing Service. All members of the Multiple Listing Service are required to act in accordance with the realtors code of ethics and the rules and regulations of the Ulster County Board of Realtors.

Mrs. Bertha Gally, chairman of the Brokers Institute, urged realtors to join. She will supply further information.

New Members

Mary Scafidi was welcomed as a new member. Other new members unable to attend are Mrs. Florence Matteson of Woodstock and Rodney Hommel of Saugerties.

A film "What You Should Know When Buying a Home," was shown after the meeting by William Paulus of the First Federal Savings and Loan. Arrangements for the film were made by Mrs. Lee Madden of the Educational Committee.

Peter Welder, chairman of the Educational Committee, announced the next salesman meeting world be March 5, at 7:30 p. m. at Governor Clinton Hotel. DeWeese DeWitt of the First Federal Savings and Loan will talk on mortgage lending. Salesmen of realtors are invited and a question and answer period will follow the talk. President Logan urged realtors to make a special effort to have salesmen present. Realtors are also welcome at the session.

Presidential Inability

John Dickenson, of Delaware, first raised the question of a president's inability to discharge his duties at thhe Philadelphia Constitutional Convention in 1787, but it was a hot summer and the delegates went home, leaving the ambiguity to stand.

Realtors Favor County Sales Tax

The Ulster County Board of Realtors at its February meeting Thursday evening at Governor Clinton Hotel discussed the increasing tax on real estate and the fact that a county-wide sales tax would lighten the burden of the taxpayer, went on record as favoring a county-wide sales tax.

Manley L. Behrens, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc., attended the meeting and spoke in regard to the New York State Association's Blue List Directory for 1964. It will be redesigned to sell for the realtors. The format will be changed considerably to improve its usefulness to those who receive it and the circulation will be increased. In addition to being mailed to realtors throughout the state, it will be distributed to chain stores, industries, banks, Savings and Loan Associations, public utilities and other organizations having need for professional real estate services in the state.

Behrens urged members to get in contact with their Blue List Directory chairman, Raymond Korzendorfer, and sign up for an advertisement. The local board pledged to purchase 2,500 copies for distribution.

Educational Conference

The board voted to have the Lower Hudson Regional Educational Conference in Kingston on April 30 at the Governor Clinton Hotel and President Dewey Logan appointed Mrs. Adele Royael chairman. At a meeting to be held this week, Mrs. Royael will appoint committees and arrange for the conference.

Raymond Korzendorfer, regional vice president of the Lower Hudson Valley Region, will be advisory chairman for the conference committee.

John Robert White, chairman of the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers membership committee, asked the board to concentrate on an effort to increase membership. President Logan appointed Mrs. Adele Royael chairman of the committee. Aplications may be obtained from Mrs. Royael.

The Appraisal Society will hold its annual Metropolitan Conference at the Commodore Hotel, New York, on March 13, when it is hoped the local board can report a 10 per cent increase in membership.

A resolution on Mutiple Listing Service, read and presented at the January meeting for discussion and for vote at the February meeting, was approved and voted. Each member will receive information on the Multiple Listing Service. All members of the Multiple Listing Service are required to act in accordance with the realtors code of ethics and the rules and regulations of the Ulster County Board of Realtors.

Mrs. Bertha Gally, chairman of the Brokers Institute, urged realtors to join. She will supply further information.

New Members

Mary Scafidi was welcomed as a new member. Other new members unable to attend are Mrs. Florence Matteson of Woodstock and Rodney Hommel of Saugerties.

A film "What You Should Know When Buying a Home," was shown after the meeting by William Paulus of the First Federal Savings and Loan. Arrangements for the film were made by Mrs. Lee Madden of the Educational Committee.

Peter Welder, chairman of the Educational Committee, announced the next salesman meeting world be March 5, at 7:30 p. m. at Governor Clinton Hotel.

DeWeese DeWitt of the First Federal Savings and Loan will talk on mortgage lending. Salesmen of realtors are invited and a question and answer period will follow the talk. President Logan urged realtors to make a special effort to have salesmen present. Realtors are also welcome at the session.

Presidential Inability

John Dickenson, of Delaware, first raised the question of a president's inability to discharge his duties at thhe Philadelphia Constitutional Convention in 1787, but it was a hot summer and the delegates went home, leaving the ambiguity to stand.

French Necklines Daringly Low-Cut; Hemlines Unaltered

PARIS (AP)—Oo-la-la, those Paris fashion necklines!

That was the comment buzzing through haute couture circles today as famous fashion houses released photographs of the spring and summer modes they displayed for buyers and fashion writers in showings that ended three weeks ago.

The hemlines remained about the same—generally covering the knees. But the necklines ... well—

Necklines varied from a sexy, low-cut daring depth to scooped-out fronts.

Suit necklines and blouses are built up, with suits featuring white linen collars and cuffs and blouses with large pussy cat or butterfly bows to short narrow ascots, worn off center.

If hemlines are at a status quo, interest is lent by pleating, multiple, sunray, fan, accordian, or shutter. Kerchief points appear on dressy sheer fabrics, scallops and flying pleated panels on daytime shirts and dresses.

Focus is on the waistline, which tends to drop to the hips martingale or bows, or a fool-the-eye pointed yoke.

Focus, too, is on shoulders. They are arched, sometimes built out or slightly puffed.

Every designer is talking about shape achieved through skilled cut and intricate seaming.

Suits look younger with their pleated skirts and cut, which fits the body closer.

PREPARING FOR KHS WINTER CARNIVAL—This committee from the Student Council is preparing for the annual Winter Carnival of Kingston High School scheduled Saturday, Feb. 29 at the Kate Walton Field House, offering afternoon and night features prepared by 30 school clubs. Patronage of the public is invited, especially residents of the Kingston Consolidated School District. The two clowns are Scott Sharot and Paul Kreppel; second row, Philip Kelly, carnival chairman; Kathy Peterson, Joyce Marola and John Sexton; third row, Martha Nickerson, George Phillip, Sue Barton and Joseph Esposito. (Freeman photo).

30 KHS Student Clubs Will Hold Carnival Feb. 29

This year's Winter Carnival of Kingston High School is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 29, at the Kate Walton Field House, featuring afternoon and night attractions.

Thirty clubs of the school will offer a variety of entertainment attractions, according to Philip Kelly, a senior, who is chairman of the carnival. Fran Morello is co-chairman.

"We are proudly presenting a program that all committee chairmen hope will be well patronized by the public, especially people living in the Kingston Consolidated School District," he said.

Miss Morello said she hoped that pupils from all of the schools, from kindergarten through the various grades will attend, "because there will be lots of fun for them."

Chairman Kelly said the afternoon program will start at 1:30 and last until 5 o'clock. The night program is from 7:30 to 11 o'clock.

On the afternoon program are games, movies and a puppet show that should delight the younger patrons. A bicycle is being offered as a special award.

At night there will be games, a Sadie Hawkin's Day Race, a Hootenany of folksongs by several groups; the MJP Balladeers—Marc Johnson, Paul Kreppel and Jeanine McCullough; also the KC Rovers—Joseph Kearney, Barbara Maynard, Peter Tongue and Robert Fertel.

As a special musical attraction for the evening, Chairman Kelly said, "we have engaged The Thunderbirds, one of the most popular combos of instrumentalists in the area.

Committee chairmen for the Carnival are:

Proceeds of the carnival will go for scholarships, student educational trips and equipment used for educational programs of the clubs.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Child Is Not Mom's Rival

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Though my husband is kind enough to me and our two boys, all his real attention is for our girl, 7. The minute he gets in, it's "Where's my beautiful?" Every evening she has to sit on his lap to look at television. He winks at her at the table; constantly hugs and kisses her. After we have gone to bed, he will get up to go see how she is and I can hear him kissing her again. God help me, I am jealous of my child. . . .

ANSWER: Do you think that your husband feels any genuine love for her?

If so, we'd better use it to warn him that such extravagant attention to his daughter at the cost of attention to his wife endangers the daughter's life as a woman.

We'd better tell him that he is defining wifehood for his little girl as a neglected and undesirable state.

Every time he bypasses your appeal to over-elaborate on his little girl's, her respect for the sexual love of man and wife is diminished. Daughterhood is made into the supremely desirable form of relationship to man. Every time he disparages his wife's femininity to flatter his daughter's he is saying to her, "To be a man's daughter is a most delightful state but to be his wife is to be taken for granted, unappreciated, ignored." That is a cruel lie.

If your husband can rally any genuine affection for this credulous and trusting little girl of his, he will stop telling that lie to her. By transferring his attention to you, he will try to repair the damage he has done and establish a man's relationship to his wife as the most desirable one little girls can hope for.

If he cannot do this, he should consult a psychiatrist. Otherwise, he is going to be punished. The time will come when this child turns on him. Bitterness and hate will begin to manifest themselves as she begins to mature and adolescence urges her toward males other than daddy, toward sexual love, marriage and the bearing of children. Unable to move in confident joy toward the wifehood her father has so belittled for her, she'll make him pay through the nose for crippling her abliity to live as a woman.

I am sorry that you can feel only "jealousy" for this imperiled little girl of yours. She is not your triumphant rival for your husband's love. She is an exploited and helpless little girl.

Good Taste Today

RELATIVES CALL; SHE GOES TO MOVIE

Q: Yesterday, my brother and his wife visited us. They usually come every other week or so. I am unmarried and live at home with my parents. While they were here, a friend called and asked me if I would like to go to the movies with her. I said "Yes" and went out later in the day. My mother made quite a to-do and said I was very discourteous to go out while they were here. Inasmuch as they came primarily to see my parents and I did spend some time with them, was I wrong to have gone out?

A: Under the circumstances you describe, I see nothing wrong in your having gone out. It would, however, have been more polite if you had asked them if they minded your going to the movies with your friend.

Diamonds in the Daytime

Is it in good taste to wear diamonds in the daytime? I have been told that diamonds, except a diamond ring, are properly worn in the evening.

A: Diamonds are worn in the daytime. One does not, of course, wear them on the street or to do marketing, but they may be worn when dressed for a lunch party, an afternoon reception or at a wedding. A conspicuous display of diamonds is never in best taste at any time.

Greeting Visitors In Business Office

Q: I am a man in the late 30s and have just been given an executive position. Should I rise from my desk to greet other businessmen who come to my office to see me? Do I shake hands with them?

A: Yes, to both questions.

French Necklines Daringly Low-Cut; Hemlines Unaltered

PARIS (AP)—Oo-la-la, those Paris fashion necklines!

That was the comment buzzing through haute couture circles today as famous fashion houses released photographs of the spring and summer modes they displayed for buyers and fashion writers in showings that ended three weeks ago.

The hemlines remained about the same—generally covering the knees. But the necklines . . . well—

Necklines varied from a sexy, low-cut daring depth to scooped-out fronts.

Suit necklines and blouses are built up, with suits featuring white linen collars and cuffs and blouses with large pussy cat or butterfly bows to short narrow ascots, worn off center.

If hemlines are at a status quo, interest is lent by pleating, multiple, sunray, fan, accordian, or shutter. Kerchief points appear on dressy sheer fabrics, scallops and flying pleated panels on daytime shirts and dresses.

Focus is on the waistline, which tends to drop to the hips martingale or bows, or a fool-the-eye pointed yoke.

Focus, too, is on shoulders. They are arched, sometimes built out or slightly puffed.

Every designer is talking about shape achieved through skilled cut and intricate seaming.

Suits look younger with their pleated skirts and cut, which fits the body closer.

PREPARING FOR KHS WINTER CARNIVAL—This committee from the Student Council is preparing for the annual Winter Carnival of Kingston High School scheduled Saturday, Feb. 29 at the Kate Walton Field House, offering afternoon and night features prepared by 30 school clubs. Patronage of the public is invited, especially residents of the Kingston Consolidated School District. The two clowns are Scott Sharot and Paul Kreppel; second row, Philip Kelly, carnival chairman; Kathy Peterson, Joyce Marola and John Sexton; third row, Martha Nickerson, George Phillip, Sue Barton and Joseph Esposito. (Freeman photo).

30 KHS Student Clubs Will Hold Carnival Feb. 29

This year's Winter Carnival of Kingston High School is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 29, at the Kate Walton Field House, featuring afternoon and night attractions.

Thirty clubs of the school will offer a variety of entertainment attractions, according to Philip Kelly, a senior, who is chairman of the carnival. Fran Morello is co-chairman.

"We are proudly presenting a program that all committee chairmen hope will be well patronized by the public, especially people living in the Kingston Consolidated School District," he said.

Miss Morello said she hoped that pupils from all of the schools, from kindergarten through the various grades will attend, "because there will be lots of fun for them."

Chairman Kelly said the afternoon program will start at 1:30 and last until 5 o'clock. The night program is from 7:30 to 11 o'clock.

On the afternoon program are games, movies and a puppet show that should delight the younger patrons. A bicycle is being offered as a special award.

At night there will be games, a Sadie Hawkin's Day Race, a Hootenany of folksongs by several groups; the MJP Balladeers —Marc Johnson, Paul Kreppel and Jeanine McCullough; also the KC Rovers—Joseph Kearney, Barbara Maynard, Peter Tongue and Robert Fertel.

As a special musical attraction for the evening, Chairman Kelly said, "we have engaged The Thunderbirds, one of the most popular combos of instrumentalists in the area.

Committee chairmen for the Carnival are:

Proceeds of the carnival will go for scholarships, student educational trips and equipment used for educational programs of the clubs.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Child Is Not Mom's Rival

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Though my husband is kind enough to me and our two boys, all his real attention is for our girl, 7. The minute he gets in, it's "Where's my beautiful?" Every evening she has to sit on his lap to look at television. He winks at her at the table; constantly hugs and kisses her. After we have gone to bed, he will get up to go see how she is and I can hear him kissing her again. God help me, I am jealous of my child. . . .

ANSWER: Do you think that your husband feels any genuine love for her?

If so, we'd better use it to warn him that such extravagant attention to his daughter at the cost of attention to his wife endangers the daughter's life as a woman.

We'd better tell him that he is defining wifehood for his little girl as a neglected and undesirable state.

Every time he bypasses your appeal to over-elaborate on his little girl's, her respect for the sexual love of man and wife is diminished. Daughterhood is made into the supremely desirable form of relationship to man. Every time he disparages his wife's femininity to flatter his daughter's he is saying to her, "To be a man's daughter is a most delightful state but to be his wife is to be taken for granted, unappreciated, ignored." That is a cruel lie.

If your husband can rally any genuine affection for this credulous and trusting little girl of his, he will stop telling that lie to her. By transferring his attention to you, he will try to repair the damage he has done and establish a man's relationship to his wife as the most desirable one little girls can hope for.

If he cannot do this, he should consult a psychiatrist. Otherwise, he is going to be punished. The time will come when this child turns on him. Bitterness and hate will begin to manifest themselves as she begins to mature and adolescence urges her toward males other than daddy, toward sexual love, marriage and the bearing of children. Unable to move in confident joy toward the wifehood her father has so belittled for her, she'll make him pay through the nose for crippling her ability to live as a woman.

I am sorry that you can feel only "jealousy" for this imperiled little girl of yours. She is not your triumphant rival for your husband's love. She is an exploited and helpless little girl.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and Etiquette," etc.

RELATIVES CALL; SHE GOES TO MOVIE

Q: Yesterday, my brother and his wife visited us. They usually come every other week or so. I am unmarried and live at home with my parents. While they were here, a friend called and asked me if I would like to go to the movies with her. I said "Yes" and went out later in the day. My mother made quite a to-do and said I was very discourteous to go out while they were here. Inasmuch as they came primarily to see my parents and I did spend some time with them, was I wrong to have gone out?

A: Under the circumstances you describe, I see nothing wrong in your having gone out. It would, however, have been more polite if you had asked them if they minded your going to the movies with your friend.

Diamonds in the Daytime

Is it in good taste to wear diamonds in the daytime? I have been told that diamonds, except a diamond ring, are properly worn in the evening.

A: Diamonds are worn in the daytime. One does not, of course, wear them on the street or to do marketing, but they may be worn when dressed for a lunch party, an afternoon reception or at a wedding. A conspicuous display of diamonds is never in best taste at any time.

Greeting Visitors in Business Office

Q: I am a man in the late 30s and have just been given an executive position. Should I rise from my desk to greet other businessmen who come to my office to see me? Do I shake hands with them?

A: Yes, to both questions.

Bent-Over Friend

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Construction company owner Harold Irvin checked in at the office late one Saturday afternoon. He found a man crouched under a desk. Asked Irvin: "What are you doing down there" Replied the man: "Oh, just waiting for a friend." He was booked on suspicion of first degree burglary.

Report Tests Show Oklahomans Are Adjusting to Jets

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City woman says her furniture is shrinking.

Another person chides: "You think you're driving us nuts with those booms? Well, we're gonna drive you crazy with calls."

An average of 30 telephone calls, frequently along these lines, has jammed a special switchboard within minutes after a faster-than-sound Air Force jet plane breaks the sound barrier.

Sonic booms from F104 jets split the center of Oklahoma City eight times a day for one purpose: to determine public reaction to the sudden bursts.

The tests began Feb. 3 and apparently most of the affected 750,000 Oklahoma City and surrounding area residents seem to be adjusting rapidly to the joint Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force project.

"There's a definite decrease in the number of telephone calls we're getting now," an FAA official said recently about the reaction on the scheduled 26 - week test.

Oklahoma City, home of the FAA's aeronautical center, is the first heavily populated area to become a testing laboratory to determine if public operations might restrict or stop future use of commercial jet cargo planes.

Four homes, all less than 10 years old, also are equipped by the FAA with highly sensitive devices which measure the stresses created by sonic booms on the structures.

"We've found that effects of the sonic booms on them are no greater than from a thunderclap—and a distant one at that," said J.K. Power, coordinator of the FAA program.

A woman called to say thanks for the booms. Since they started, she told the FAA, "My television reception is much better." What she didn't realize was that the TV station to which she referred had just switched over to a bigger transmitting antenna closer to the city.

MISS AMELIA D. NAREL

Exchange Student Slated to Speak Before P-TA Group Tuesday

Sener Ozer, from Konya, Turkey, Onteora's first student under the American Field Service program, will speak at the regular meeting of the West Hurley P-TA Tuesday at 8 p. m. Mrs. Ruth Clair, West Hurley School's world traveler, will talk with Sener about his country. Sener will also play the mandolin and show pictures of his town.

SENER OZER

Sener is 18 years old and plans to become an engineer. He is a Moslem and has just finished a month of fasting for Ramazan. He has spoken before several area groups.

Mrs. Clair has visited the Central School to talk with Sener and last week Sener visited West Hurley to discuss the program with Mrs. Clair and Mrs. Jody Collins, P-TA president.

There will be a short business meeting before the program. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

All persons are cordially invited to attend.

Sixth Annual Science Fair Slated for Judges for West Hurley Announced

Final plans have been made for the Sixth Annual Science Fair to be held Saturday, March 7th from 9:30 a. m. until 12:00 noon at the West Hurley School. The judges will meet on March 6. Students and the public are invited on the following day for the explanation of projects and final judging.

Exhibits will be judged on the following criteria — 1. creative ability, 2. scientific thought, 3. thoroughness, 4. skill, 5. clarity, 6. dramatic value.

Judging the Fair are the following: Mrs. Hilda Brett, therapeutic dietician at the Benedictine Hospital; Mrs. Edith Lessor, Ph.D., an instructor of chemistry at the Ulster County Community College; Carl Brown, a science teacher at Onteora Central Schools; Sherman Masten, dean of the Ulster Community College; Leonard Cozza, Senior Associate Engineer at I.B.M.; Fred Fogg, mathematical physicist at I.B.M. and George Holzman, Ph.D., employed at I.B.M. in Kingston.

Winners of first prize in the fourth, fifth, and six grade will enter their exhibits at the Mid-Hudson Study Council's Science and Mathematics fair at New Paltz to be held at a later date. The West Hurley PT-A will donate prizes for the winning projects.

Miss Carolyn Schrier, the elementary science coordinator, is working hard to make this fair a success.

West Hurley Library

Children in the West Hurley area are reminded that Patricia Jacobson, a noted authority on the subject of horses, will give a special program in the West Hurley Library on March 7. The program is sponsored by the Junior League of Kingston.

The Town of Hurley Democratic Committee has announced it will sponsor a dinner on Saturday night at The Capri.

Detailed information may be obtained from Daniel Fochi of West Hurley.

Fire Co. Auxiliary Elects Officers

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the West Hurley Fire Department met on Monday, Feb. 10 at the West Hurley firehouse for a regular monthly meeting.

Taking office were the new officers: Mrs. Alton Boyce, president; Mrs. Clarence Ostrander Jr., vice president; Mrs. Edna N. Cole, secretary; Mrs. Millard Rowe, treasurer.

Tentative plans were made for a St. Patrick's Day dance to be held in the firehouse on March 14. In charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Alton Boyce, Mrs. Kenneth Croft, Mrs. Allen Rowe and Mrs. Clarence Ostrander Jr.

A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen Rowe and Mrs. Millard Rowe.

International Preserve

All nations with claims to Antarctic territory signed a treaty on Dec. 1, 1959, declaring thhe area south of 60 degrees south latitude as an international preserve for scientific research, so scientists can move freely over the south polar continent without regard to boundaries.

On January 21, the Glenford Ladies' Auxiliary joined with the West Hurley Auxiliary to serve refreshments to 125 members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association who met at the West Hurley firehouse.

Boy, 14, Trapped In Fiery Trailer

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy, apparently trapped in a flaming house trailer, perished today despite desperate efforts by his parents to rescue him.

Dead is Jon Denkos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Denkos who were not injured.

Both parents tried to reenter the trailer to rescue their son but the heat was too intense, police said.

The fire was reported at 1:15 a.m. at Benny's Trailer Park. The trailer was gutted. No cause of the fire or estimate of damage was available.

ERLING J. HANSON

The promotion of Erling J. Hanson Town of Saugerties to estimator in the laboratory estimating department has been announced by Maurice A. Every, IBM Data Systems Division laboratory manager at Kingston.

A graduate of Saugerties High School, he is the son of Mrs. Jennie Hanson of Market Street, Saugerties.

Hanson joined IBM in February, 1962, as a cost engineer in proposal cost engineering at Kingston. He transferred to the 1962 in a similar position, one that he has held until his present promotion.

He is a member of the American Society of Tool and Mechanical Engineers.

Hanson and his wife Laura reside at Saxton.

W. Camp Church Welcomes Six To Congregation

Six new members joined the fellowship of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp during the 11 a. m. Sunday worship service.

All were welcomed by the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, pastor, through letters of transfer from other Lutheran churches.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Olsen of Saugerties, from Lutheran Church of Incarnation, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Flori Gomes of West Saugerties, from Good Shepherd Lutheran Church Laurelton, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oehler of West Camp, from St. John's Lutheran Church, Passaic, N. J.

The anthem was presented by the junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Roy J. Potts, organist-choir director. David Lewis served as acolyte.

Council of Camp Fire Girls Marks 50th Anniversary

More than 150 attended the Saugerties Council Camp Fire Girls father and daughter banquet last week on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the local council held at Saugerties Reformed Church.

George Thornton, a past president of the council, served as master of ceremonies and led in the singing. Skits were presented by each of the groups.

Bent-Over Friend

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Construction company owner Harold Irvin checked in at the office late one Saturday afternoon. He found a man crouched under a desk. Asked Irvin: "What are you doing down there " Replied the man: "Oh, just waiting for a friend." He was booked on suspicion of first degree burglary.

Report Tests Show Oklahomans Are Adjusting to Jets

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City woman says her furniture is shrinking.

Another person chides: "You think you're driving us nuts with those booms? Well, we're gonna drive you crazy with calls."

An average of 30 telephone calls, frequently along these lines, has jammed a special switchboard within minutes after a faster-than-sound Air Force jet plane breaks the sound barrier.

Sonic booms from F104 jets split the center of Oklahoma City eight times a day for one purpose: to determine public reaction to the sudden bursts.

The tests began Feb. 3 and apparently most of the affected 750,000 Oklahoma City and surrounding area residents seem to be adjusting rapidly to the joint Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force project.

"There's a definite decrease in the number of telephone calls we're getting now," an FAA official said recently about the reaction on the scheduled 26 - week test.

Oklahoma City, home of the FAA's aeronautical center, is the first heavily populated area to become a testing laboratory to determine if public operations might restrict or stop future use of commercial jet cargo planes.

Four homes, all less than 10 years old, also are equipped by the FAA with highly sensitive devices which measure the stresses created by sonic booms on the structures.

"We've found that effects of the sonic booms on them are no greater than from a thunderclap—and a distant one at that," said J.K. Power, coordinator of the FAA program.

A woman called to say thanks for the booms. Since they started, she told the FAA, "My television reception is much better." What she didn't realize was that the TV station to which she referred had just switched over to a bigger transmitting antenna closer to the city.

MISS AMELIA D. NAREL

Exchange Student Slated to Speak Before P-TA Group Tuesday

Sener Ozer, from Konya, Turkey, Onteora's first student under the American Field Service program, will speak at the regular meeting of the West Hurley P-TA Tuesday at 8 p. m. Mrs. Ruth Clair, West Hurley School's world traveler, will talk with Sener about his country. Sener will also play the mandolin and show pictures of his town.

Sener is 18 years old and plans to become an engineer. He is a Moslem and has just finished a month of fasting for Ramazan. He has spoken before several area groups.

Mrs. Clair has visited the Central School to talk with Sener and last week Sener visited West Hurley to discuss the program with Mrs. Clair and Mrs. Jody Collins, P-TA president.

There will be a short business meeting before the program. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

All persons are cordially invited to attend.

Sixth Annual Science Fair Slated for Judges for West Hurley Announced

Final plans have been made for the Sixth Annual Science Fair to be held Saturday, March 7th from 9:30 a. m. until 12:00 noon at the West Hurley School. The judges will meet on March 6. Students and the public are invited on the following day for the explanation of projects and final judging.

Exhibits will be judged on the following criteria — 1. creative ability, 2. scientific thought, 3. thoroughness, 4. skill, 5. clarity, 6. dramatic value.

Judging the Fair are the following: Mrs. Hilda Brett, therapeutic dietician at the Benedictine Hospital; Mrs. Edith Lessor, Ph.D., an instructor of chemistry at the Ulster County Community College; Carl Brown, a science teacher at Onteora Central Schools; Sherman Masten, dean of the Ulster Community College; Leonard Cozza, Senior Associate Engineer at I.B.M.; Fred Fogg, mathematical physicist at I.B.M. and George Holzman, Ph.D., employed at I.B.M. in Kingston.

Winners of first prize in the fourth, fifth, and six grade will enter their exhibits at the Mid-Hudson Study Council's Science and Mathematics fair at New Paltz to be held at a later date. The West Hurley PT-A will donate prizes for the winning projects.

Miss Carolyn Schrier, the elementary science coordinator, is working hard to make this fair a success.

West Hurley Library

Children in the West Hurley area are reminded that Patricia Jacobson, a noted authority on the subject of horses, will give a special program in the West Hurley Library on March 7. The program is sponsored by the Junior League of Kingston.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Gambling Heart" on NBC Sunday night, an original comedy by the eminent film and television writer Horton Foote, was acted by a skillful company of players. It was given a lavish production. It was a tedious, unfunny bore.

The plot concerned an aggressive mother with two daughters. One was married to a pompous, money-mad promoter. The other was married to a humble owner of a dry cleaning store. The action swirled around some oil stock on which the dry cleaner had timidly gambled all his savings, goaded on by his mother-in-law and the big talking promoter.

There was a tremendous amount of storming around and yelling — but no laughter in my living room — before the dry cleaner took his profits and ran.

If an ingratiating fellow like Wally Cox had played the dry cleaner, he might have achieved some warmth for the character. As it was, they were all brash, harsh and thoroughly unattractive. It was impossible to care what happened to any of them.

"That Was the Week That Was" on Friday night kicked off with a savage satire on fair employment practices, but the rest of the show proved rather slow going.

The spiciest bit of the evening on NBC was a continuation of the feud between the program and Jack Paar whose hour show follows it. Paar is unhappy about the size of the audience he inherits from the revue.

Toward the end of "TW3" a voice announced in crisp tones that "through circumstances beyond our control, the Jack Paar show follows immediately."

Paar came on with his pretaped show, opening his monologue with more complaints about "TW3" and calling it, among other names, "Henry Morgan's original amateur hour." The rest of his monologue was in embarrassingly poor taste.

Recommended tonight: "East Side, West Side," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—"The Street," marking the first step in a change in the show's format.

Motoring Hint

Automobile clubs advise motorists not to overload the trunk of their vehicles. Too much weight in the rear of the automobile affects the balance of the car and tends to point the headlights off the road.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1964. There are 311 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1803, Chief Justice John Marshall announced what was described as the most important decision ever handed down by the Supreme Court. The decision came in the Marbury case and held that the Supreme Court had the power to declare invalid any act of Congress it considered unconstitutional.

This date

In 1863, Arizona was organized as a territory.

In 1903, the United States acquired a naval station at Guantanamo Bay and a coaling station at Bahia, Honda, Cuba.

In 1920, the Nzi party was founded in Germany.

In 1943, Allied planes bombed Wilhelmshaven, Germany.

In 1945, American bombers made one of their heaviest assaults on Singapore.

Ten years ago ... President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed a program to give federal workers higher pay, voluntary insurance and pension plans.

Five years ago ... The American Bar Association's House of Delegates urged Congress to enact remedial legislation wherever there are reasonable grounds to believe that Supreme Court decisions weaken internal security.

One year ago ... A special Senate study group headed by Mike Mansfield of Montana warned that the fight for Vietnamese independence was fast becoming what they called an American war that could not be justified by U.S. security interests in the area.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Friday, Feb. 28, from 10 to 10:30 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and typhoid.

Barkeeps' March For Fund Nets $2,000

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —About 100 bartenders and bar owners, many of them wearing aprons, strode along this resort's famed Boardwalk Sunday to raise money for the 1964 Heart Fund.

Among them was former middleweight boxer Rocky Castellani, wearing a Beatle wig and gym attire. He operates a resort bar.

The 4½-hour, 16-mile march in 35-degree weather netted $2,000 for the Heart Fund.

Inger Stevens Is Proud of Renewal For Next Season

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Katie made it! "The Farmer's Daughter" has been renewed for the next television season. The oddsmakers said no show starring a woman could succeed in today's television market, unless she could play it for laughs like a "Lucy" or a "Hazel."

Weathers Handicap

Yet "The Farmer's Daughter," starring Inger Stevens, was recently picked up for its second season, having weathered yet another handicap of suffering a midseason switch from Friday to Wednesday night.

"I must admit I'm a little proud that we did it," said the outspoken Swede. "I don't believe anyone really thought that we would last beyond 13 weeks when we first went on the air and very little was done to help us. All of which proves that if you believe in what you're doing and work hard, there is a chance you can succeed."

Attracts Record Throng

Inger didn't realize just how successful the series was until she went to St. Paul recently for the winter carnival. She reports that 100,000 people turned out for the torchlight parade, by far the biggest crowd in the carnival's history.

"I visited a lot of children in hospitals, and they all watched the show," she said. "I was amazed."

The question she was asked most often was: Is Katie going to marry the congressman (played by William Windom) for whose sons she is governess?

"I don't know, but I would think so," she said. "After all, they are two intelligent persons and if they don't get married after a year or more, people will talk."

And what about marriage for Inger Stevens, girl bachelor?

"Yes, I want to get married," she said, "but it will take a very understanding man to put up with my schedule. I have to be up at 5 a.m. to leave for the studio, and I usually don't get home until 8:20 at night. I never have a day off in the series, and when I do, I have to shoot commercials or photographs."

Learned Their Part

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Alex Alpers took no chances before leaving for a tour of Israel.

Each day for two weeks before the trip, she watched critically from the next room while her husband and two young daughters went through the routine of preparing breakfast and tidying up the apartment.

"I wanted to make sure they would know what to do while I was gone," she said.

PLANS U. S. VISIT—Britain's Labor Party leader Harold Wilson, who plans to visit Washington soon, says his opposition party would never lead Britain away from her allies toward a neutral or middle position in world affairs. He made statement in interview with Associated Press writer Arthur Gavshon. (AP Wirephoto).

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Gambling Heart" on NBC Sunday night, an original comedy by the eminent film and television writer Horton Foote, was acted by a skillful company of players. It was given a lavish production. It was a tedious, unfunny bore.

The plot concerned an aggressive mother with two daughters. One was married to a pompous, money-mad promoter. The other was married to a humble owner of a dry cleaning store. The action swirled around some oil stock on which the dry cleaner had timidly gambled all his savings, goaded on by his mother-in-law and the big talking promoter.

There was a tremendous amount of storming around and yelling — but no laughter in my living room — before the dry cleaner took his profits and ran.

If an ingratiating fellow like Wally Cox had played the dry cleaner, he might have achieved some warmth for the character. As it was, they were all brash, harsh and thoroughly unattractive. It was impossible to care what happened to any of them.

"That Was the Week That Was" on Friday night kicked off with a savage satire on fair employment practices, but the rest of the show proved rather slow going.

The spiciest bit of the evening on NBC was a continuation of the feud between the program and Jack Paar whose hour show follows it. Paar is unhappy about the size of the audience he inherits from the revue.

Toward the end of "TW3" a voice announced in crisp tones that "through circumstances beyond our control, the Jack Paar show follows immediately."

Paar came on with his pretaped show, opening his monologue with more complaints about "TW3" and calling it, among other names, "Henry Morgan's original amateur hour." The rest of his monologue was in embarrassingly poor taste.

Recommended tonight: "East Side, West Side," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—"The Street," marking the first step in a change in the show's format.

Motoring Hint

Automobile clubs advise motorists not to overload the trunk of their vehicles. Too much weight in the rear of the automobile affects the balance of the car and tends to point the headlights off the road.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1964. There are 311 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1803, Chief Justice John Marshall announced what was described as the most important decision ever handed down by the Supreme Court. The decision came in the Marbury case and held that the Supreme Court had the power to declare invalid any act of Congress it considered unconstitutional.

This date

In 1863, Arizona was organized as a territory.

In 1903, the United States acquired a naval station at Guantanamo Bay and a coaling station at Bahia, Honda, Cuba.

In 1920, the Nzi party was founded in Germany.

In 1943, Allied planes bombed Wilhelmshaven, Germany.

In 1945, American bombers made one of their heaviest assaults on Singapore.

Ten years ago ... President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed a program to give federal workers higher pay, voluntary insurance and pension plans.

Five years ago ... The American Bar Association's House of Delegates urged Congress to enact remedial legislation wherever there are reasonable grounds to believe that Supreme Court decisions weaken internal security.

One year ago ... A special Senate study group headed by Mike Mansfield of Montana warned that the fight for Vietnamese independence was fast becoming what they called an American war that could not be justified by U.S. security interests in the area.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Friday, Feb. 28, from 10 to 10:30 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and poliomyelitis.

Locals Close 1st Year With 3-8 Record

Breaking loose from a 14-14 deadlock midway through the first half, Delhi Tech cagers scored a 78-50 win over Ulster County Community College Saturday at the Kate Walton Field House.

The loss closed the first varsity season for the locals. They won three games in 11 starts, two of them by forfeit and the other a home game against Sullivan County.

Delhi, using an all-veteran lineup, had trouble with the home side for the first nine minutes. Once the visitors found their range, there was no stopping them.

Jim Browne was the best scorer for the Senators, finishing with 19 points. Jack Lewis scored 16 before fouling out late in the game.

Liekoski Cross Country Winner

Rosendale Youth Leads Nine-Man Nordic Ski Race

Nordic Ski competition had its post-war debut in Rosendale Sunday afternoon with a 3.5 kilometer cross country race won by Kari Liekoski, an 18-year-old recent immigrant from Finland now living in Rosendale.

Liekoski raced over the hill and dale course which had its start and finish at Williams Lake in 16 minutes, 40 seconds, to eke out a close victory over Rune Karlson, 43-year-old garageman and councilman in the Town of Rosendale, who was clocked in 16 minutes, 56 seconds.

Fifty-three year old Wolfgang Hartman of Rosendale took third place in 21:47.

The course was laid out by Captain Alvar Ryman of the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club and the race attracted nine starters and more than 200 spectators, who turned out to see the graceful rhythm of cross country skiing and to inspect the lightweight and simple Nordic skiing equipment which is relatively strange in this area of Alpine ski enthusiasts.

Other Events Planned

"This is only the beginning of Nordic skiing in Rosendale," said William Curran, president of the local club. "Additional races will be held and equipment will be available on a loan basis, free of charge, to those who want to seriously take up the sport.

"The revival of ski jumping in Rosendale," said Curran, "has progressed to the extent that surveys have been made of various sites and five areas have been designated as having qualifications satisfactory for ski jumping."

Results of the 3.5 kilometer races are as follows:

1. Kari Liekoski, Rosendale, 16:40; 2. Rune Karlson, Rosendale, 16:56; 3. Wolfgang Hartman, Rosendale, 21:47; 4. Walter Williams, Rosendale, 23:45; 5. William Curran, Rosendale, 27:21; 6. Robert Lacey, Kingston, 30:03; John Sutton, Kingston, 36:40; 8. John Daly, Irvington, 37:22; 9. Charles Caccio, Brooklyn, DNF.

Locals Close 1st Year With 3-8 Record

Breaking loose from a 14-14 deadlock midway through the first half, Delhi Tech cagers scored a 78-50 win over Ulster County Community College Saturday at the Kate Walton Field House.

The loss closed the first varsity season for the locals. They won three games in 11 starts, two of them by forfeit and the other a home game against Sullivan County.

Delhi, using an all-veteran lineup, had trouble with the home side for the first nine minutes. Once the visitors found their range, there was no stopping them.

Jim Browne was the best scorer for the Senators, finishing with 19 points. Jack Lewis scored 16 before fouling out late in the game.

Forst Captures Exhibition Match

Forst Formost of Kingston maintained its two game lead in the Mid-Hudson Major league by winning a pair from Terrace Room Friday at the Campi-Tarsio Lanes in Newburgh.

Second place Modern Vending beat Anel Development in a pair while third place Tompkins and Baxter Insurance swept Dan's Tire Service to move within 4½ games of the top.

Sangi's Bowlero, the other local entrant, was beaten in three games by Utica Club.

Chris Gallo rapped 218, 205 and 248 for 671 to pace Forst. Jake Charter added 619 and Jack Ferraro 607. Joe Ponessi hit 663 and Sam Fisher 614 for Terrace Room.

After losing the first game, 980-954, the locals won the next two, 973-936 and 1087-927.

Chick Carpino belted 625 for Sangi's but he didn't get much help from the other keglers. Joe Shier's 612 led Utica Club.

High triple for the evening was 3067 by A and N Vending. Tompkins and Baxter Insurance had a 1116 single. Bob LeLaney paced the individual keglers with 244, 243 and 211 for 698. Ron Mead's 267 solo was high.

Ulster Cagers Awaiting Bid to State Tourney

A telephone call with the right message from Oneonta today could make Coach Doug Sheppard and the State University Hawks forget their dismal seasonal finale Saturday against Quinnipiac College of Connecticut.

If the call includes a bid to New Paltz to participate in the annual State University Conference post-season tournament, the 98-78 thrashing by Quinnipiac will be forgotten in a hurry.

The state conference playoffs get under way Thursday night.

A second half collapse by the Hawks proved disastrous against the sharpshooting Nutmeg Staters. The Hawks led 42-40 at the intermission and when the teams trotted into the dresing room there was little indication of the second half explosion to come.

It started right after the tapoff for the second half and cascaded into a 58-point barrage.

Two Players Hit 24

Jim Katz, a burley center, poured 24 points through the hoop and three others were in double figures. Jim Potter had 15, Dave Tuthill 18 and Chick Schneider 14. All of Quinnipiac's eleven players figured in the scoring.

New Paltz's scoring ace Fred Sadler matched Katz point for point. Jim Doyle canned 17, Alex Hazelton added 12 and Joe Facciolli 10.

The foul shooting was good on both sides, the visitors converting 18 of 23 chances and the Hawks were 14 for 20.

New Paltz completed its regular season with 8 wins and 12 defeats.

If the telephone call doesn't come through today, that's all for this year.

St. Mary's Varsity Takes County Title

Albie Pearson Is Best Ball Player Golfer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Los Angeles Angels' outfielder Albie Pearson swapped a putter for a bat today after winning the annual National Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

Pearson who outstroked runner-up Ken Harrelson of the Kansas City Athletics 223 to 231 for 54 holes left Sunday night for the Angels' training camp in Palm Springs, Calif.

New York Yankees' pitcher Ralph Terry carded an 85 for a third place total of 234.

Snead's Initial Seniors Win Is 114th of Career

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen years ago at the peak of a brilliant career, Slammin' Sam Snead won the British Open crown. Now he is going back to England, this time as the 51-year-old king of America's senior golfers.

Snead won the PGA Seniors title Sunday with a nine-under-par 279 over the new PGA National Golf Club course, after shrugging off late challenges by John Barnum and the old Arkansas Traveler, Dutch Harrison.

His victory brought him $2,500 and the Teacher Trophy, which includes a trip aboard to play the British Senior champion, yet to be decided. This match will be played July 5. The following week, if he desires, Sam can again play in the British Open.

Has Putting Troubles

Snead, although winning the 114th tournament of his career, a record unmatched by any other golfer, declared ruefully:

"I still can't putt. I hit a 10-footer today and that was the longest one I had the whole tournament."

His last-round 71 left him three strokes ahead of Barnum, who had fired a 69 to move up from fourth place to second and win $2,000. Harrison had a 74 for 285 and $1,500.

Defeat X Cagers 30-24 to Cinch 11-0 Loop Mark

St. Mary's Varsity No. 1 squad defeated the parish's Varsity X team, 30-24, to complete an unbeaten Ulster County CYO Junior league season with 11 straight victories.

The St. Mary's cagers played 23 games during the 1963-64 season, winning 15 and losing 8. All eight losses, of course, were in non-league competition against the best CYO teams in the mid-Hudson area.

St. Mary's next plays the Orange County CYO champions Saturday at 12 noon at St. Joseph's school in Kingston in the semi-finals of the Upstate CYO Playoffs. They will also represent Ulster County in the St. Anne's of Nyack Invitational tournament on March 7-8 and March 14-15. Don Kiernan has coached the team through the highly successful season.

Jackson Scores 22 Points

Barry Jackson and Jud Williams combined their talents for the No. 1 victory. Jackson poured 22 points through the hoop and Williams ably controlled the boards. The winners led 18-10 at half time.

Lang scored eight points and Noble had seven for the Varsity X cagers.

Wilt Scores 37 To Pace Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain is doing more than leading San Francisco in scoring these days. He's also leading them to victories.

Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's perennial scoring champion, never has played on a division titlist. He seems determined to accomplish that feat this season.

The 7-foot-1 star scored the last five points Sunday as the Warriors nipped defending Western champion Los Angeles 109-108. That moved San Francisco two games in front of second-place St. Louis and six ahead of Los Angeles.

Philadelphia whipped New York 114-105 and Baltimore rolled over Detroit 129-104 in other games.

With the Warriors down 108-104, Chamberlain put together a three-point play. Then, with just seven seconds left, he guided in a stray jump shot by Guy Rodgers for the winning basket.

The big man wound up with 37 points even though he played with a bad leg.

Saturday night was an important one in the Eastern Division as Cincinnati moved one game behind Boston. The Royals edged Los Angeles 107-105, and Boston fell to St. Louis 95-88. New York knocked off Detroit 125-119 in overtime in the other game.

McKillip New North American Bobsled Champ

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Larry McKillip of the Saranac Lake Bobsled Club today owns the North American two-man championship with total time of 4:43.38 for four one-mile heats and the best single-time heat 1:09:97.

Second was Italy's Sergio Zardini with 4:44.45 total in the races at the Mt. Van Hoevenberg run Sunday. Third was Charles McDonald of Saranac Lake with 4:47.82.

Capt. Les Fenner, 42, of the U.S. Air Force was reported improved yesterday at Lake Placid Memorial Hospital after suffering a fracture of the neck and other injuries when thrown from his sled in the four-man races Saturday.

Airman 2. C. Dick Nuckols, 22, of Covington, Va., suffered a fracture of the left hand in the same mishap.

Byrne, Tackle Shop Gain Rec League Wins

Byrne Chevrolet nipped Sportsman Park, 88-86, in overtime and Ray's Tackle Shop walloped Carroll's Bait Box, 88-55, in Rec Basketball league games last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

Five players were in double figures for Byrne, which had a 44-22 halftime lead and then saw it evaporate as the losers poured 33 points through the hoop in the third period.

Joe Long led with 27 points while Al Brown rimmed 17, Bill DuBois and Jim Ferraro 14 each. Joe Uhl potted 38 markers for Sportsman Park. Bob Short added 21 and Tom Fiore 19.

Ray's, beaten only by Rhinebeck, had an easy time against the bait Box. Joe Klonowski (23), Marty Kaye (24), Chick Boice (15) and Bondar (17) showed the way. Champ Holstein rimmed 18 markers for the losers.

Ulster Cagers Awaiting Bid to State Tourney

A telephone call with the right message from Oneonta today could make Coach Doug Sheppard and the State University Hawks forget their dismal seasonal finale Saturday against Quinnipiac College of Connecticut.

If the call includes a bid to New Paltz to participate in the annual State University Conference post-season tournament, the 98-78 thrashing by Quinnipiac will be forgotten in a hurry.

The state conference playoffs get under way Thursday night.

A second half collapse by the Hawks proved disastrous against the sharpshooting Nutmeg Staters. The Hawks led 42-40 at the intermission and when the teams trotted into the dresing room there was little indication of the second half explosion to come.

It started right after the tapoff for the second half and cascaded into a 58-point barrage.

Two Players Hit 24

Jim Katz, a burley center, poured 24 points through the hoop and three others were in double figures. Jim Potter had 15, Dave Tuthill 18 and Chick Schneider 14. All of Quinnipiac's eleven players figured in the scoring.

New Paltz's scoring ace Fred Sadler matched Katz point for point. Jim Doyle canned 17, Alex Hazelton added 12 and Joe Facciolli 10.

The foul shooting was good on both sides, the visitors converting 18 of 23 chances and the Hawks were 14 for 20.

New Paltz completed its regular season with 8 wins and 12 defeats.

If the telephone call doesn't come through today, that's all for this year.

St. Mary's Varsity Takes County Title

Albie Pearson Is Best Ball Player Golfer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Los Angeles Angels' outfielder Albie Pearson swapped a putter for a bat today after winning the annual National Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

Pearson who out-troked runner-up Ken Harrelson of the Kansas City Athletics 223 to 231 for 54 holes left Sunday night for the Angels' training camp in Palm Springs, Calif.

New York Yankees' pitcher Ralph Terry carded an 85 for a third place total of 234.

Snead's Initial Seniors Win Is 114th of Career

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen years ago at the peak of a brilliant career, Slammin' Sam Snead won the British Open crown. Now he is going back to England, this time as the 51-year-old king of America's senior golfers.

Snead won the PGA Seniors title Sunday with a nine-under-par 279 over the new PGA National Golf Club course, after shrugging off late challenges by John Barnum and the old Arkansas Traveler, Dutch Harrison.

His victory brought him $2,500 and the Teacher Trophy, which includes a trip aboard to play the British Senior champion, yet to be decided. This match will be played July 5. The following week, if he desires, Sam can again play in the British Open.

Has Putting Troubles

Snead, although winning the 114th tournament of his career, a record unmatched by any other golfer, declared ruefully:

"I still can't putt. I hit a 10-footer today and that was the longest one I had the whole tournament."

His last-round 71 left him three strokes ahead of Barnum, who had fired a 69 to move up from fourth place to second and win $2,000. Harrison had a 74 for 285 and $1,500.

Leland (Duke) Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., the runner-up at the end of the third round, collapsed to a 77 for 287 and fourth money of $1,200. Jim Turnesa won fifth place and $900.

Defeat X Cagers 30-24 to Cinch 11-0 Loop Mark

St. Mary's Varsity No. 1 squad defeated the parish's Varsity X team, 30-24, to complete an unbeaten Ulster County CYO Junior league season with 11 straight victories.

The St. Mary's cagers played 23 games during the 1963-64 season, winning 15 and losing 8. All eight losses, of course, were in non-league competition against the best CYO teams in the mid-Hudson area.

St. Mary's next plays the Orange County CYO champions Saturday at 12 noon at St. Joseph's school in Kingston in the semi-finals of the Upstate CYO Playoffs. They will also represent Ulster County in the St. Anne's of Nyack Invitational tournament on March 7-8 and March 14-15. Don Kiernan has coached the team through the highly successful season.

Jackson Scores 22 Points

Barry Jackson and Jud Williams combined their talents for the No. 1 victory. Jackson poured 22 points through the hoop and Williams ably controlled the boards. The winners led 18-10 at half time.

Lang scored eight points and Noble had seven for the Varsity X cagers.

Wilt Scores 37 To Pace Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain is doing more than leading San Francisco in scoring these days. He's also leading them to victories.

Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's perennial scoring champion, never has played on a division titlist. He seems determined to accomplish that feat this season.

The 7-foot-1 star scored the last five points Sunday as the Warriors nipped defending Western champion Los Angeles 109-108. That moved San Francisco two games in front of second-place St. Louis and six ahead of Los Angeles.

Philadelphia whipped New York 114-105 and Baltimore rolled over Detroit 129-104 in other games.

With the Warriors down 108-104, Chamberlain put together a three-point play. Then, with just seven seconds left, he guided in a stray jump shot by Guy Rodgers for the winning basket.

The big man wound up with 37 points even though he played with a bad leg.

Saturday night was an important one in the Eastern Division as Cincinnati moved one game behind Boston. The Royals edged Los Angeles 107-105, and Boston fell to St. Louis 95-88. New York knocked off Detroit 125-119 in overtime in the other game.

McKillip New North American Bobsled Champ

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Larry McKillip of the Saranac Lake Bobsled Club today owns the North American two-man championship with total time of 4:43.38 for four one-mile heats and the best single-time heat 1:09:97.

Second was Italy's Sergio Zardini with 4:44.45 total in the races at the Mt. Van Hoevenberg run Sunday. Third was Charles McDonald of Saranac Lake with 4:47.82.

Capt. Les Fenner, 42, of the U.S. Air Force was reported improved yesterday at Lake Placid Memorial Hospital after suffering a fracture of the neck and other injuries when thrown from his sled in the four-man races Saturday.

Airman 2. C. Dick Nuckols, 22, of Covington, Va., suffered a fracture of the left hand in the same mishap.

Byrne, Tackle Shop Gain Rec League Wins

Byrne Chevrolet nipped Sportsman Park, 88-86, in overtime and Ray's Tackle Shop walloped Carroll's Bait Box, 88-55, in Rec Basketball league games last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

Five players were in double figures for Byrne, which had a 44-22 halftime lead and then saw it evaporate as the losers poured 33 points through the hoop in the third period.

Joe Long led with 27 points while Al Brown rimmed 17, Bill DuBois and Jim Ferraro 14 each. Joe Uhl potted 38 markers for Sportsman Park. Bob Short added 21 and Tom Fiore 19.

Ray's, beaten only by Rhinebeck, had an easy time against the bait Box. Joe Klonowski (23), Marty Kaye (24), Chick Boice (15) and Bondar (17) showed the way. Champ Holstein rimmed 18 markers for the losers.

Rochester Skater Wins In Record Performance

BERLIN (AP)—Janice Smith of Rochester, N.Y., set a stadium record in East Berlin Sunday, winning the 1,000-meter speed skating in one minute, 37.3 seconds.

Miss Smith clipped 1.2 seconds off the old Sport-Forum mark on the second day of a four-nation meet, the East German news agency, ADN, reported.

East German champion Helga Haase, who had held the record, tied for second place with Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid, N.Y. Each was timed in 1:37.4.

Janice Lawler of Minneapolis finished fourth in 1:41, Sylvia White of Butte, Mont., was fifth in 1:41.8 and Barbara Lockhart of Park Ridge, Ill., placed sixth with a time of 1:43.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

NOTICE

The Ordinance published herewith has been adopted on the 20th day of February, 1964, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such Ordinance may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is not authorized to expend money or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

WALTER S. FOSTER
City Clerk

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED FEBRUARY 20, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A CATERPILLAR TRAXCAVATOR, FOR THE USE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS OF SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST THEREOF IS $24,000, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $24,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:—

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to purchase a new motor vehicle, described as a Caterpillar Traxcavator for the use of the Department of Public Works of said City. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $24,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $24,000 serial bonds of the City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City of Kingston in the principal amount of $24,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, to finance said appropriation.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:—

(a) The period of probable usefulness of said specific object or purpose for which the serial bonds authorized by this resolution are to be issued, within the limitations of $ 11.00 a. 29 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution, or, any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5 of said Law.

(c) The maturity of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution shall not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by $ 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budget of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of $ 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of $ 50.00 and $ $ 56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds herein authorized and of any bond anticipation notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds and the renewals thereof, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:—

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published, in full, after approval by the Mayor, in "THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN," and in the "KINGSTONIAN," the official newspapers of the City, together with a notice in substantially the form as prescribed by § 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

What Jack Ruby Trial Is Like - - - Backstage

Cameras whir and shutters snap as Jack Ruby makes one of his daily appearances dashing through crowded trial corridors at a fast clip, completely surrounded by his squad of protectors.

It helps to be just a little bit taller as newsmen surround defense attorneys J. H. Tonahill and Melvin Belli and ply them with questions. It happens every time they appear outside the courtroom doors.

Ottawa Bachelors, Ladies Excited About Feb. 29th

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims — the bachelors—are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrennium event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts. After than, the mere male population must watch its step — and, incidentally, its pocketbook.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that paroles the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men —or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day — and the City Council chamber specially decorated for the occasion will be the courtroom.

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white—at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said all's fair, as far as the girls are concerned. But, she said, already, there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

If there is one man who's apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. It was Bailey who thought up the leap year doings 12 years ago.

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance. Bailey's advice to men with such outlandish ideas:

"Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

TREASURER'S NOTICE
CITY TAXES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the general tax roll of the City of Kingston has been left with me for the collection of taxes therein mentioned, which may be paid in two equal installments without penalty or intesest, the first one-half within thirty days following date of this notice and the remaining one-half within thirty days following three months after the date of this notice.

If any Taxpayer shall pay the full amount of his taxes within thirty days of the date of this notice he shall be entitled to deduct therefrom an amount equal to one-half of one percentum thereof.

The law provides that penalties be added to taxes not paid during the above stated periods.

The office of the City Treasurer in City Hall shall remain open for collection of taxes from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Dated: February 17th, 1964.

In Overseas Exercise

Army Staff Sergeant Albert M. Thompson, whose wife, Catherine, lives on Route 1, Highland, participated with other members of the 34th Infantry's 1st Battalion in Vanguard IV, the unit's first major field exercise since arriving in Berlin, Germany. The exercise ended Feb. 7.

The cold weather training tested the battalion's tactical combat efficiency.

Thompson, a supply sergeants in the battalion's Company C in Berlin, entered the Army in 1947 and arrived overseas in August 1962 on this tour of duty.

Search for Lost Boy Near Arizona 'Y' Camp

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — More than 200 persons were combing the snow - covered mountain area south of Prescott for a 9-year-old boy missing since midmorning Sunday.

Yavapai County sheriff's officers said Dennis Hargus of Mesa, Ariz., walked away from a YMCA camp. Deputies said they found tracks in the snow but that they were oblitered by a rapid thaw.

"The average inactive American man when he reaches age 26 has a middle-age body."

This shocking statement comes from an authority on physical fitness—after studying more than 50,000 individuals. Why this early physical decline? Lack of activity—not enough vigorous daily exercise. Today, our children risk all the hazards of easy living. Right now, in fact, one-third of them are unable to pass simple physical achievement tests. That's why it's so important for all youngsters to participate in vigorous exercise for at least 15 minutes during each school day. To learn about a basic fitness program that any school can carry out, send for the free leaflet put out by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

NOTICE

The Ordinance published herewith has been adopted on the 20th day of February, 1964, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such Ordinance may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is not authorized to expend money or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

WALTER S. FOSTER
City Clerk

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED FEBRUARY 20, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A CATERPILLAR TRAXCAVATOR, FOR THE USE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS OF SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST THEREOF IS $24,000. APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $24,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:—

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to purchase a new motor vehicle, described as a Caterpillar Traxcavator for the use of the Department of Public Works of said City. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $24,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $24,000 serial bonds of the City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City of Kingston in the principal amount of $24,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, to finance said appropriation.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:—

(a) The period of probable usefulness of said specific object or purpose for which the serial bonds authorized by this resolution are to be issued, within the limitations of § 11.00 a. 29 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution, or, any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5 of said Law.

(c) The maturity of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution shall not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by § 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budget of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of § 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of § 50.00 and § § 56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds herein authorized and of any bond anticipation notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds and the renewals thereof, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:—

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full, after approval by the Mayor, in "THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN," and in the "KINGSTONIAN," the official newspapers of the City, together with a notice in substantially the form as prescribed by § 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

What Jack Ruby Trial Is Like - - - Backstage

Cameras whir and shutters snap as Jack Ruby makes one of his daily appearances dashing through crowded trial corridors at a fast clip, completely surrounded by his squad of protectors.

It helps to be just a little bit taller as newsmen surround defense attorneys J. H. Tonahill and Melvin Belli and ply them with questions. It happens every time they appear outside the courtroom doors.

Ottawa Bachelors, Ladies Excited About Feb. 29th

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims — the bachelors—are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrennium event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts. After than, the mere male population must watch its step — and, incidentally, its pocketbook.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that paroles the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men —or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day — and the City Council chamber specially decorated for the occasion will be the courtroom.

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white—at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said all's fair, as far as the girls are concerned. But, she said, already, there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

If there is one man who's apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. It was Bailey who thought up the leap year doings 12 years ago.

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance. Bailey's advice to men with such outlandish ideas:

"Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

In Overseas Exercise

Army Staff Sergeant Albert M. Thompson, whose wife, Catherine, lives on Route 1, Highland, participated with other members of the 34th Infantry's 1st Battalion in Vanguard IV, the unit's first major field exercise since arriving in Berlin, Germany. The exercise ended Feb. 7.

The cold weather training tested the battalion's tactical combat efficiency.

Thompson, a supply sergeants in the battalion's Company C in Berlin, entered the Army in 1947 and arrived overseas in August 1962 on this tour of duty.

Hughes on Essex

Donald C. Hughes, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Hughes Sr., of 38 Boulder Avenue, is serving aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Essex, operating out of Quonset Point, R. I.

Essex is currently in the New York Naval Shipyard, Brooklyn, undergoing overhaul. Upon completion of the overhaul, she will rejoin the fleet as flagship for an anti-submarine hunter-killer group.

Collins at McNair

Army PFC William J. Collins, son of William H. Collins, 3 Rodney Street, Kingston, was assigned Feb. 4 to the U. S. Army Garrison at Fort Lesley J. McNair, Washington, D. C.

Collins, a telephone repairman in the garrison's Headquarters Company, entered the Army in June 1962 and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Troy High School.

Search for Lost Boy Near Arizona 'Y' Camp

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — More than 200 persons were combing the snow - covered mountain area south of Prescott for a 9-year-old boy missing since midmorning Sunday.

Yavapai County sheriff's officers said Dennis Hargus of Mesa, Ariz., walked away from a YMCA camp. Deputies said they found tracks in the snow but that they were oblitered by a rapid thaw.

"The average inactive American man when he reaches age 26 has a middle-age body."

This shocking statement comes from an authority on physical fitness—after studying more than 50,000 individuals. Why this early physical decline? Lack of activity—not enough vigorous daily exercise. Today, our children risk all the hazards of easy living. Right now, in fact, one-third of them are unable to pass simple physical achievement tests. That's why it's so important for all youngsters to participate in vigorous exercise for at least 15 minutes during each school day. To learn about a basic fitness program that any school can carry out, send for the free leaflet put out by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

Fire Destroys Plattekill Barn

A barn on the August Perry premises on Forest Road, Plattekill, was completely destroyed by fire early this morning together with eight ponies and two rabbits which were housed in the one-story frame structure.

The fire was discovered by a member of the family about 5:45 a. m. and when firemen arrived the barn was described as a "ball of fire." Members of the Perry family were unable to enter the barn to rescue any of the stock.

Chief Thorolf E. Hegen of Plattekill Fire Department was assisted by the Cronomer Valley, Orange Lake and Winona Lake Fire Departments. No water was available at the scene and Cronomer Valley supplied two tank trucks, Orange Lake and Winons Lake one tanker each to augment the tanker of Plattekill.

Firemen were able to save a nearby chicken house in which a number of turkeys were also housed.

Cause of the fire is unknown. The firemen secured at 9 a. m.

Two Girls Face Charges for Use Of Knife in Car

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Police say a man who met four teen-age girls in a tavern was later held at knifepoint in his automobile by two of them.

Police said Izdor Rogalski, 39, of Buffalo, gave this account:

He agreed in Buffalo Saturday to drive the girls to New York. When they reached the State Thruway, Rogalski told them he had little money and was low on gasoline.

The girls became enraged and the 15-year - old, whose name was not disclosed because of her age, drew a jackknife and put it to the back of Rogalski's head.

He pulled off the thruway near Leroy, where Carolyn Loomis, 19, of Buffalo, grabbed the knife, held it against Rogalski's ribs and took $1.50 from him.

Rogalski was ordered to drive on, and then to stop at the Scottsville service area.

Rogalski called State Police from a restaurant there.

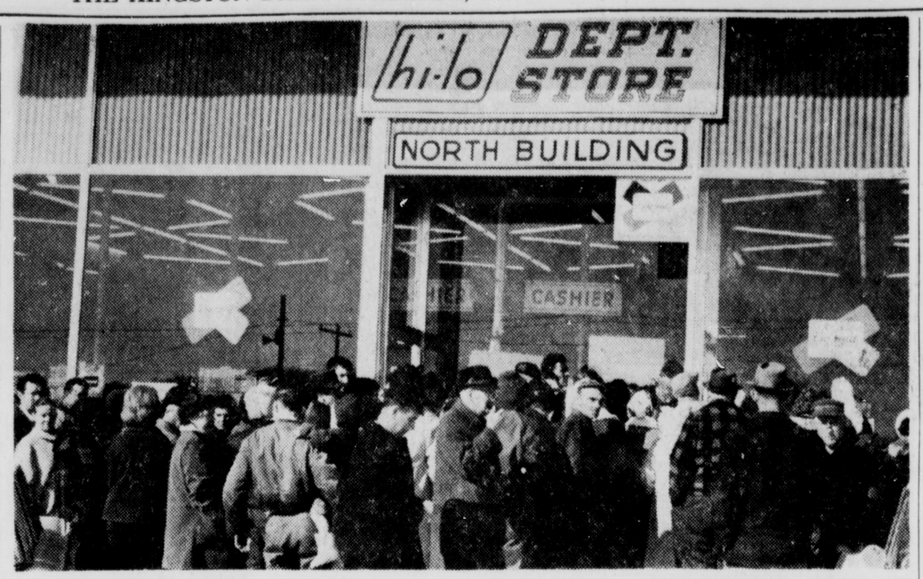
Miss Loomis was charged with first-degree robbery. The 15-year - old was being held for Family Court action.

The other girls, identified as Barbara Maciejewski and Marie Apadaca, both 19, were charged with vagrancy.

Rome Student Elected

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Douglas M. Becker, a junior at Rome Free Academy, Rome, N.Y., is the 1964 president of the Eastern States Junior Achievement Conference.

Becker was elected Saturday at the closing session of a four-day convention of approximately 450 delegates from 12 states. The organization of boys and girls of high-school age aims to promote free enterprise.



WAITING FOR SALE TO START—Hi-Lo appeared to be a suggestion as to where to hit 'em rather than a store name as shoppers converged at the massive Port Ewen mart's doors Saturday for annual Washington's Birthday Sale. Crowds gathered at doors as early as 6 a. m. for 10 a. m. opening when some 1,000 customers broke through in search of sales which ranged from a 19-inch television set which sold for $22 to toasters, steam and dry irons, pressure cooker and some 50 other items which went for as low as 22 cents. A Port Ewen man, who store officials said broke through like a charging marine, got the one-sale-only TV with no apparent casualties to other customers. At one time, store officials estimated some 15,000 customers were inside the store—representing one of the largest number gathered for any single area event. Special sale, which patterened after system used by New York City stores, was advertised in advance in The Freeman and circulated throughout Hudson Valley. Store officials plan similar sale on Washington's Birthday next year. (Freeman photo)

Women Voters Go to Albany for State Conclave

Permanent Personal Registration will be one of the main interests of members of the League of Women Voters of Kingston who are leaving for Legislative Conference which is being held in Albany today and Tuesday.

Among the 300 women from the 81 local Leaggues in New York State who will be attending are Mrs. David Gerbarg, president of the Kingston League, Mrs. Leroy Janes, Mrs. John Darcy, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs, and Mrs. Edward DeGroff.

The conference is designed to give league members a first hand look at the state government and how it works. League members will meet with their senators and assemblymen. They will see the governor and watch the legislature in session.

The conference is being opened this afternoon by Mrs. Kenneth Greenawalt, president of the New York State League. Governor Nelson A Rockefeller will address the group. From 3:30 to 5 p. m., league members will attend the Assembly Session at the State Capitol. After an informal dinner at the Hotel DeWitt Clinton, members will visit legislators in their offices and then proceed to the State Capitol for the Senate Session. At 10 p. m., to 11:30 there will be a coffee hour to honor the legislative leaders.

Tuesday morning, members will meet at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel for a report from the State Legislation Committee and to hear Dr. Robert S. Herman, division of the budget, State of New York. He will speak on The State Budget.

The session will be closed with a colloquy, However Does a Bill Become a Law. Participating will be Mrs. George Ames, state board, Stan Hinden, political reporter of the Long Island Newsday, Senator George R. Metcalf and Assemblyman William F. Passannante.

Mandatory PPR

A major concern of the League in questioning legislators will be the passage of measures to provide mandatory, statewide Permanent Personal Registration (PPR), by 1967. Legislation for optional PPR was passed ten years ago, and plans have been made to commemorate this 10th anniversary at the conference. Legislators will be urged to support either of the following identical bills:: Republican sponsored Anderson A.I. 1480 S.P. 1503, and Brook A.I. 898 A.P. 898; Democratic sponsored Bernstein S.I. 1333 S. P. 1340 and Maresca A.I. 811 A.P. 811.

Considerable thought is being given in Albany this year to some revision of the elections laws. This is the direct result of the overwhelming approval given by the voters to the amendment to the Constitution which will permit persons residing in the state 90 days to vote for presidential and vice-presidential electors and for persons moving from the state to apply for absentee ballots if they cannot meet residence requirements at their new address.

This amendment also permits many more qualified voters who will be away from home on election day to become eligible for absentee balloting.

This extension of the franchise places new importance on the necessity for adequate safeguards and most important of all a means of identifying each voter when he presents himself at the polls or returns an absentee ballot by mail. These protections are now guaranteed to 80 per cent of the voters in the state but unless they cover the remaining 20 per cent residing in 45 counties in the state, the franchise of all the voters in the state is is jeopardy.

Therefore, to properly safeguard the franchise for every voter in the State of New York who is now or soon will be elibible to vote by insuring both his identity and eligibility, permanent personal registration must be required statewide.

Mrs. Gerbarg, president of the Kingston League, said today, "All citizens as well as members of the league are urged to write to their legislators requesting support of the bills providing for mandatory statewide PPR. Eighty per cent of the state already has PPR. Where PPR is in effect, it is endorsed by the party worker, the voter, and the election officials."

ROBERT J. ANTONOVICH

Rhinebeck Firm Appoints Hurley Man as Controller

The appointment of Robert J. Antonovich as controller of Smithers Tools and Machine Products Incorporated, Rhinebeck, was announced this week.

Antonovich, an accounting graduate of Fordham University, was previously engaged in public accounting and tax work with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company in New York City and Kingston.

Antonovich is married to the former Helen J. Sussek of Yonkers. They and their three children reside in Hurley.

Charge Woodstock Man With Drunken Driving

Accused of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated at 2:40 p. m. Saturday, Otto H. Albanesius, III, 32, of Maverick Road, Woodstock, was summoned to appear at a later date by Trooper Charles Bundschuh, Kingston Station.

Trooper John McMickle reported Albanesius was driving his car north and rounding a curve on Route 375, Woodstock, when the vehicle went off the right side of the highway, through a field and crashed into a large billboard.

Albanesius received lacerations of the head. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Charles Farley, Woodstock, it was reported.

Linoleum Prices

Due to an error, the advertisement of the Kingston Linoleum & Carpet Inc., of 54 North Front Street, appearing in the February 22 issue of The Freeman, had the first four items incorrectly shown. These specials on linoleum, vinyl surface, and cushion floor are offered in 9 foot and 12 foot widths. They are not 9x12 as shown in the advertisement.

'Mother of Presidents'

Virginia was known as the "Mother of Presidents" during the first 36 years of U. S. history because Virginians held the nation's presidency for the first 32 years.

D. A. Narel Is Renamed State Guild Officer

Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, society editor of The Freeman and president of tthe Kingston Newspaper Guild, was reelected vice president of the Empire State District Council of the American Newspaper Guild at the ESDC's quarterly meeting over the weekend in Buffalo.

Chuck Robie Booth of Utica was elected council president and Philip Feldman of Rochester, secretary-treasurer. Other vice presidents elected included Paul Lyman, Albany; Harold Lawrence, Buffalo; Milt Kerzner, Hudson County (N.J.), and Thomas Fay, New York City.

In other business, the council unanimously adopted a resolution opposing anti-labor legislation, particularly the strike-breaker bill which went before the legislature last week. The next ESDC meeting is scheduled for the weekend of May 16-17 in North Bergen, N. J. with the Hudson County local as host.

The Empire State Council of the guild called Sunday on "each local union in the AFL-CIO not to support his (Rockfeller's) presidential candidacy."

The council said in a resolution that "members of the Rockefeller administration have obstructed sound legislation that is clearly in the interests of peace and stability of New York State communities, namely the anti-strikebreaker bill."

The resolution said statements by members of the Rockefeller administration "were tantamount to Gov. Rockefeller speaking out."

Rockefeller has not taken a public stand on the bill. He has called it a "sensitive" issue and one he had always connected with legislation that would outlaw the hiring of professional pickets. He has said the problems should be considered jointly.

The bill, proposed by Assemblyman Ernest Curto, R-Niagara Falls, would prevent the hiring of persons who seek employment consistently during strikes.

A deputy commissioner in the State Commerce Department wrote recently that passage of the bill would reflect unfavorably on the state's business climate.

Sprinkler Set Off

Shortly before noon Sunday a sprinkler head on the fire alarm system in a North Chestnut Street sorority house in New Paltz gave way and New Paltz firemen were summoned to the house. There was no fire and damage was confined to slight water damage. Traffic on North Chestnut Street was delayed for a time.

Charged With Burglary

Edwin Silber, 57, Woodside was arrested Saturday by Leeds State Police BCI on a charge of burglary third degree. He was held in the Greene County jail at Catskill for hearing later today before Justice of the Peace George Carl. Troopers said the burglary was allegedly committed at Halcott Center.

MARK SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK—A proclamation marking the week of March 1 to 7 as Save Your Vision Week was signed Friday by Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (right) acting mayor during the vacation of Mayor John J. Schwenk. The citation said the optometrists of this community are making a great contribution to its progress and strength by providing good vision care, aiding each citizen to a better life. Harry R. LcFever Jr., local optometrist of 292 Fair Street, accepts copy of the proclamation. (Freeman photo).

Navy Pilot Fears Driving After Fall Without 'chute

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Lt. Edward A. Dickson is worried.

"While I'm waiting this out, I may have to do a bit of driving. You know, I really dread driving a car. It's damn dangerous."

Dickson, a Navy pilot from Wyoming, Pa., is in Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland recuperating from a broken right leg—the only major injury he suffered after falling 1,000 feet from his disabled A4 Skyhawk jet with a parachute that wouldn't open.

The plunge last Thursday, at an estimated 120 miles per hour, ended in a deep snowdrift. Only when the 26-year-old flier bounced 50 feet in the air, skidded along the snow and slammed into a pine tree did he realize something had gone wrong.

"... I turned," he said, "I noticed the parachute was still strapped to my back, still in its pack.

"I thought, 'The damn thing didn't open.'

"Who knows what a 'chute is supposed to feel like? to me, this was the normal reaction. I'd never bailed out before."

Dickson was on a training flight out of Lemore Naval Air Station in central California when his plane started losing altitude. His freak plunge ended on a slope of the Sierra Nevada some 60 miles northwest of Bishop, Calif.

Rescuers found him wrapped in the recalcitrant parachute for warmth.

Has he had enough of flying?

"Can't wait to get back in a cockpit."

Albion Blonde Is State Junior Miss For Year 1964

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Mary Jane Nesbitt, a 17-year-old blonde from Albion, has been named the 1964 New York State Junior Miss. She will compete in the America Junior Miss pageant March 14-21 in Mobile, Ala.

Miss Nesbitt won the state title Saturday night at a pageant sponsored by the Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce. She also received a physical fitness award.

Legion to Honor 3 Commanders As Life Members

Three members of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, have been recommended by a committee, for life memberships in the post, for their "outstanding work for the Legion and community services."

The three are, Police Sergeant William F. Hanley, John A. Weber, and Thomas Bohan. They are past post commanders and have served actively on major committees of the post many years.

Hanley, Weber and Bohan will be honored at a dinner to be held at the Legion Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street, Saturday night, April 25, when they will be awarded silver life membership cards.

Past Post Commander George Heppner is general chairman of the dinner committee.

The conference is being opened this afternoon by Mrs. Kenneth Greenawalt, president of the New York State League. Governor Nelson A Rockefeller will address the group. From 3:30 to 5 p. m., league members will attend the Assembly Session at the State Capitol. After an informal dinner at the Hotel DeWitt Clinton, members will visit legislators in their offices and then proceed to the State Capitol for the Senate Session. At 10 p. m., to 11:30 there will be a coffee hour to honor the legislative leaders.

Tuesday morning, members will meet at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel for a report from the State Legislation Committee and to hear Dr. Robert S. Herman, division of the budget, State of New York. He will speak on The State Budget.

The session will be closed with a colloquy, However Does a Bill Become a Law. Participating will be Mrs. George Ames, state board, Stan Hinden, political reporter of the Long Island Newsday, Senator George R. Metcalf and Assemblyman William F. Passannante.

Mandatory PPR

A major concern of the League in questioning legislators will be the passage of measures to provide mandatory, statewide Permanent Personal Registration (PPR), by 1967. Legislation for optional PPR was passed ten years ago, and plans have been made to commemorate this 10th anniversary at the conference. Legislators will be urged to support either of the following identical bills:: Republican sponsored Anderson A.I. 1480 S.P. 1503, and Brook A.I. 898 A.P. 898; Democratic sponsored Bernstein S.I. 1333 S. P. 1340 and Maresca A.I. 811 A.P. 811.

Considerable thought is being given in Albany this year to some revision of the elections laws. This is the direct result of the overwhelming approval given by the voters to the amendment to the Constitution which will permit persons residing in the state 90 days to vote for presidential and vice-presidential electors and for persons moving from the state to apply for absentee ballots if they cannot meet residence requirements at their new address.

This amendment also permits many more qualified voters who will be away from home on election day to become eligible for absentee balloting.

This extension of the franchise places new importance on the necessity for adequate safeguards and most important of all a means of identifying each voter when he presents himself at the polls or returns an absentee ballot by mail. These protections are now guaranteed to 80 per cent of the voters in the state but unless they cover the remaining 20 per cent residing in 45 counties in the state, the franchise of all the voters in the state is is jeopardy.

Therefore, to properly safeguard the franchise for every voter in the State of New York who is now or soon will be elibible to vote by insuring both his identity and eligibility, permanent personal registration must be required statewide.

Mrs. Gerbarg, president of the Kingston League, said today, "All citizens as well as members of the league are urged to write to their legislators requesting support of the bills providing for mandatory statewide PPR. Eighty per cent of the state already has PPR. Where PPR is in effect, it is endorsed by the party worker, the voter, and the election officials."

ROBERT J. ANTONOVICH

Rhinebeck Firm Appoints Hurley Man as Controller

The appointment of Robert J. Antonovich as controller of Smithers Tools and Machine Products Incorporated, Rhinebeck, was announced this week.

Antonovich, an accounting graduate of Fordham University, was previously engaged in public accounting and tax work with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company in New York City and Kingston.

Antonovich is married to the former Helen J. Sussek of Yonkers. They and their three children reside in Hurley.

Charge Woodstock Man With Drunken Driving

Accused of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated at 2:40 p. m. Saturday, Otto H. Albanesius, III, 32, of Maverick Road, Woodstock, was summoned to appear at a later date by Trooper Charles Bundschuh, Kingston Station.

Trooper John McMickle reported Albanesius was driving his car north and rounding a curve on Route 375, Woodstock, when the vehicle went off the right side of the highway, through a field and crashed into a large billboard.

Albanesius received lacerations of the head. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Charles Farley, Woodstock, it was reported.

Linoleum Prices

Due to an error, the advertisement of the Kingston Linoleum & Carpet Inc., of 54 North Front Street, appearing in the February 22 issue of The Freeman, had the first four items incorrectly shown. These specials on linoleum, vinyl surface, and cushion floor are offered in 9 foot and 12 foot widths. They are not 9x12 as shown in the advertisement.

'Mother of Presidents'

Virginia was known as the "Mother of Presidents" during the first 36 years of U. S. history because Virginians held the nation's presidency for the first 32 years.

D. A. Narel Is Renamed State Guild Officer

Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, society editor of The Freeman and president of tthe Kingston Newspaper Guild, was reelected vice president of the Empire State District Council of the American Newspaper Guild at the ESDC's quarterly meeting over the weekend in Buffalo.

Chuck Robie Booth of Utica was elected council president and Philip Feldman of Rochester, secretary-treasurer. Other vice presidents elected included Paul Lyman, Albany; Harold Lawrence, Buffalo; Milt Kerzner, Hudson County (N.J.), and Thomas Fay, New York City.

In other business, the council unanimously adopted a resolution opposing anti-labor legislation, particularly the strike-breaker bill which went before the legislature last week. The next ESDC meeting is scheduled for the weekend of May 16-17 in North Bergen, N. J with the Hudson County local as host.

The Empire State Council of the guild called Sunday on "each local union in the AFL-CIO not to support his (Rockefeller's) presidential candidacy."

The council said in a resolution that "members of the Rockefeller administration have obstructed sound legislation that is clearly in the interests of peace and stability of New York State communities, namely the anti-strikebreaker bill."

The resolution said statements by members of the Rockefeller administration "were tantamount to Gov. Rockefeller speaking out."

Rockefeller has not taken a public stand on the bill. He has called it a "sensitive" issue and one he had always connected with legislation that would outlaw the hiring of professional pickets. He has said the problems should be considered jointly.

The bill, proposed by Assemblyman Ernest Curto, R-Niagara Falls, would prevent the hiring of persons who seek employment consistently during strikes.

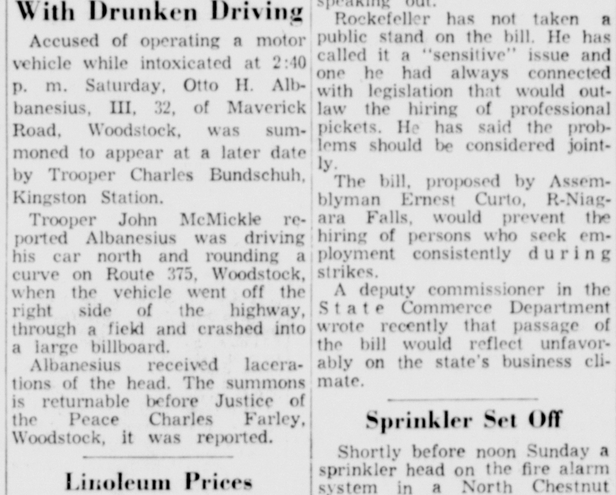
A deputy commissioner in the State Commerce Department wrote recently that passage of the bill would reflect unfavorably on the state's business climate.

Sprinkler Set Off

Shortly before noon Sunday a sprinkler head on the fire alarm system in a North Chestnut Street sorority house in New Paltz gave way and New Paltz firemen were summoned to the house. There was no fire and damage was confined to slight water damage. Traffic on North Chestnut Street was delayed for a time.

Charged With Burglary

Edwin Silber, 57, Woodside was arrested Saturday by Leeds State Police BCI on a charge of burglary third degree. He was held in the Greene County jail at Catskill for hearing later today before Justice of the Peace George Carl. Troopers said the burglary was allegedly committed at Halcott Center.



MARK SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK—A proclamation marking the week of March 1 to 7 as Save Your Vision Week was signed Friday by Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (right) acting mayor during the vacation of Mayor John J. Schwenk. The citation said the optometrists of this community are making a great contribution to its progress and strength by providing good vision care, aiding each citizen to a better life. Harry R. LeFever Jr., local optometrist of 292 Fair Street, accepts copy of the proclamation. (Freeman photo).

Navy Pilot Fears Driving After Fall Without 'chute

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Lt. Edward A. Dickson is worried.

"While I'm waiting this out, I may have to do a bit of driving. You know, I really dread driving a car. It's damn dangerous."

Dickson, a Navy pilot from Wyoming, Pa., is in Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland recuperating from a broken right leg—the only major injury he suffered after falling 1,000 feet from his disabled A4 Skyhawk jet with a parachute that wouldn't open.

The plunge last Thursday, at an estimated 120 miles per hour, ended in a deep snowdrift. Only when the 26-year-old flier bounced 50 feet in the air, skidded along the snow and slammed into a pine tree did he realize something had gone wrong.

... I turned," he said, "I noticed the parachute was still strapped to my back, still in its pack.

"I thought, 'The damn thing didn't open.'

"Who knows what a 'chute is supposed to feel like? to me, this was the normal reaction. I'd never bailed out before."

Dickson was on a training flight out of Lemore Naval Air Station in central California when his plane started losing altitude. His freak plunge ended on a slope of the Sierra Nevada some 60 miles northwest of Bishop, Calif.

Rescuers found him wrapped in the recalcitrant parachute for warmth.

Has he had enough of flying?

"Can't wait to get back in a cockpit."

Albion Blonde Is State Junior Miss For Year 1964

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Mary Jane Nesbitt, a 17-year-old blonde from Albion, has been named the 1964 New York State Junior Miss. She will compete in the America Junior Miss pageant March 14-21 in Mobile, Ala.

Miss Nesbitt won the state title Saturday night at a pageant sponsored by the Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce. She also received a physical fitness award.

Legion to Honor 3 Commanders As Life Members

Three members of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, have been recommended by a committee, for life memberships in the post, for their "outstanding work for the Legion and community services."

The three are, Police Sergeant William F. Hanley, John A. Weber, and Thomas Bohan. They are past post commanders and have served actively on major committees of the post many years.

Hanley, Weber and Bohan will be honored at a dinner to be held at the Legion Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street, Saturday night, April 25, when they will be awarded silver life membership cards.

Past Post Commander George Heppner is general chairman of the dinner committee.
